Foreign Personal Holding Company Plan Used By Some Being Investigated

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Invoking "pitiless publicity," the treasury bared the names of prominent persons before the joint congressional tax investigation committee today, who have resorted to unusual schemes to escape or reduce their taxes.

In some instances, treasury officials told the committee that the taxpayers were acting within the law. In one case actual fraud was charged.

Large amounts in taxes, the committee was told, have been lost through formation of foreign personal holding companies by Americans.

First Of Those Named

The first persons named by Elmer Irey, chief of the intelligence division of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, were:

Sunday marks the date annually designated in the United States as "Father's Day."

Pa Newc notes that a nest of young pigeons is about ready to take flight from beneath the eaves of the building at the corner of Mercer and East Washington streets, across from the First National bank. There are a large number of pigeons in the downtown section, which roost on the top of buildings and nest in any spot which provides shelter.

With members of the Garden forum "up in arms" and planning to watch for persons plucking flowers, breaking others down, injuring shrubs and damaging trees indications are vandals may be caught and punished for their acts.

It is doubtful if there has been any week day in some time that there has been such a traffic load as occurred at East Washington and Mercer streets at 12:30 p. m. to 1:15 p. m. today. Officer Thomas Jones was busy as a hornet preventing congestion.

* * *

Workmen continue to make alterations in the old post office building at North and Mercer streets, being remodeled for use as a city library building. The latest to go is the roof that extended over the loading platform in the rear of the building. Workmen are having some difficulty tearing down parts of the building, as the structure was built to last for ages when constructed, it appears.

Taylor Resigns As State G. O. P. Head

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 18—M Harvey Taylor, veteran GOP political leader and Harrisburg realtor today announced his resignation as Republican state chairman, effective immediately.

Taylor's announcement came in the form of a telegram to officers and members of the executive committee of the Republican state committee.

The withdrawal, Taylor added, did not mean that he is "dropping out of politics."

Senate Battles Over Relief Fund Deadlock

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 18.—A revolt against unrestricted expenditure of federal relief funds swept the senate today with Senator Robinson, the Democratic floor leader, heading a move to make local communities contribute 25 per cent of the cost of WPA projects.

The Robinson proposal, offered as a compromise to halt the four-day deadlock over writing a mandatory contribution policy into the $1,500,000,000 relief bill, failed to heal the breach within Democratic ranks. Democratic members hammered the Robinson proposal just as hotly as they had denounced the original mandatory 40 per cent plan, proposed by the senate appropriations committee.

Senators Barkley (D) of Kentucky, Wagner (D) of New York, and Minton (D) of Indiana, led the fight against placing any restriction on WPA funds. They charged the innocent needy would be discriminated against if any effort were made to compel local contributions to federal relief projects.

Opposed By Roosevelt

The Robinson plan was reported to have met with President Roosevelt's opposition. This put the Democratic leader of the senate in the position of sponsoring a pro-

Missing Woman May Be Drowned

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 18.—Fear that the missing Alice Parsons may be drowned followed the sighting of a woman's body floating in the lower bay, a mile off the West Bank Light on the Jersey coast.

A coast guard plane and coast guard and police boats searched the choppy waters this afternoon as a result of an alarm flashed by occupants of a motor launch who spotted the body late yesterday.

To Start Project At Court House

Deliquent Taxes Due County Will Be Indexed By Workers

Starting Monday morning, June 21, a WPA project will be at work in the court house, card indexing all delinquent taxes due the county. The project will take about a year or perhaps a few months longer, but when the work is done the present system of book records can be discarded and in its place there will be a visible card index of all delinquent taxes.

The project has been under consideration for some time and today the county commissioners met and approved it, agreeing to spend approximately $5000 for materials and eqipment, the WPA to provide approximately $25,000 for labor.

The project will be in charge of Mrs. Eleanor Harper, who has been working for some time in the office of County Treasurer Joseph H. Hartland.

New Pastor Is Given Welcome

Reception Last Night For Rev. And Mrs. Elmer G. Russell

MANY GREETINGS ARE EXTENDED

Rev. Elmer G. Russell, new pastor of the Reformed Presbyterian church, and Mrs. Russell, were given a warm welcome to New Castle by the members of the church, friends in the neighborhood and clergymen of the city who gathered for a reception in the couple's honor at the church Thursday night.

It was one of the loveliest affairs of its kind ever to take place here. Especially beautiful was the musical program assembled by David W. Rees and presented in the auditorium at the opening of the evening.

The first number was by a male quartet, Clifford Young, David Rees, Fred C. Scheppele and Leonard Kisthart, accompanied by Mrs. Jay L. Reed, entitled "Sleepy Hollow Tune." They followed this with "Magnolia Bloom."

Betty Cope gave a much appreciated reading, "Hay Fever." Prof. Rees, accompanied by Mrs. Reed, sang two tenor solos, "Keep On Hoping" and "Susan Is Her Name." Thomas Cramer gave a trombone solo, with Edwin Lewis accompanying, "Serenade" by Shubert, and as an encore, "Evening Star."

Soprano solos by Miss Katherine Wagner, entitled "From the Land of the Sky Blue Water," and "All For You," for which Mr. Lewis played the accompaniment, and two more numbers by the male quartet,

Bilbao Defense Tightened, Seek To Defend City

Six Thousand New Men Pressed Into Service To Try And Save Basque Capital

GOVERNMENT HEADS MOVE TO TRUCIONS

Rebels Push Forward Toward Bilbao, Hundreds Have Been Killed In Fighting

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SANTANDER, June 18.—Beleaguered Bilbao's Loyalist defenders desperately resisted the insurgent advance near the Nervion river today as the Basque government sought safety for rebel shells in a village behind the military lines.

While members of the government took shelter at Trucions, fortifications were constructed and renewed around Bilbao in an effort to stave off the relentless, encircling advance of the rebels.

Six thousand men were pressed into service to aid in defending the Basque capital and in throwing up defense works.

Basque engineers blew up the overhead railway of the Portugalete arena, over which the Nervion river could be crossed in the short space of one minute. This was done to prevent insurgents from using the railway as a means of entering the city.

Bilbao Abandoned

Announcement that the Basque government had abandoned Bilbao was made at Bayonne, France, by the Basque Press Bureau. Later, revelation that Trucions was their destination was made here. The official statement said:

"The Basque government, in full agreement with the Valencia government, left Bilbao for a village situated behind the military operations.

"A delegation representing the government remained at Bilbao. It consists of the defense council. President Jose Antonio De Aguirre and other ministers have met to examine the situation where they passed the night."

The defense council mentioned in the communique is composed of the minister of justice, the minister of industry and the minister of public works.

Named On Steel Mediation Board

CHARLES P. TAFT — LLOYD K. GARRISON

SECRETARY FRANCES PERKINS — EDWARD F. McGRADY

In an effort to bring peace to the steel industry, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins has appointed a three-man federal steel mediation board. The board, which will have headquarters in Cleveland, will be authorized to conduct an investigation into the widespread strikes, conduct hearings, to making findings of fact and to continue itself a voluntary arbitrator if the parties to the strikes wish it. Set up with the approval of President Roosevelt, the board will make weekly reports to the secretary of labor. Members of the board are pictured. They are Charles P. Taft of Cincinnati, chairman, son of the late president; Edward F. McGrady, ace troubleshooter of the labor department and assistant secretary of the department, and Lloyd K. Garrison, dean of law at the University of Wisconsin.

Hit Heiresses As Tax Dodgers

Americans Marrying Titled Foreigners Escape Much Of Tax

CONGRESS AIMS TO ALTER PROGRAM

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 18—A heavy tax on the fortunes of American heiresses who marry titled foreigners was revealed today as one of the objectives of the treasury in the joint congressional investigation of alleged tax dodging.

Treasury officials planned to submit to the committee specific examples of rich Americans who have married foreigners, and, by relinquishing their American citizenship, pay small tax on their huge American income.

A sharp increase in the present tax on the huge profits reaped by foreigners in investments in American securities in the last few years is also a part of the general tax revision projected by the treasury.

While the tax was reduced to 10

Gas Price War Will Be Probed

Allegheny County Situation To Be Subjected To Investigation

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 18.—A far-flung investigation into Allegheny county's gas war was to be opened here today as more than 60 retailers were subpenaed in a surprise move by the legislative oil industry investigation commission.

Headed by Judge Ralph H. Smith, the commission was expected to probe deeply into the recent "price fixing" war, price differentials and other practices which might affect the ultimate cost of gasoline and oil to consumers. Gas bootlegging was also slated for a thorough inquery.

A squad of highway patrolmen served the 60 subpenaes, most of which were handed out in East Pittsburgh where the price wars have been the hottest. Dealers were ordered to produce all records which might have any bearing on the situation.

Many of the station operators are members of the Independent Gasoline Dealers' Association, a group supposedly interested in maintaining price stability.

Recently, representatives of Pennsylvania's largest gas and oil companies charged the price wars were due in chief to the dumping of cheap gasoline in days of over-supply and to bootlegging of gasoline from bordering states to escape the Pennsylvania tax. The bootlegging situation was indicated to be of serious proportions in the Keystone state.

The commission was authorized by a recent act of the legislature. shay, 21, both of Fulton, W. Va.

Steel Strike Mediators To Begin Labors

Board To Have First Session In Cleveland, O., On Saturday

STEEL PEACE IS AIM OF MEMBERS

Cooperation Is Assured In Attempts To Bring About Settlement

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The federal government was directing its might today to end further bloodshed and to peacefully settle the steel strike.

The special three-man board of mediation, named by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins at President Roosevelt's approval to settle the widespread violence and strike that affects 100,000 workers in seven states, will hold its first session in Cleveland tomorrow.

Cooperation Assured

Assurances of cooperation were given the board by both sides in the controversy—the steel workers organizing committee, an affiliate of the committee for industrial organization, and the Republic Steel Corporation, one of the independent steel companies affected by the strike and the spearhead of the union's attack.

President Roosevelt authorized the appointment of the board following receipt of word from Gov. Martin L. Davey of Ohio, that the strike had attained proportions beyond the state's control. Davey appealed to the president to intervene.

The members of the board are: Charles P. Taft, son of the late president and chief justice, chairman; Lloyd K. Garrison, a former chairman of the national labor relations board and now dean of the Wisconsin University law school, and Edward F. McGrady, the labor department's assistant secretary of labor and the department's ace labor conciliator.

Interested In Settlement

Assurances that the union and the Republic Steel would cooperate with the board were given Secretary Perkins by Philip Murray,

Schwab Returns From Germany

Will Go To Johnstown To Discuss Strike Situation With Officials

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 18.—Returning from a health cure in Germany to face steel's worst labor troubles in nearly half a century, Charles M. Schwab today planned to visit Johnstown, Pa., to talk over the strike situation with other officials of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, of which he is chairman.

Schwab said he was optimistic about business conditions in this country and expressed regret that "this labor trouble" had come at the present time to interrupt the march of business back toward prosperity.

These rains have got the lawn agog with growing pains, the grass keeps coming up like plantain leaf, and failing to get out with shears and mower, a citizen will shortly come to grief. For once the grass is up where it will tangle, it wraps itself around the mower cogs, and soon the lawn is like an unshaved hiker, and promptly seems its going to the dogs. So keep the mower fresh and oiled and ready, forget that you have got a dinner date, and keep the lawn chopped down where it is proper, the weathers wet and just at seventy eight.

ALLEGE STEAMER ATTACKED

Rome Reports Ship Attacked

Claim Spanish Government Planes Drop Bombs On Vessel

NEW TENSION IS NOW DEVELOPING

BULLETIN
(International News Service)

ROME, June 18.—Allegations of an attack on the Italian steamer Madda by two Spanish government planes off Oran, Algeria, drew a storm of protest from the Italian press today and threatened renewed international tension over the Spanish civil war.

When the Madda arrived at Gibraltar enroute to Glasgow, Scotland, from Port Sudan with a cargo of cotton seed, its officers reported the two planes dropped 30 bombs around the vessel without scoring a hit. Then, they said, the planes machine-gunned the ship, damaging a hold, the deck and the bridge, but causing no casualties.

"Fresh Red Aggression."

Newspapers here headlined the incident as a "fresh red aggression". The report the steamer had been machine gunned created the worst possible impression among the public.

Officials, however, declined to comment, but it was expected the matter would be raised at today's meeting of the non-intervention committee in London.

Italian political quarters took a grave view of the reported attack, but said there would be no military or official reaction until the incident is thoroughly investigated.

head of the SWOC, and John S. Brookes, Jr., counsel for the company.

"Our company will cooperate like we always have cooperated," Brookes said. "The strike is costing us a lot of money and we are as interested as anyone in reaching a settlement."

The Inland Steel Co., the Bethlehem Steel Corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., other companies affected by the strike, are expected to follow the Republic company's action and give the board full cooperation.

"It is unthinkable," Secretary Perkins remarked, "that anyone should be unwilling to assist in the peace efforts."

She said this when it was explained the board has no power to subpoenae witnesses.

Headquarters In Cleveland

The board's headquarters will be maintained in Cleveland. It is authorized to investigate, conduct hearings, make findings of fact and act as voluntary arbitrator if the parties to the dispute so request."

The government's action met with general praise on Capitol hill but Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, said no permanent solution could be attained until the National Labor Relations Act is "mutualized, imposing equal obligation on both sides."

Senator Bailey (D) of North Carolina, believes the board will be able to effect a quick settlement of the strike since the main controversy is over the companies' refusal to make a written contract with the union, he thinks the board may be able to produce a "witnessed verbal agreement" and have it accepted by the union in lieu of a written contract.

Praising the type of men named to the board, Senator Thomas (D) of Utah, said "if this group can't bring about peace something very drastic indeed would have to be done."

The government appointed similar boards of mediation in the maritime strike and in the textile strike of 1934. The present board will make weekly reports to Secretary Perkins.

ing their headquarters, with agreement of the government, to a part of Basque territory which has not yet been specified.

According to the official announcement, President De Aguirre will receive representatives of the foreign press today. The minister of commerce came here to discuss the problem of feeding refugees from the Biscay battlefront.

Unverified reports received here stated that on Wednesday night the insurgent fleet attacked vessels evacuating non-combatants from Bilbao, shelling and escorting away several ships.

Report Ship Sunk

One unconfirmed report stated a ship with 300 women and children aboard was sunk Wednesday.

Seventy thousand refugees, largely women and children, have arrived at Santander, and the problem of feeding and housing them has become serious.

Trudging here with ox-carts along the Bilbao-Santander road, they were bombed and machine-gunned from the air by insurgent planes, according to officials.

Authorities here also stated that for the fourth day a battle is raging on the heights east of Bilbao, with the rebels losing hundreds of dead.

per cent last year, with congress and the treasury fully aware of the billions invested by foreigners in American stocks and bonds, the treasury now holds that the tax is too low.

As the committee resumed sessions today, the treasury planned to divulge for the first time the secrets contained in income tax returns.

Elmer Irey, chief of the intelligence unit of the bureau of internal revenue, was called to present the result of an investigation into the formation of companies by Americans in the Bahamas islands and in other countries as a means of avoiding taxation.

The plan of the treasury, it was explained, will be to make public the names of a few taxpayers each day and explain the methods by which they allegedly have reduced their taxes.

NEW PASTOR IS GIVEN WELCOME

"The Venetian Love Song" and "Pale Moon," concluded the musical offering.

Greetings Extended

Greetings were then presented to the new pastor by the following men and women, many of whom represented organizations of the church:

Glen Lemon, chairman of the congregation; M. W. McClelland, of the session; Harry Wilson, chairman of the board of deacons; John D. Pattison, superintendent of the Sunday School; Miss Martha Dodds, vice president of the Women's Missionary society; Kirk Pattison of the Young People's society; Dr. James S. Martin, of Beaver Falls, a former pastor of the local church; Dr. N. A. White, president of the New Castle Ministerial Association; Dr. S. A. Irvine also represented the ministerial association; Mrs. William Etter, who brought greetings from the neighborhood.

Remarks were also given by Mrs. Scott McClelland and Santa Ana, California, Mrs. Minnie Speer Marshall of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. Rebecca McClelland Lewis of Greeley, Colorado, former members of the church, and Mrs. J. S. Martin, wife of the former pastor, from Beaver Falls.

Response Made

Rev. and Mrs. Russell responded in a very nice manner. As the guests left the auditorium for the parlors they were introduced to the new pastor, Mrs. Russell and Mrs. Russell's sister, Miss Pearl McKnight, by Dr. James M. Blackwood. Others in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy.

The church had been beautifully decorated for the occasion by Mrs. A. C. Gardner, who used the bright, cheerful flowers of the early summer season.

In the parlors light refreshments were served by a beautifully appointed table. Mrs. J. C. Foster and Mrs. Mary Pattison poured the tea. Aides were Miss Martha Dodds, Mrs. Ella Jenkins, Mrs. J. D. Pattison, Mrs. S. L. Wilson, Mrs. Kenneth Gaston, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. Joseph McCaskey, Jr., Miss Olive Houk, Miss Anna Dodds, Miss Peggy Pattison and Miss Dorothy Riley.

Mrs. James M. Blackwood was the general chairman of the evening and presided during the early part of the evening in the auditorium. She was assisted in the excellent planning of the affair by Mrs. C. A. Hollis and Kenneth Gaston.

Ushers were Glen Lemon, Oscar Riley, Jerry Allen, Ralph Young, Harry Wilson and Kirk Pattison.

SENATE BATTLES OVER DEADLOCK OF RELIEF FUND

posal that met with White House disapproval. It was the first time Robinson has been cast in such a role since he became floor leader in 1933.

The outcome was in some doubt. At the outset, it appeared the Robinson proposal would meet with senate approval due to his prestige. The opposition, however, developed rapidly, with a half dozen senators declaring against any restrictions on WPA funds.

The Robinson plan would give the president broad discretion to set aside the mandatory contribution in cases where the community is unable to meet such costs.

Senator Byrnes (D) of South Carolina, who sponsored the original 40 per cent contribution, will support the Robinson plan as a "step in the right direction."

Once the issue is settled, the senate must pass upon another provision of the relief bill, extending the PWA another two years. The WPA would be financed out of its own $300,000,000 revolving fund.

S. A. S. CLUB

At 500 Wednesday evening, prizes were captured by Mrs. Mary Nicholson and Mrs. Sue Flynn, when the S. A. S. club was feted in the home of Mrs. Anna Murray, on North St. The club token was given to Mrs. Agnes Mescall.

Mrs. Stella Rogan and Mrs. Elizabeth Ferry were visitors. Refreshments were served at the dining room table centered with roses. At the invitation of Mrs. Frances Sheridan, the club will gather in her home on Sankey street, June 30.

NAMES ARE GIVEN TO TAX PROBERS AT WASHINGTON

New York and chairman of the Phoenix Securities corporation.

Jules Bache, prominent New York financier.

Wallace Groves, New York financier, head of Securities Corporation and reported to control the United Cigar Stores and Whelan Drug Stores.

Percy K. Hudson, former member of the New York Stock Exchange.

Jacob S. Schick, former army officer and resident of New Haven, Conn., and inventor of the Shick razor, who became a Canadian citizen.

Laughton Included

Charles Laughton, British actor, who formed an English corporation to cut down taxes on his huge American earnings.

Concerning Laughton's case, Irey said:

"Mr. Laughton caused his American salary to be paid to a personal holding company which has formed in England.

"Then he made a contract with this corporation to pay him back a salary of $20,000 in 1935. On this amount, he paid an American income tax. His American earnings in the motion picture business that year was $190,280.22.

"His device, in our opinion, was legal under existing law."

Irey said that it was "practically impossible" to collect taxes from Schick because of his change in citizenship. He asserted Schick lost money for a considerable period while he was engaged in inventing and that after big profits began to appear he formed foreign corporations and became a Canadian citizen.

One transfer of funds made to his Bahama corporation was more than $100,000. Transactions with the Canadian corporations could not be traced, he said.

Answering a question by Senator Harrison (D) of Mississippi, Magill said Schick obtained special dispensation from the prime minister of Canada tobecome a citizen without having resided there a year.

"I am surprised, because I understand Canada was cooperating," said Senator Harrison.

"That is true," replied Magill. "Canada has aided us."

Personal Holding Companies

Magill said 94 personal holding companies have been formed in the Bahamas, 202 in Newfoundland, 46 in Panama and 243 in Prince Edward Island.

"While it is impossible to tell whether companies have been formed for legitimate purposes, because of the lack of business in the islands, it undoubtedly is true that many are formed for tax evasion purposes.

"The bureau works under a handicap which makes it almost impossible to trace all of them."

A movement has been started in the Bahamas to tax rich Americans, he said.

"In a little more than two years 122 companies have been registered in the Bahamas," Iery said.

Some of them, he said, were formed by Canadians. The Canadians, he said, can use them to avoid American but not Canadian taxes.

"An examination of these cases shows that there is no justifications for these corporations," Irey declared.

"Taking the case of the Bahamas corporations, it has grown to be one of the outstanding businesses in the islands.

"There are numerous attorneys whose sole business is the organizing of these corporations. The outstanding attorney in this business is Kenneth Solomon, a native. His interests constitute perhaps 50 per cent of these corporations.

Committee members questioned Magill on legislation to plug up loopholes.

He suggested Americans be compelled to disclose their holdings in foreign corporations.

Hit Tactics

The State department, he said, is negotiating with foreign countries in an effort to obtain help in checking tax losses. Some countries, notably Panama have failed to cooperate.

Rep. Crowther (R) New York, hit the "pitiless publicity" tactics. He asked Magill:

"Except for the case where a man expatriated himself, it doesn't seem to be much new in this that we didn't know in 1935. Would you say that this would account for the wide discrepancy in treasury estimates and actual receipts this year?"

Magill replied:

"This only the beginning."

Crowther observed that the revenue lost in the cases cited "would be pitiably small."

Magill admitted that the total amount involved would "not amount to more than a few hundred thousand dollars," but added:

"We believe that many more millions are involved in cases not investigated and we are trying to plug the loopholes."

"Then lets do it and cut out this Roman holiday,' Crowther said.

Denise DuPont And Husband On Trip

(International News Service)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 18.—A prominent wedding was revealed today but the principals were missing.

Miss Denise DuPont, first cousin of Ethel DuPont, betrothed to Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., was married last May 21 to Carl Andrew Zappfe, 24, graduate student of Harvard School of Engineering, and some reports today said they were honeymooning in Bermuda. Other rumors had them motoring through the south and still others secluded on the north shore.

Don't let their adoration fool you, George. They treated Edward that way, also, while he had the power to injure them.

Deaths of the Day

Craig Child's Funeral.

Services in memory of little Marian Jean Craig, three-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Craig of East Washington street, took place this morning at 9 o'clock in St. Joseph's church with Rev. Fr. Joseph A. Doerr, the pastor, officiating, and interment was made in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were Henry Budzowski, Edward Smith, Joseph Polanskey, Edward Covach, John Ricos and Mike Fenchak.

Interred In East.

Fred C. Wolford has returned from Taunton, Mass., where he accompanied the body of Mrs. Mary L. King, widow of Edward King, who died in Florida last December.

Mrs. King was permanently interred Wednesday in Mt. Pleasant cemetery, Taunton, after a short service at the grave conducted by Rev. Medary, St. Thomas Episcopal church rector.

Since funeral services last winter in the Rhodes Place residence, New Castle, the casket has been resting temporarily in the family vault at Oak Park cemetery.

William Foulkes

William Foulkes, aged 78 years, died at his home, 455 Neshannock avenue, at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Foulkes was born in West Middlesex on December 25, 1858. For many years he worked at the Jones and Laughlin plant in Aliquippa, retiring a few years ago. He was a member of the First M. E. church of New Castle.

His wife, Sarah, died 23 years ago. Surviving are, a step-daughter, Mrs. Frank Shaffer of Aliquippa; five grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren.

The body is at the Jos. B. Leyde mortuary, Highland at Winter, where friends may call, and where services will be conducted by Dr. N. A. White Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Oak Park cemetery.

Relatives will be there tonight from 7 to 9 when friends call.

Thomas J. Joyce.

Thomas J. Joyce, aged 51 years, of 413 North Shenango street, died in the New Castle hospital at 11:20 today after an illness of about a month's duration.

Mr. Joyce was born in New Castle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Joyce, now deceased, and he passed all his life here. He was a member of St. Mary's church and the Holy Name society.

Until 1931 when the mill shut down, Mr. Joyce was an employe of the Carnegie Steel company. For the past few years he was the proprietor of billiard parlors on West Washington street. He was a man of many friends and news of his passing is received with sadness.

He leaves his wife, Mary; children, Thomas, Mary Elizabeth, Robert and Kilmer at home; three brothers, Edward and William of New Castle and James, Detroit, Mich., and two sisters, Nellie Joyce, New Castle, and Mrs. Mayme Powers of Kansas.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Edward J. Kemm.

Edward J. Kemm, aged 78 years, of 1004 East Washington street, passed away in the Jameson Memorial hospital early this morning after being in poor health for some time.

Mr. Kemm was born in Mercer county on September 30, 1858, son of John and Margaret Parry Kemm. New Castle had been his home for 40 years and he was employed as a watchman at the tin mill.

He was a well known citizen and held in high regard by everyone. He was a member of the Epworth M. E. church and a charter member of the Modern Woodmen of America. Fifty-three years ago he married Mary Galloway, who survives. Their daughter, Beulah, a school teacher, died last year.

Surviving are two brothers, Perry M. Kemm of Jackson Center and Samuel Kemm of Stoneboro, and two sisters, the Misses Ida and Amy Kemm of Mercer.

Funeral services will take place at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the residence with Rev. Harold A. McCurdy, Epworth pastor, in charge. Interment will be made at Leesburg.

Mrs. Grace Kinnaman.

Mrs. Grace Hennon Kinnaman, aged 36 years, of Warren, O., formerly of Wampum, died in the Warren City hospital at 2:30 a. m. today. She had been ill since the first of June.

Mrs. Kinnaman was born in Cleveland, O., on May 7, 1901. She had resided in Warren for the past fourteen years and for eight years past had been employed at the county home. She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran church, that city.

When in Wampum she had resided with Mrs. Mary Krohn and her father, Thomas Hennon, still lives there. Mrs. Kinnaman leaves, besides her father, two daughters, Audrey and Grace, of Warren.

There will be a farewell service at 7:30 Sunday night in the Carl W. Hall funeral home at Warren. The body will be brought to Wampum Monday morning and funeral services will be conducted in the Methodist church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Dunmire of Warren in charge.

William Fobes

William Fobes, aged 82 years, died at his Neshannock township home at 2:35 a. m. today, ending a long illness. His health had been failing steadily for the past three years.

Mr. Fobes was born in Beaver county on November 12, 1854, son of Morgan and Margaret Noss Fobes. He lived in Lawrence county, however, practically all of his life, and followed the farming occupation.

Fifty-eight years ago he married Mary Jane Reynolds who survives.

Besides his wife, he leaves the following children: Morgan, George, Joseph and Plummer of New Castle, Clyde of West Middlesex, Mrs. Perry McCurdy, Mrs. Frank Phillips and Mrs. Ernest Wilcox of New Castle; fifteen grandchildren and five great-grandchildren, one brother, George, of Neshannock township, and two sisters, Mrs. James Tanner and Mrs. Samuel Seh, of Neshannock township.

Mr. Fobes was a devoted member of the Free Methodist church and was loved by all who knew him. Rev. Alfred Hill and Rev. George Burke will be in charge of the funeral services Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the Coaltown Free Methodist church. There will be a short service at 2 o'clock in the residence.

Interment will be in Graceland cemetery.

Lombardo Services.

Funeral mass for the late Andrew Lombardo were conducted in St. Lucy's church in the seventh ward this morning at 10 o'clock with the Rev. Fr. Sebastian Ippolito, pastor of that church officiating.

Pallbearers were Frank Domenick, Guy Masone, Charles Chambers, Angelo Sandore, Gisto Matteo and Dominic DeSimone.

Interment was in St. Lucy's cemetery.

Mellon Contends Aluminum Company Has No Violations

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 18.—Andrew W. Mellon today maintained that his $174,000,000 Aluminum Company of America is not a trust.

Filing an answer to the anti-trust action of Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, Mellon disputed all charges of the government's complaint and asked the court to dismiss the action on the grounds that neither he, nor any of his subsidiary companies, had ever violated the Sherman act.

The joint answere of the defendants is contained in a 600-page printed report, and contends that the government has in not one single instance credited the Aluminum Company with a legitimate motive in the conduct of their business, but on the contrary has read a sinister meaning into methods of conducting their business.

AT BRIDGE PARTY

Mrs. Everett Martin of Delaware avenue, was among a number of guests attending a bridge party given in Beaver Falls this week, for the pleasure of Miss Lois Leiper, of College Hill, whose marriage to Benjamin H. Stam, of Fombelle, took place June 18.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Leiper and has been a teacher in the College Hill schools. Mr. Stamm is a son of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Stamm.

REPORT WIRE STOLEN

Reports in city hall today said that about 30 feet of copper wire was stolen during the time Cascade Park was closed. The wire was taken from south of the Billy Glenn pool. City detectives are investigating the alleged theft.

INFORMAL TEA FOR ESTHER WALLACE

In the lovely home of Attorney and Mrs. Robert L. Wallace on East Wallace avenue Thursday afternoon, there was a delightfully informal tea in honor of their daughter, Miss Esther Wallace, who will become the bride of G. Ward Whittaker, June 19.

Receiving with Mrs. Wallace and the bride-to-be was Mrs. William L. Wallace, and Mrs. Richard Clark, of Washington, D. C., the latter, a sister of the prospective groom.

Between the hours of 2 to 4, and 4 to 6, upwards of 100 guests, many from out of town, were welcomed, and after chatting informally for a few minutes, they were privileged to view the numerous and beautiful wedding presents and shower gifts which have been received by the young couple.

In the dining room, tea was served from a pretty table brightened with garden flowers and tasty delicacies. Miss Helen Wilson, Miss Ruth Krohn and Mrs. Clyde Whittaker poured, and the aides were Mrs. Ellwood Gilbert Mrs. W. I. Clark, Mrs. Julius Sypher, Mrs. Robert Gordon, Mrs. W. H. Gillespie, Jr., of New Wilmington, and Miss Eleanor Clark.

This evening the rehearsal dinner for the wedding tomorrow in Highland U. P. church will take place at the Field club, with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whittaker hosts.

FIELD CLUB DANCE SATURDAY EVENING

Saturday evening, June 19, members of the New Castle Field club will again have the opportunity of enjoying the coolness of their club house, when they gather for one of their series of dances.

The program will begin at 9:30 o'clock with a prominent orchestra providing the music.

RAINBOW ASSEMBLY HELD AT CATHEDRAL

The East Lodge room of the Scottish Rite Cathedral, has seldom been more beautifully decorated than Wednesday evening, when peonies and roses in all their beauty of form, color and perfume, made a setting for the Rainbow Girls, New Castle Assembly, No. 1, activities.

A representation gathering of members and friends witnessed the exemplification of the Rainbow ritual, when six lovely young women were initiated into its mysteries under the able leadership of the Worthy advisor, Miss Charlene Bates.

After the beautiful candle light closing, the door prize was awarded to Miss Anne Woods. Following, the guests and members were served dainty refreshments by the Advisory Board committee.

As Rainbow has a recess during July and August, the assembly completed plans for their "June Merry-Go" dance which will take place on the twenty-ninth in the ballroom of the Cathedral. Plans are very promising for outstanding event on June 29, with Miss Geraldine Flick, general chairman. She has appointed as committee heads, the following: Miss Georgia Ringer, ticket chairman; Miss Cecelia Turner, invitation chairman; Miss Mary Keefer, program chairman, Miss Glenda Goad, decorative chairman.

A picnic was planned for July and will be held at Cascade Park, the date to be announced later in The News. This outing will be for friends and families of the Rainbow Girls.

As usual, a committee from the assembly and a committee from the Board, were appointed, by the worthy advisor, Miss Charlene Bates. Serving from the assembly will be, Misses Geraldine Flick, Viola Dufford and Jane Bryan, while those from the Advisory Board, composes Mrs. Marie Horner, Miss Martha Bigley and Mrs. Bessie Pitzer.

MRS. RALPH DAVIS LUNCHEON HOSTESS

The home of Mrs. Ralph Davis, Norwood avenue, was the scene of a delightful social function Thursday afternoon, when she entertained members of the Baird Missionary society of the Highland U. P. church at a tureen luncheon.

At 1 o'clock, the assemblage of twenty-five members and one guest, Mrs. Sadie Boycott of Pittsburgh, sat down at the beautifully appointed table, and were served an appetizing menu. Mrs. Boycott is visiting her sister, Mrs. S. T. Lipp of this city.

Mrs. R. S. Cline, president, later gave a report of the W. G. M. S. convention held recently at Indiana, Pa. After the devotional period in charge of the hostess, Mrs. Lee Marvin gave a review of the lesson.

An entertaining playlet, "The First Call for the Magazine," was presented by Mrs. James Cole and Mrs. Ralph Cook, as a feature on the program

Mrs Lee Marvin invited the membership to join in a picnic outing at her summer cottage, the first Wednesday of August

HULBERTS OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

One of the notable social events of the season was the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hulbert, at their home, 201 West Madison avenue, Wednesday, June 16.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion with an abundance of flowers, one floral arrangement in particular attracting considerable attention. It was comprised of fifty American Beauty roses.

Especially beautiful was the dining room table with a crystal basket of Talisman roses for the centerpiece, flanked on either side with yellow candles, in crystal holders. Dainty refreshments were served, carrying out the golden color theme. Mrs. D. C. Schnebly poured.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert received many lovely presents, among them being an elaborately decorated wedding cake.

Guests were in attendance from New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Youngstown, Grove City, Wampum, New Castle, and Mahoningtown. Many cards and telegrams were also received.

Mr. and Mrs. Hulbert have one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Irwin, of Kearney, Neb., who was present for this occasion, and one granddaughter, Mrs. Elroy Gilbert, of Sioux Falls, South Dakota.

Ministers Wives Club

Announcement is made that the breakfast planned by the Ministers Wives club for next Monday morning at Cascade Park has been postponed.

MIRIAM WOOLCOCK IN BRIDAL PARTY

Miriam Woolcock, who has been located in Hartford, Conn., for the past year, today concluded a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Woolcock, of Highland avenue.

She departed this morning for Mercersburg, Pa., where on Saturday, June 19, she will be one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of one of her Holyoke college friends, Ethel Baker Drumm, to Albert William Butterfield, head master of the Admiral Billard Academy of New London, and son of Albert C. Butterfield, of Pana, Ill.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Milton Drumm of Mercersburg, Pa., the former of whom has been treasurer of Mercersburg Academy for the past 32 years.

Mercersburg Academy chapel will be the scene of the wedding at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon, with Dr. Boyd Edwards, head master of Mercersburg Academy, performing the service.

Miss Drumm will have for her maid of honor, a classmate at Holyoke, (from which she was graduated in 1933) Miss Elizabeth Rich, daughter of Congressman and Mrs. Robert F. Rich, of Woolrich, Pa. Other bridesmaids besides Miss Woolcock, will be Miss M. Alice Longenecker, of Mount Joy, Pa., Miss Muriel M. Frank, of New York, and Miss Mary E. Brewer, of Mercersburg, Pa.

Mr. Butterfield, who was graduated from U. S. Naval Academy in 1931, and holds an M. A. from the University of Michigan, will have his brother, John Butterfield, of Pana, Pa., as his best man. Ushers will be Porter C. Greene, Dwight P. Thurston and William Lane, of New London, and John H. Kehne of Frederick, Md.

Following the wedding, there will be a reception at the bride's home in Mercersburg, Pa.

On Sunday Mrs. Woolcock will join her daughter at Mercersburg, and they will go on to Ocean City, N. Y., to spend a week. A son, Daniel Woolcock, Jr., has been there visiting for the week past.

DELEGATES RETURN FROM CONVENTION

Mrs. Mary Kurtz, Mrs. Alice Jackson and Mrs. Millicent Sitler, all of this city, have returned from York, Pa., where they attended sessions of the Daughters of Union Veterans convention as delegates.

The local group left New Castle on Sunday and returned home last evening.

They announce the convention next year will take place at Philadelphia. Mrs. Anna B. Dolan will succeed Mrs. Bertha Shorts of Sharon as president.

EVENING BRIDGE AT FIELD CLUB THURSDAY

Members of the New Castle Field club, enjoyed an informal bridge on Thursday evening in the club house, with Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Kariher presiding in the role of hosts.

Contests were in progress at 8 o'clock, and at the close of play, awards were presented to Mrs. C. B. Fiester, Miss Vera Tratz, J. H. Gibson and L. B. Hauschild. Lunch was served afterwards.

DINNER HONORS FRANK ANDREWS

Commemorating the 70th birthday of Frank P. Andrews, of Crawford avenue, one of New Castle's leading business men, a surprise stag dinner was tendered him on Thursday evening, in the home of his daughter, Mrs. James Buckner, with whom he resides.

The guest list was comprised of an even dozen old friends of Mr. Andrews, and they had a most enjoyable evening, after they had been served a bountiful dinner by Mrs. Buckner assisted by another daughter, Mrs. W. C. Falls and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Andrews.

On behalf of the assembled group, George Weingartner, presented the guest of honor with a handsome gift the meanwhile speaking of the close association the men had enjoyed over a period of years, and wishing Mr. Andrews many more as happy occasions.

In his early years, Mr. Andrews was identified with The News company, later going into the plumbing business, about 40 years ago, which he has carried on successfully since.

He has lived in New Castle all his life, and is a prominent and active member of Epworth M. E. church. He is among the community's leaders in civic affairs.

CONSERVATION GROUP HAS ANNUAL PICNIC

"Wee Hoose," the attractive summer cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Horchler, along the Slippery Rock, was the scene of a delightful gathering on Wednesday when the Conservation department of the Woman's club had the annual picnic which wound up meetings of a successful season.

A sumptuous picnic dinner was served to around 30 guests at noon at small tables on the veranda, which carried red and white rosebuds for decorations, to blend with the same predominating colors at the cottage.

In the afternoon the group rambled about the hostess' lovely garden which was especially lovely, then visited other cottages in the vicinity and played games.

On the committee for the affair were Mrs. H. R. McCulloch, department chairman; Mrs. Ray Horchler and Mrs. Andrew Dodds.

Out of town guests were: Miss Maribelle Chapman of Springboro, Pa., who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. W. A. Pond of Winter avenue; Mrs. Thomas A. Clark, Misses Carolyn Cosel and Jean Short.

LUNCHEON-PROGRAM AT MITCHELL HOME

A 1 o'clock luncheon was enjoyed by the Ladies' Association of the First U. P. church Thursday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. H. C. Mitchell, Winter avenue, hostess. She entertained in a delightfully informal manner, having as aides, the following committee: Mrs. W. E. Patton, Mrs. Velma Patton, Mrs. George Moore, Mrs. Scott McCaslin and Miss Isabelle Mitchell.

Places were arranged for twenty-five who were served at tables attractively appointed in keeping with the season. A short business period followed, with Mrs. Robert McFate in charge of the devotionals. Mrs. W. C. Doyle assisted and president, Mrs. Harvey Robinson, presided.

The program of entertainment filled in the balance of the leisure hours, with Mrs. John Ingham, chairman. She introduced a quintette composed of Mrs. M. K. Newbury, Mrs. George P. Smith, Mrs. Clyde Sanders, Mrs. Edwin McBride and Mrs. S. E. Irvine, who pleased with several numbers. The next feature, was a skit entitled "The First Call For a Magaine," with Mrs. Clyde Sanders and Mrs. M. K. Mewbury, taking part. Mrs. Howard Magill, a special guest of the occasion, pleased with a humorous reading, "Trouble And Hens" and just preceding she contributed a talk on "The Evolution Of the Missionary Box." The singing of a hymn by the assemblage, closed the program.

Their next gathering will be in the form of a picnic, with the social committee in charge of all arrangements.

Relief Corps

Relief Corps, No. 11, met Tuesday evening in Modern Woodmen of America hall, Washington street.

Following a short business meeting, a delightful entertainment was enjoyed. Plans were made for a picnic to be held at Cascade Park, Tuesday, June 29, with supper served in the grove at 5:30 o'clock.

Following committees were named to serve at the picnic: Mrs. Sadie Park, Mrs. Florence Gillespie, Mrs. Vida Robison, Mrs. Millie Wallace, Mary Patterson, Edith Hahn, Mrs. Allison, Mrs. Kate Stanley and Mrs. Ethel Thomas.

McClelland Reunion

Descendents of the McClelland families will hold their annual reunion Monday, July 5, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Earl, West Washington street extension.

FRIZZLEBURG CLUB AT ANDERSON HOME

Miss Helen Anderson, Frizzleburg, welcomed members of the 4-H club of Frizzlburg at her home recently, when they gathered for their regular meeting.

The club voted that Margie Jane Thompson and Dorothy Ann Bayless will represent the club at camp this season.

Sewing was the main pastime for the evening hours, with social chat helping to pass the time enjoyable. Next meeting will be in the home of Martha Jean Boyd.

N. K. Club Meeting

Miss Catherine Lewis, Bell avenue, entertained members of the N. K. club in her home Wednesday evening. The party honored the birthday anniversaries of Miss Minnie Leathers and Miss Catherine Lewis. Many beautiful gifts were bestowed upon the two honored members of the club.

Games, chat and musical entertainment were the main diversions of the hours. Prizes for high scores in the games were awarded to Miss Alice Slack and to Miss Betty Miller.

The group was invited to the dining room of the Lewis home, where they were served a delicious luncheon. Marking each place were small corsages of roses and carnations. The hostess was aided in serving by Mrs. William Selby.

Next meeting will be on Wednesday, June 30, in the home of Agusta Hitch, Bell avenue.

McGuffey Reunion.

The annual McGuffey reunion is announced to be held at shelter No. 5 at Cascade park on Saturday, June 19. Dinner will be served at noon. This is the reunion event that heretofore has been held at the McGuffey homestead at Coltsville.

TRAILING TRAILERS

TRAVELERS in auto trailers may lose some of their present gypsy mode of life if anything comes of the point raised at the recent annual convention of the Association of Master Plumbers at Atlantic City. Suggestion was offered that trailers be classed as houses and, as such, subject to restrictions of modern sanitation in disposition of waste products. Decision was deferred because of many conflicting opinions.

"It stumps me," admitted A. R. McGonegal, chief plumbing inspector, District of Columbia, chairman of the convention. Wisconsin, he said, was considering a law requiring trailers to park at approved camps where modern sanitary facilities were available.

Webster defines a house as "a structure intended or used for human habitation, especially a human habitation which is fixed in place and is intended for the private occupation of a family or families."

That's just what trailerites probably are seeking to escape —family or families—in-laws and week-end visitors. The essence of a trailer is to permit a gypsy life, going whither the spirit and gasoline move. Would it not be killing the very spirit to rule habitations of trailerites are houses within the meaning of the plumbing law?

Webster goes on to say: "Temporary, movable or impermanent dwellings are commonly called by special names, as lodge, tepee, wigwam, wikiup or yurt."

What visions do those names engender? The poet in his vast wilderness may call his trailer a lodge; others who wish to go native Indian may choose from wigwam, tepee or wikiup. But for real wildness, and back-to-nature moods the yurt of the Siberian Tartar offers everything.

So, ho for the trailer-yurt!

WANTED: THE RAINBOW'S END

That high school boy in Nebraska who informed the State Vocational Education Department that his chief ambition was to be "a retired farmer," may not have been altogether serious.

Questionnaires are an open field for fun, while, of course, the universal tendency is to give expected answers rather than actual attitudes. This lad may secretly yearn to be an aviation mechanic; anonymous adolescence in a state-aid school can provide startling or orthodox replies at a moment's notice.

Still, many adults share youth's vagueness of aim, and a nebulous desire to be rich, to become independent, to have lots of friends, to be "a country gentleman" or "a good business man" is not culpable simply because indefinite.

SEND ALIEN GUNMEN HOME

The Dies bill, which has been passed by the house, would materially strengthen the hand of the government in dealing with alien criminals. It ordains the mandatory deportation of those who within five years have been convicted of illegally possessing firearms, violating narcotics or alien smuggling laws or committing a crime involving moral turpitude.

Conviction for illegal possession of firearms is not now ground for deportation, while in cases of moral turpitude the criminal must have served at least one year in prison before being deported. Many flagrant offenders have got off with lighter sentences.

Certainly there is no room in this country for aliens who have used or acquired deadly weapons in defiance of law. The sooner they are shipped back home the better. The senate should lose no time in following the example set by the house.

INEXCUSABLE EXEMPTION

As a result of a scientific study of all forms of public employment in the United States, it developes that there is an aggregate payroll of more than five billion dollars which is exempt from shouldering any important share of the nation's fiscal burden.

Representative Cochran indicates that there are more than 3,500,000 otherwise eligible persons who are not required to pay a cent of federal income tax.

In its current attempt to establish a more "equitable" tax base, congress plainly should devote some attention to this matter. It is decidedly unfair to the rank and file of workers in private industry for this large group of citizens to escape paying their reasonable share of fiscal obligations.

Public employees, as citizens, benefit by all the federal services. It is only rational to expect, therefore, that they shall help foot the bills.

Along with efforts to clean up on millionaire taxpayers should go the fixing of a definite levy on the five-billion-dollar public salary item that is now being assessed precisely nothing.

T-BONE STEAKS ALSO HELP

Professor Donald A. Laird left his chair of psychology at Colgate University, in Hamilton, New York, long enough to tell a Chicago convention that clerical workers need a spot o' tea in mid-afternoon, even in mid-morning.

The National Office Management Association heard him without blinking, for the British idea has been urged on these shores frequently.

Dr. Laird made a similar appeal at a Philadelphia conference, and he tells fearful tales of the empty stomach which "spontaneously sets up distress signals" with contractions which "literally tie the stomach into a knot" until it resembles "an agile pretzel." That is, indeed, something to deplore.

Little Johnnie raids the icebox when he gets home from school, but office workers, Dr. Laird implies, ought to stop work, say at 10:30 in the morning and at 4 p. m., gather round the boss' desk and have a "bright idea hour" instead of a "zero hour." Stenographers who in haste or figure anxiety skimp breakfasts and lunches especially need these extra snacks, particularly since Dr. Laird is sure they "bring out hidden genius."

Surely, office managers want all genius possible brought out. Hence, tea. If Dr. Laird can only put this idea across, and get results, the British might suggest tea balls instead of cannon balls in trying to quiet things in Spain. Employers could also advertise for clerks by promising the best and biggest cups in town.

How could the political writer do his job if nobody had invented the phrase, "the turn of the century?"

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

READING TO CHILDREN

In 1925 I pointed out in my book, "The Learner and His Attitude," the educational opportunities at home of having older children read to younger ones. Ofter in more recent years I have been urging this practice, in this column. It affords pleasure and profit to the young listeners. It heps the older child who reads to improve his reading. It has obvious moral values since the older child reading to younger ones gets pleasure in a helpful service.

A few years ago I had the pleasure of conducting a central three-day parent institute, in Flint, Mich., under the auspices of the Child Study clubs of that city. From Mrs. Clyde L. Fanning, program chairman of the Chevrolet Park Child study group, of Flint, has come the following description of a project which has tremendous possibilities.

"A new community project that is expected to attract the interest of other organizations has been developed by the Chevrolet Park Child Study group, supervised by Mrs. Norval Hollbrook. The event has become a weekly feature in the lives of girls from five to ten years of age in the neighborhood. Each Friday evening, they meet, under adult supervision, and enjoy a story hour, with older girls and boys reading stories of interest to these age groups. The children are put into sections according to ages so that suitable stories may be selected for them. Within a few weeks the listeners have grown to twenty.

"The high school girls and boys who do the reading are finding it a most enjoyable task, for it is really fun to read stories when your listeners are eager to hear. And they are. The readers are improving rapidly in their ability to read aloud so that they are gaining a great deal from their experience as well as giving the younger children an evening of enjoyment.

Meet In Homes

"The meeting places are in the homes of mothers of the study group sponsoring the project. Two or three fathers are planning to fix up large rooms in their basements for meeting places. In fact, it is an idea which seems destined to be used beyond Flint, Mich.

Mrs. Fanning also enclosed a detailed program of the meetings of the study group throughout the year. The central theme was, "The Satisfying Home." For each meeting there was a carefully prepared reading list. It is the most complete and intelligent program outline for a study group that I have yet seen worked out by the group itself—or its leader.

"We secure a speaker competent to talk on the subject under consideration and supplement this with group discussion....Organized in 1932 with five members, there are now twenty-four....We meet as a group each month. Our meetings start and close promptly at the scheduled time. No refreshments are served at the regular meetings, but we have three social events each year and have our husbands invited to atend one of them, when we serve refreshments."

All Of Us

LIFE'S A CAT

What I like about cats is the way they insist on being themselves.

We think we own them, but they don't think so. They act as they please, spend none of their time in flattering human beings. They keep their places and they keep us in ours.

Take our cat. One night he was sleeping before the fireplace and the fire died down. He got up, stretched and disappeared. After a while we called him, but he did not come. So we went looking for him and found him sleeping deep in a pillow on a bed—where he knows he should never, never sleep. . . . If we leave him alone in the house, we return to find him snoozing on the couch, though he never does that when human beings are around. When he's hungry he lets us know it. He waits a limited time and then gets angry and gives a plaintive, disgusted, demanding miaoo-ow! Then he's fed.

Sometimes he's affectionate. Rubs against your legs. Purrs loud and long. But it's because He feels affectionate, not ever because he knows that people like him to be that way. . . . And when he wants to get out he gets out, and when he wants to get in he gets in. . . . He gets what he wants. He's the boss. . . . He's not ours. We are his. . . . We admire him. We like him. And you can't have him.

And what I like about life is it's so much like a cat.

It does not flatter, it does not fawn. If you don't like it, all right; it has other irons in the fire, other fish to fry. If you are careless with a knife, you cut your finger. If you can't drive a nail straight, you'll bang your thumb. If you do what you shouldn't you'll wish you hadn't.

Life has its rules and you must obey them. If you have a good disposition, people will like you. If you snarl at them, they'll snarl back and avoid you. If you are powerful, you'll be flattered. If you don't like life, you'll not be happy. . . . Sometimes the sun shines and sometimes the lightning strikes. If you're in the way of the lightning you'll be hit; if you sit in the sun you'll be warm. Sometimes life seems a charming presence, sometimes it's a clamorous, demanding creditor. Life purrs and life miaoo-ows! It's a beautiful cat that can scratch and delight you.

If you don't like it, that's your fault entirely. Because it never made any promises, it never told you it would fawn and flatter. It's always and forever just itself—like the cat in the house that belongs to itself and doesn't belong to You.

WHEN YOU MOTOR IN BOSTON

The motorist was a stranger in Boston's streets. It was evening. A man approached.

"Sir," said he, "your beacon has ceased its functions."

"What?" gasped the astonished driver.

"Your illuminator, I say, is shrouded in unmitigated oblivion."

"I don't quite—"

"The effulgence of your irradiator has evanesced."

"My dear fellow, I—"

"The transversal ether oscillations in your incandenser have been discontinued."

TODAY'S STORYETTE

The photographer was taking a picture of the father and his college boy son.

"Perhaps it would be a better picture my son, the photographer said "if you were to stand with hand on your father's shoulder."

"The picture would be more natural," the old man suggested, "if he stood with his hands in my pocket."

We have never seen as many panhandlers as there are in this city at present. In going a block we often get held up by one or two. We often wonder if this is because we look like an easy mark. Many of the bums are from out of town—but some are living right here and can be told a block away.

NATURAL DEDUCTIONS

"Can any of you tell me what the ruler of Russia was called?" asked the teacher.

"The Czar," roared the class.

"And what was the Czar's wife known as?"

Only two voices answered this time:

"The Czarina."

"Ah," said the teacher eying his flock fondly. "That is very good. Now, who will tell me what the Czar's children were called?"

"Czardines!" yelled one little boy.

There are four million people in the United States holding public office who do not pay any income tax. Some of them get mighty big salaries while a man making a thousand dollars in private work must make an income tax report. Rotten!

"To let down ropes to support cleaning scaffold," replied the guide, "and there are no nails in the roof, which is held together by split pegs and thongs of rawhide," he continued. "The balcony stands three or four feet from the wall to improve acoustics—"

"Well," interrupted the impressed tourist, "I never thought they would go to all that trouble just so people could come here to hear a pin drop."

Talk to a man long enough and he will say to you: "I want my boys to have an easier time than I had." Up to the time a man is forty he works part of the time for his children and part of the time for himself. After he is forty the task of lining the paternal nest with down is his consuming ambition. In attempting to do his children a favor the average father is much more likely to do them an injury. Perhaps seven times out of ten the worthless young man is the net result of the attempt of a father to make life easy for his offspring.

Good Taste

Reg. U. S. Pat. Office.

By Francine Markel

DEAR MISS MARKEL— — Is it necessary to have shers at a home wedding? Q. I. O.

Answer—No, but if you will have a large wedding with several bridesmaids you may have them, although at a home wedding they are simply ornamental, having no duties other than escorting the bride's mother from the place where she has been receiving guests to the part of the room where the ceremony will take place, and to march two by two at the head of the procession.

If you will have a small wedding with only one attendant, ushers should then be eliminated.

Dear Miss Markel—When setting the table where should one place butter knives? ANN.

Answer — They may be placed either diagonally across the butter plate or to the extreme right of the place plate, the first knife to be used.

Soliloquy On Life

Mola's Passing Brings Ifs.
Believe Loss To Rebels Not Great.
Not Popular With Allied Leaders.

Editor's Note — In the absence of Leslie Eichel, now on vacation, his column "World at a Glance", is temporarily suspended. A daily story on varied subjects by William Ritt, another Central Press writer, is substituted.

By WILLIAM RITT
Central Press Writer

THE SMASHING assault which saw the vanguard of Spanish rebel forces driving victoriously through the flaming suburbs of Bilbao suggests that perhaps, after all, the death of General Emilio Mola was not the great catastrophe, from a military standpoint, that it has been depicted.

Mola was the shrewdest soldier on the rebels' native general staff, but that isn't much of a compliment. We read that German and Italian high officers on the Rightist side have had little respect for the Spanish rebel leaders' military acumen.

In the shock of Mola's sudden death observers appeared to overlook the fact that the ill-fated rebel chieftain had failed to score a conclusive victory with trained troops against forces which were largely militia.

It is probably true that the rebel forces now at Bilbao may be far stronger in men and equipment than Mola could command, but great generals can win without a preponderance of strength and even, as happened often in our own Civil War, when far outnumbered in men and munitions.

A number of writers in commenting on Mola's death, saw it as possibly significant as was the death of Stonewall Jackson at Chancellorsville during our own war between the states.

This is ridiculous.

Jackson was a truly great general. He may well have been the greatest tactician under fire in the history of America. Some of his feats, even in the light of intensive study, still seem well-nigh incedible. His ability to maneuver and join forces with other Confederate armies on the field of battle and in the face of vastly stronger enemy forces make for some of the most brilliant pages in all military history.

Up to and including Chancellorsville the northern generals, with vastly greater forces at their back, were no match for Jackson and his superior, General Robert E. Lee, himself a military genius.

Lee said, as Jackson lay dying at Chancellorsville: "I have lost my right arm." There are some students of the Civil War who believe he could have more accurately said: "We have lost the war."

Up to this writing it would seem that to mention the tactics and achievements of Mola, Franco and other Spanish rebel leaders in the same paragraph with those of the superb southern pair, Jackson and Lee, borders on sacrilege.

However, Mola's death may have had a political significance apart from its effect on the morale of the two contending forces in Spain.

Mola, it appears, was being built into a picture of a nationalist hero.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE HOBOS

In their cinder-strewn jungles, the "Knights of the Road" are chuckling these days over a green and yellow tabloid sheet—the 1937 spring edition of "Hobo News."

There is a wealth of humor in this unusual publication. There is box car philosophy, too, an abundance of advice for the inexperienced itinerant, and an occasional note of pathos—probably not intended by its editors. Just as obviously present in the "Hobo News" columns, is a homely sidelight on the history of American transportation.

The hobo columnists, taking it for granted that none of their readers would be so foolhardy as to hop a speedy, streamlined passenger train, devote themselves to the subject of riding the freights. Even this mode of travel is not what it used to be. The freight trains have met the tempo which modern business demands

"I've been on many a fast 'cannon ball' freight, sometimes called 'hot shots,'" Ben (Hobo) Benson recalls. "These freights make passenger train time, and almost bounce the life out of the hobo. I've had to hold on for dear life on many of these fast 'hot shots' and was glad when it stopped. Sometimes I used to pray for them to stop."

The true hobo, however, still prefers beating the road, via rail, with all its dangers, to hitch-hiking on the highway. He prefers the railroads for reasons of their reliability, his own self-respect and, paradoxically, his safety. As the "Hobo News" joke page puts it:

"Why are there more automobile accidents than railroad accidents?"

"Because the engineer doesn't drive with an arm around the fireman."

Bible Thought For Today

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

DOG TRAINER

Bill could take a puppy and teach him clever tricks.
He would spend an afternoon sending him for sticks;
Patient with him as he could be;
kind and gentle, too,
Till he'd made him understand what he had to do.
Bill could raise the kind of dog
every one enjoys.
Oft I wished that Bill had been as patient with his boys.

Catch a puppy chewing things Bill would merely smile.
"He'll get over that," he'd say, "in a little while.
That's the nature of the beast. Give him time to grow.
What is right and what is wrong pretty soon he'll know."
Understood he the ways of dogs; all their habits knew,
But he couldn't teach his boys what they ought to do.

Bill had time to train a dog. That to him was fun,
But somehow he never learned how to train a son;
When they blundered into wrong such a fuss he made
That of him his youngsters were constantly afraid.
"Dogs need patience," oft he said,
"if you'd have 'em good."
But that boys need patience, too,
Bill never understood.

Bill's boys never came to much;
soon they both cleared out.
They grew up to be the sort no one likes about.
Pity, too, I've often thought. Bill
a dog could train,
But to boys the way to act he never could explain.
Still I'm sure to better men they'd have both grown up
Had he given them half the time spent upon a pup.

Editor Of Dry Tabloid To Be Speaker Sunday

Miss Ethel Hubler To Discuss Repeal At Union Plaingrove Service

A union service will be held in the Plaingrove Presbyterian church on Sunday evening, June 20, at 8 o'clock. The United Presbyterian congregation is joining in the service. The Plaingrove district of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association is co-operating in the project.

Miss Ethel Hubler, whose talks on the alcohol question have been heard from coast to coast on powerful radio stations for the last several years will be the speaker.

Miss Hubler, editor and publisher of the "National Voice" national dry tabloid, will discuss repeal and its effects upon the social and business structure in the United States. She will review the promises made by those who sought repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, discuss the manner in which these promises have been kept, and present up-to-the minute information on bootlegging, drunkenness, drunken driving, and liquor consumption since repeal.

Miss Hubler is a member of the National Temperance Council. Her newspaper, the National Voice is the oldest dry weekly in America, published since 1870.

Admission is free.

The World At A Glance

While General Francisco Franco remained the head of the insurgents it was Mola who was getting the publicity, because Mola was constantly gaining in prestige, as Franco, because of the abject failure to take Madrid, appeared to be losing prestige.

Had Mola lived, in the event of a rebel victory, it is quite logical to suppose the Spanish Fascist state which would come into being would be built around the popular figure of Mola rather than the colorless personality of Franco.

But such thoughts are idle, for the stooped-shouldered, bespectacled Mola, who appeared so incongruous in his uniform, has disappeared forever from the scene of the Spanish struggle.

Mola may have become one of the most significant political figures of our time had he been spared the soldier's fate, but already, so shortly after his passing, the sound of his name is lost in the roar and flash of the big guns which today thunder over the tortured waters of the Bay of Biscay.

FORMER FRIENDS ENJOY REUNION

At the home of Mrs. George R. McClelland on Pine street Thursday afternoon there was a reunion of seven former schoolmates of the Gormley school on the Harlansburg road, also known in the old days as "Chattahoochee".

This group all attended school together 50 or 60 years ago and one in the number, Mrs. Tillie Stewart McClelland, who is here from Orange, Cal., taught there in the years of 1891 and '92.

Present were: Mrs. Tillie Stewart McClelland, Miss Marjorie McAnlis, Mrs. Minnie Speer Marshall of Bridgeport, Conn., Mrs. Margaret Ellis Eakin, Miss Ella Carr, Miss Lizzie McConahy and Miss Lula Gormley. Another guest was Mrs. Rebecca McClelland Lewis, who is visiting here from Greeley, Colo., who has known the above group for a number of years.

The afternoon was pleasantly spent looking over old kodak pictures and reminiscing, and at a suitable time the hostess served an attractive luncheon.

Favors were green and white candy baskets decorated in rosebuds and filled with mints. Pink and green tones were developed in all appointments, china, roses and tapers accenting the idea.

Surprise Birthday Party

Honoring the eleventh birthday anniversary of their grand daughter, Lois Jean Stickel, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Booher, of the Old Pittsburgh road, entertained at a party Thursday evening. The guest list included the Sunday school class of Calvary Presbyterian church, of which Lois is a member, and several of her friends.

Contests and games claimed attention, with Martha Houck and Eva Beckert winning the trophies. The serving of a dainty repast by the hostess completed the informal program, this taking place on the lawn of the Booher home. Aides were Mrs. Albert Booher, Mrs. Gomer Eagan and Thelma Booher. A birthday cake topped with glowing candles, formed the table centerpiece.

A number of pretty gifts were presented to Lois Jean as additional mementos of the happy occasion.

LOVELY GIFTS ON 40TH ANNIVERSARY

Two beautiful ruby rings, identical in form and mounting, are particularly treasured gifts now owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Burrows, to whom they were presented on the occasion of their 40th wedding anniversary Wednesday, by their daughter and son, Frances and Paul Burrows.

Open house was held at the family home on Morton street in the evening from 8 to 11, when upwards of fifty friends and relatives called. Aides during the evening in serving light refreshments were Mrs. Claire Seth, Mrs. Fannie Hazen and Mrs. Robert Walton of Youngstown, the latter two a sister and niece respectively, of Mr. Burrows.

In addition to the jewelry, the guests of honor received lovely bouquets and baskets of flowers from friends, cards and letters of felicitations.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Burrows and daughter, Pauline, of Wellsburg, W. Va., Mrs. Fannie Hazen and Mrs. Robert Walton of Youngstown.

BIDE-A-WEE LASSIES AT MARGARET BARNES

Miss Margaret Barnes, opened her home at 1017 Beckford street on Thursday evening, for members of the Bide-A-Wee Lassies Club to hold their regular meeting.

An informal evening of games and chat was enjoyed by the guests with a prize being awarded to Madelon Nicholson. One special guest, Miss Lois Shoaff was present.

Later in the evening, Miss Barnes served her guests with a delicious lunch, at a table attractively decorated with colors of green and white.

Plans were made to hold the next meeting on July 8.

Mrs. E. A. Cook Hostess

For the last social meeting of the summer the Willing Workers of the Croton Avenue M. E. church gathered in the home of Mrs. E. A. Cook, Croton avenue, Thursday night. Thirty members participated in the very enjoyable evening.

Mrs. Carl McCreary led the devotions. Mrs. C. F. VanHorn gave a delightful reading. Mrs. Dalton Groves was in charge of a number of interesting games.

A short business meeting was presided over by Mrs. F. W. Sizer, the president, and later delicious refreshments were served by a committee comprised of Mrs. T. A. Armstrong, Mrs. Annie Williams, Mrs. E. C. Morrow, Mrs. J. M. Seaton and Mrs. Barbara Smith.

Special guests were C. A. Billotte and Mrs. Jeannette Phipps.

GUESTS ARRIVE AT WIGNALL RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. William Young of Van Couver, British Columbia, have arrived at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Wignall on Maryland avenue, where they will visit for a few weeks.

They made the trip here by motor in a week's time, going through ten states and covering a distance of 3350 miles or more.

The Youngs will visit in the east, spending some time in Gettysburg, Washington, D. C., New York City and other points of interest, making a round trip back to their home within the next month.

A week ago, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wignall of Terre Haute, Ind., and little daughter, Mary Lou, motored here to visit for two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wignall.

Since their arrival, Mary Lou underwent a tonsil operation, and she is now improving nicely.

They will visit with other friends and relatives in this vicinity before returning to Indiana.

Missionary Group Elects.

Women's Home Missionary society of the Epworth M. E. church met in the church parlors for their regular meeting. President Mrs. C. S. Hart was in charge.

Mrs. Maud Montgomery was in charge of devotional period. The following officers were elected:

Mrs. J. G. Clements, president; Mrs. H. A. McCurdy, vice president; Mrs. J. E. Rogers, second vice president; Mrs. C. H. Andrews, treasurer; Mrs. C. S. Hart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. David McCreary, recording secretary; Mrs. C. E. Jones, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Charles Patterson, spiritual life; Mrs. G. J. Forrest, Christian citizenship; Mrs. H. G. Voorhees, missionary education; Mrs. J. C. McMichael, thank offering; Mrs. Howard Reynolds, mite box; Mrs. Ella Gillette, supplies.

On July 29 the society will join with W. F. M. S. for a picnic at the park.

Colonial Club.

Cards and social chat featured the regular meeting of the Colonial club Thursday evening in the home of Miss Fannie Manto on East Home street.

During a short business session plans were made for a dinner and party with husbands as guests. The occasion will be held soon. Brisco and 500 were the pastimes, prizes going to Mrs. Al Scarazzo and Mrs. Pat Scarazzo. Club token was awarded to Mrs. Pat Alfredo. At an appointed time the hostess served a tempting luncheon.

In two weeks Mrs. Pat Scarazzo, Bartram avenue, will entertain the group.

Lo-Cour-Chee Club

The North Crawford avenue home of Mrs. Harry Ray was the scene of an enjoyable meeting of the Lo-Cour-Chee club members Thursday evening.

She entertained with cards, Mrs. A. Nelson, Mrs. Walter Knoblock and Mrs. Earl White receiving the awards. Lunch was a later pleasure, places being laid for ten.

June 23, the club will entertain their husbands at a special function to be held at a prominent tea room.

Daughters 1812

Daughters of 1812 will have the June meeting Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. W. H. Weinschenk, Savannah Gardens.

PRETTY GIFTS ARE RECEIVED AT SHOWER

At a shower held Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. George Mariacher on DuShane street, Miss Anne Mariacher, bride-elect, received a collection of handsome and useful gifts.

The 15 guests spent an informal evening at bingo, and in serving luncheon the hostess had the assistance of Mrs. Clara McKnight, Mrs. Carrie Kerr and Miss Shirley McKnight.

Pink and white colors were used in appointments, with garden flowers on the table and about the home.

"BRUNCH" AT PARK FOR E. N. C. CLUB

A "brunch" at 11 o'clock Thursday morning at Cascade Park combined appetizing breakfast and luncheon foods which were keenly enjoyed by members of the E. N. C. club and guests in the crisp cool air.

Special guests were Rev. R. J. Fredericks and Evangelist John Carara of Fairview, N. J.

A business session was in charge of the leader, Mrs. Clyde Turner, and among matters transacted were plans for a similar affair at Cascade on July 8. There were about 21 present.

S. L. Kensington

A tureen dinner served at noon Thursday interested the S. L. Kensington members when they met in the home of Mrs. Edward Parks on North Mill street for a social time. Special guests were Anna Herbelous and Leona Weatherby.

After partaking of the delicious menu plans were discussed for a picnic outing on June 23. It will take place at Idora Park, Youngstown, O. The time that followed was spent informally.

Mrs. Parks was aided with the day's events by Mrs. Clara Herbelous.

Friday, July 2, the club will meet in regular session at the home of Mrs. Clara Herbelous, Sycamore street.

Miss O'Conner Entertains

Miss Winifred O'Conner of Spring street, was hostess Wednesday evening to members of the F. S. C. club, and three out of town guests. They were, Mrs. J. D. Hamilton and Mrs. R. C. Jones of Youngstown, O., and Rosemary King of Niles, O.

Tables of 500 claimed attention, with Kathryn Rodgers and Coletta Rodgers, winning the prizes. In the guessing contest, Miss Nettie Holliday was the prize winner.

In serving lunch at a late hour, the hostess was assisted by Mrs. E. J. Smith and Miss Eileen Smith.

Miss Mary Cummings of Epworth street, will entertain at their next meeting, the date to be announced.

Class Has Picnic

An all day outing was enjoyed Wednesday, by the 1937 Confirmation class of St. Paul's Lutheran church, when they went to the home of Melvin Brickner, Princeton.

The occasion was made especially interesting with a period of nature study conducted in the woods about the home, and at an appropriate hour, an appetizing menu was served.

Games were a part of the days festivities, and at the close, marshmallows were toasted.

Special guests included Rev. and Mrs. A. M. Stump, Mr. and Mrs. M. Brickner and Miss Lillian Hartman.

Miss Shuler's Recital

Miss Violet Shuler presented eight piano pupils in a recital at her Dewey avenue home Thursday evening. Guests numbered thirty and enjoyed the program given by Harley Bowman, Lorene Heckathorne, Marlen Shaffer, Frances Masters, Ruth Shaffer, Drexel Bowman, Charles Kirk and Dorothy Rodgers.

As an additional feature the guests heard Miss Lena Malls sing two selections, accompanied by Miss Helen Starke.

Miss Shuler was assisted in serving a tasty lunch by Misses Elma Wright, Ruth Shaffer and Helen Starke.

Quilt Toppers Meet

Members of the Quilt Top club met in the home of Mrs. John Thatcher, Boston avenue, Wednesday afternoon.

The group spent the hours working on "Dresden Plate" quilt patches. Special guest was Mrs. Boyd Quick, Saltsburg, Pa.

Lunch was later served by the hostess, aided by Mrs. Harry Brown. Plans were made to hold a breakfast at Cascade Park, on Wednesday morning, June 23.

R. And R. Club

A dinner party at a popular tavern on the outskirts of the city, was enjoyed by the R. and R. club members Wednesday evenin, the menu being served at a suitable hour.

Prizes were carried off by Mrs. Mildred Bixler, Mrs. Sophie Beynon and Mrs. Hilda Brown for the contests. Special guests included Miss Kathryn Cuba, Mrs. Grace Christie and Mrs. Esther Young.

Wednesday, June 30, the club will be received in the home of Mrs. Mildred Bixler, Adams street.

MODERNISTIC CLUB HAS DINNER PARTY

A tea room downtown was the gathering place for Modernistic club members Thursday evening, when Miss Dorothy Usselton and Mrs. Fred Wettich entertained jointly, at a 6:30 o'clock dinner party.

Flowers of the season were used for table decorations, and candles at either side, completed the setting. Cards followed the serving, prizes going to Dorothy Cain and Betty Conover.

The next meeting will be Wednesday, June 23, when the group will motor to Ellwood City, where they will go horseback riding. Upon their return to New Castle, they will be served lunch at the home of Laura Lach, Pine street.

Shower Honors Couple

Mrs. Edith Campbell and son, Lee W. Campbell, entertained a group of relatives and friends at their home, 921 West Washington street, Wednesday evening, June 16.

The affair was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William McConnell, nee Margaret Campbell, a bride and groom of recent date.

Evening hours were spent informally and at an appropriate time a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Campbell, assisted by Mrs. Edward Fulkerson and the Misses Alma and Dorothy Shoaf. Many beautiful gifts were received by the honored ones.

Parley-Vous Club

Mrs. Lou Davies of Marfin street, received as guests in her home on Thursday evening, associates of the Parley-Vous club. Bouquets of flowers decorated the rooms. Lunch was served at a late hour. Aiding, the hostess had her daughter, Marjorie.

In the 500 contest, Mrs. Robert Slack and Mrs. Walter Patterson received the honor score prizes.

The next assembly will be with Mrs. Elmer Tintsman, on Wilmington avenue, the date to be announced.

O. F. B. Club

Thursday afternoon, associates of the O. F. B. club met with Mrs. Gus Holdfelter on the Mercer road, for a social time, the event being featured with a 1:30 o'clock picnic dinner.

Games followed the serving of a bountiful menu, and afterwards, plans were made for a picnic outing to take place on July 8. On this date, members will meet at the Holdfelter residence, from where they will leave in a group for Camp Perry, picnic grounds.

P. F. F. Club

Mrs. Henry Buckley of Whippo street, was hostess Thursday to memoers of the P. F. F. club. The usual two tables of 500 featured, with Mrs. Edward Fee and Mrs. Fred Conzett winning the prizes. Mrs. Chas. Patterson won the door prize.

In serving lunch, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Louis Krueger and Mrs. Charles Patterson.

Thursday, July 1, Mrs. Sam Carr of McClelland avenue, will entertain.

Century Club

Century club members with their husbands as special guests, were entertained at a chicken dinner party in a tea room downtown last evening, marking one of their special functions of the season.

Following, they motored to Youngstown, O., where they attended a dance.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Domonic Guido.

Quilting Club

An all day meeting of Wednesday Quilting club was held this week in the home of Mrs. Ellis White, on the Harlansburg road.

Sewing, chat, and bingo was pastimes with a tasty lunch served at noon to 12 guests. The hostess was assisted by her daughter, Margaret, and Mrs. Gertrude Book was a special guest.

On July 21, the group will have a picnic under the arbor at the home of Mrs. William Kleckner on Butler avenue.

G. H. M. Class

Thursday evening, the G. H. M. class of the Central Presbyterian church met regularly in the home of Mrs. J. L. Maxwell, on Croton avenue.

In charge of the business session was the president, Mrs. W. R. Book, and Miss Eva Johnson conducted the devotionals. During the social hour, the hostess was assisted with refreshments by Mrs. David Thompson and Mrs. John Jones.

The third Thursday in July, the class will have a picnic at 6:30 in the evening, at the home of Mrs. William Robinson, on the New Castle-Edenburg road.

1923 S. L. Club

Mrs. Jack Hannon of Park avenue received members of the 1923 S. L. club in her home Wednesday evening. Cards were in play, prizes falling to Mrs. Thomas Lallely and Mrs. Thomas Vallely.

Lunch was served and plans were made afterwards for their next meeting, to be held in two weeks with Mrs. Thomas Lallely.

Shriver-Shaw

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Harold F. Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. John B. Shaw of Washington township, and Miss Dorothy Shriver, daughter of Charles Shriver of West Madison avenue, New Castle.

The couple was married in Tidioute, Pa., June 10, by Rev. L. W. Miller, an old friend of the groom. Following a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Shaw will reside in Harrisburg where Mr. Shaw has been assigned to duty with the new Public Utility commission.

NEW WESTMINISTER, B. C.—In deference to an old superstition of seamen, a new pilot boat built at a local shipyard was not launched when scheduled. Veteran pilots protested and the ceremony was postponed, because the day happened to be Friday.

Henry Ford Feels Fit; Even Runs Some At 74

(Editor's Note: Before switching suddenly from the Michigan area into Pennsylvania to cover strike developments for International News Service, James L. Kilgallen, staff writer, paid a visit to Henry Ford whom he had interviewed a number of times in the past in Florida and Georgia. Mr. Ford willingly gave of his time, but thought the time was not propituous to discuss the labor situation. However, Mr. Kilgallen obtained a first-hand picture of the world's greatest independent motor car manufacturer and his story is presented herewith.)

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DEARBORN, Mich., June 18.—Henry Ford is the picture of health, and he says he "feels fine". He will be 74 years old on July 30, but he doesn't look a day over 60.

"How do you keep so spry and fit?" I asked him during the course of a two-hour conversation.

"I keep active and interested in things," he replied. "I have no aversion to work, you know."

"How much do you weigh?" I asked, observing the automobile manufacturer' trim figure which has not the slightest suggestion of a paunch.

"One hundred and forty pounds. I've stayed at that weight for years."

Ford exercises, but in his own way. No calisthenics or set regimen. When he feels he needs some exercise he exercise, either by riding a bicycle or running.

Man Over 70 Running?

"A man over 70 running?" I repeated.

"Oh yes," he replied. "You ought to try it. I take a little dash, then slow down to a walk, and then run some more. It's a good system, I find. I sometimes have a little fun racing with the school children."

Ford said he rarely walks up a flight of stairs. He takes them on the run.

"It's against the doctor's orders," he smiled. "But then you know doctors don't always know what they are talking about. My heart beat is no higher after a run up stairs."

Heart trouble, so prevalent in men after they get along in years, is due to "over eating and eating too much sweets," in the opinion of Ford.

"I guess I'm living on borrowed time," he smilingly remarked when reminded he had passed the tradition mark of three score and ten. "I'm only four years old. I just finished reading a book called 'Second Seventy'. I feel pretty good for a four-year-old."

"When do you expect to retire?" I aked.

"When I am no longer of any use," he replied with a broad smile on his tanned face.

According to Ford, when a man becomes ill it usually is his own fault.

Ford is a modest man, and I had a little difficulty getting out of him what is his major interest in life. I concluded from his answers that it must be teaching.

He pointed out that he was all alone when he made the first motor car. He had to teach what he knew to someone else. Ever since that day he has been teaching something or other to his employes, and those in whom he has taken an interest, notably the many youths he has in his technical schools.

I learned he has been spending a good deal of his time lately visiting a 200-acre farm at Milan, Mich., where four of "his boys" have gone to farm. It is Ford's opinion that industry and farming "go together" and he is personally seeing to it that these boys get started off right.

Ford is an early riser. He has no set time for retiring at night, but usually goes to bed around 10:30 p. m.

After he has breakfast he usually visits the Greenfield Village chapel and hears services. He enjoys listening to the children sing and keeping in touch with the young folks.

Then he goes through the various laboratories of his tremendous plant here, which employs 83,000 men and sprawls over 1,100 acres. In the laboratories he confers with draftsmen on experimental work.

From the laboratories he proceeds to that Rouge plant proper and watches the actual operations of his immense factory. Usually he is accompanied by P. E. Martin, vice president of the Ford Motor company, or one of the superintendents.

Thereafter he generally goes where he pleases. He is likely to turn up anywhere from the assembly line to the power plant. He talk to his men as a fellow worker would. They like to have him come around. He is a nice friendly boss—never critical, always helpful when he has a suggestion to make.

Bumper Crop At State Game Farm

Eighty-Five Thousand Eggs Laid; 22,000 Pheasant Chicks Hatched

It's a bumper crop of pheasants this year at the Jordan state game farm near Harlansburg. The box score to date follows, and the season isn't over yet:

Eggs laid, 85,000.

Eggs shipped out to sportsmen, who will see that they are hatched, 33,000.

Eggs set in incubators at farm, 48,000 (of which 18,000 have not reached hatching stage as yet.)

Young birds hatched, 22,000 (including today's hatch).

Young birds in brooders, 12,300.

Day-old chicks shipped out to sportsmen who will see that they are released when able to fare for themselves, 7,000. (This number will be increased to 10,000 tomorrow.)

Superintendent V. T. Warfel is well satisfied with the season so far. It has been the biggest egg production season since the Jordan farm was instituted, because the farm wintered a much larger number of hens than is customary. The new incubating equipment has increased the hatch tremendously.

The first batch of young chicks is now six weeks old and will be removed from the brooders in a day or two to make room for the new hatch expected today.

Egg production is now practically at an end. A total of 85,000 was reached last Sunday; the production is dropping rapidly down and is now at about 800 a day.

Word Still Lacking On Security Office

Johnson Building Quarters Unoccupied As Yet; Register WPA Men

A definite opening date for the New Castle district office of the United States Social Security Board still remained unknown today. Office space for the headquarters was reserved in the Johnson building several months ago.

At the post office here are several shipments of office supplies addressed to the new security board office, but Postmaster Richard A. Steen still knows nothing of the opening plans.

Until the new office opens, all social security activity will continue at the post office. At the present time that office is enrolling WPA workers the county over for the social security roll. That task should be completed within two weeks.

Secures License In New York City

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, June 18—Mrs. Margaret Gramman Hepper, 26, a divorcee, formerly of New Castle and now of 416 West 25th Street, New York, and Herbert Moss, 30, of Astoria, N. Y., were issued a license to wed at the Municipal Building here. They indicated they would be married on Saturday at Astoria by Judge Crawford.

The bride-to-be was born in New Castle, the daughter of George and Mae Robinson Gramman. She was divorced from Harry Hepper in New York last November.

Mr. Moss, who is the son of Bernard and Rebecca Pollack Moss, was born in New York.

Diamond Jubilee Convention Now Being Arranged

State Sabbath School Convention Is Scheduled For Hershey In October

Every one of the sixty-seven counties in Pennsylvania will be represented at Hershey, October 13, 14, 15, in the 75th Annual Diamond Jubilee Convention of the Pennsylvania State Sabbath School Association.

Nationally-known speakers have been secured. The opening address of the convention will be given by Dr. Robert Freeman, of Pasadena, Calif. The Wednesday evening address will be given by Dr. Ross H. Stover, of Philadelphia; the Thursday evening address by Dr. Daniel A. Poling, of Philadelphia; the Friday evening address by Bishop Edwin H. Hughes, of Washington, D. C.

Instructors in the afternoon segregated sections of the convention include: Dr. Paul H. Vieth of the School of Religious Education of Yale University; Miss Mary Alice Jones, Director of Children's Work for the International Council of Religious Education, Chicago; Mrs. Grace Sloan Overton, General Secretary of the Federation of Church Women, New York City; Dr. Clyde Lynch, President of Lebanon Valley College; Dr. J. Quinter Miller, General Secretary of the Connecticut Council of Churches and Religious Education; Dr. W. B. Greenway, President of Beaver College; Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer, Professor of English Bible and Religious Education in Gettysburg Seminary; Rev. E. C. Keboch, Director of Religious Education for the Central Methodist Episcopal Conference; Dr. C. A. Hauser, Director of Christian Education and Editor of Sunday School publications for the Evangelical and Reformed church; Dr. G. L. Schaller, Associate Editor of the Evangelical Press, Harrisburg; Dr. Roger Albright, chairman of the Committee on Social Values in Motion Pictures, New York City; Miss Pearl Rosser, Director of Children's Work for the Northern Baptist Convention; and many other specialists in particular fields of Christian education.

The music of the convention will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Eddowes of Philadelphia and Ocean Grove. The devotional periods at the beginning of each of the general sessions, the forenoon and evening of each day will be under the leadership of Dr. Hugh Thomson Kerr, of Pittsburgh.

Leads Orchestra Over Telephone

(International News Service)

BERLIN—Long distance conducting of an orchestra over the phone has been demonstrated for the first time here by Dr. Erich Fischer, student of musical history, of Zurich.

Dr. Fischer conducted from the Beroin Swiss legation, while the orchestra was miles away at the Musical High school of Berlin. The conductor and the orchestra were connected with a telephone cable and every member of the orchestra supplied with ear phones. Fischer conducted his orchestra by brief verbal directions, supported by a muffled piano.

The demonstration proved a perfect success. It will be repeated over longer distance in the near future.

Johnstown In Waiting Mood

Settles Down To Await Developments In Steel Strike Situation

COUNTER CHARGES AIRED AT MEETINGS

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

JOHNSTOWN, June 18.—With violence falling off but community feeling still tense, the strike in the Bethlehem Steel plants in this area settled down today to "a fight to the finish."

The agitated state of the public mind was meanwhile sharply disclosed by two rousing public meetings. One, held in a high school auditorium, was under the auspices of the "citizens' committee." The other was an outdoor union rally.

At the citizens' meeting, Mayor Daniel J. Shields and other speakers assailed the activities of "outsiders" and "red communists" who, in the words of the mayor have been "trying to take over Johnstown."

At the union rally David Watkins, strike leader bitterly attacked Mayor Shields for his activities in behalf of laborers who wanted to return to work and appealed to union men "to stay out of the plants until the company is brought to terms."

Two hundred state police continued to preserve law and order. The fact no liquor is being sold anywhere within a radius of 25 miles from Johnstown made their work easier than it might have been otherwise.

Company officials declared the number of men returning to their jobs in the mills was increasing steadily while, on the other hand, union leaders insisted Bethlehem Steel "is practically shut down."

The meeting of the citizens' committee was attended by about 1,000 men and women and was presided over by Francis Martin, president of the U. S. bank of Johnstown. Martin told the audience Johnstown's citizens have been intimidated and that was why the meeting was being held.

New Teeth For Liquor Board

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, June 18.—The State Liquor Control board Thursday possessed greater powers in the issuance and revocation of liquor licenses in the commonwealth with the formal signing of three enactments of the legislature by Gov. George H. Earle.

Under the new law, the board will issue beer as well as liquor licenses and will hold the power of revocation in all instances. Clubs are forced to close between the hours of 3 a. m. and 7 a. m., although no change is made in the 2 a. m. closing time for taprooms and bars.

New Assessor Starts On Job

MERCER, Pa., June 18.—James D. Boyle, of Sharon, recently appointed personal property tax assessor for Mercer County by the County commissioners today moved into the commissioners office where desk space has been provided.

Following action of the county salary board Mr. Boyle will receive a salary of $2,400 a year.

NEVER NEGLECT YOUR FEET

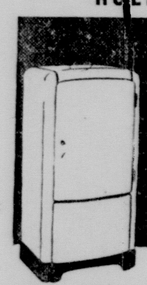

No one should ever neglect the care of their feet. A pair of good, healthy feet sure saves a lot of misery. And here is something that does give real foot comfort.

Simply go to your druggist and get some Ice Mint. Use it for one day and see if this isn't the greatest little package of foot joy you ever saw.

Ice Mint prevents foot odors, keeps the feet cool and comfortable, relieves the stinging pain of corns and callouses and every person who has to walk or stand very much, surely will appreciate how good it makes the feet feel. Try it just once and give your poor, tired, aching feet the treat of their lives.

You will like the way Ice Mint works and the cooling comfort it brings to your feet; even a new pair of shoes won't bother you. Just one day's use will prove it.

Little Sisters of the Poor of the State of Pennsylvania to Cora Cox, Union twp. $800.

After hearing the controversy between George Reese and John Cansileer of Ellwood City, the jury in the case decided to find Reese not guilty and divide the costs equally between them. The case was one of assault and battery brought against Reese, Cansileer claiming that Reese tapped him on the jaw hard enough to break his jaw last Christmas Eve.

The fight was in a beer garden in Ellwood City and apparently the jury thought it was just a little of the Christmas spirit or something.

In number one court room today Judge James A. Chambers listened to the case of the commonwealth against Arthur Massaro, of 1137 East Brook street. Massaro has a beer license and B. R. Lyle, an agent of the Liquor Control Board, found a pint of liquor in one bottle and one inch in another. This is against the liquor laws and Massaro was tried for possession of liquor on a beer license premises.

Agents of the Liquor Control Board have been around the court house all week and the rules of the business have been under discussion. A non-member cannot buy a drink in a club, but a member can treat the guest. The guest is not permitted to give the member money to buy a drink in turn, but that's something else again. Beer or liquor cannot be sold on credit. You can get a set of furniture, an automobile, a refrigerator or a set of dishes on credit, but not a drink.

All the telephones on the southwest side of the court house were out of order Thursday morning. A cable box had gotten wet, shorting something or other and the telephones were on a vacation in the registration office, the register and recorder's office, the prothonotary's office, the sheriff's office and the law library.

Because of the parade of pleas, there will be no criminal court next week. The sentence court will be a dilly as there are over a score of pleas in, plus what convictions will be had.

P. & L. E. Agents' Host Enjoys Field Club Frolic

With Old Sol doing a welcome comeback and with a crowd of more than 100 out to share the fellowship, members of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad Agents Association and their guests staged one of their most successful outings at the New Castle Field Club Thursday afternoon and evening.

Skies cleared in the afternoon to afford the road's ticket and freight agents and their official guests from Pittsburgh opportunity to compete on the links for prizes which had been offered for the occasion.

The railroad host reached New Castle early in the afternoon, played golf, enjoyed a delicious dinner at 5:30 and then left for home cities early in the evening. There was no formal program at the dinner.

Bickett Day's Chairman

With Milton A. Bickett, P. & L. E. freight agent here, as general chairman for the day, committees serving under him provided for the party one of the most entertaining get-togethers the agents have enjoyed.

A party of officials came from Pittsburgh to spend the afternoon and evening at the Field club.

In the afternoon's golfing the honors fell to C. J. Lundeen, McKees Rocks, who shot an 83. At the dinner session he was formally presented with two handsome trophies, one representing the championship of this year's matches and the other representing the championship of the past three annual golf tournaments. Winning the Pugh cup for low gross yesterday for the third consecutive year, Lundeen took permanent possession of it.

The dinner program, short and brief, was presided over by J. E. Carpenter, agent of the P. & L. E. at Monaca and president of the agent's organization. Sitting with him at the guest table were the officials who came from Pittsburgh.

Officials In Attendance

Here as special guests from Pittsburgh were James L. O'Toole, assistant to the general manager of the P. & L. E., M. E. Green, secretary to the vice president and vice president of the agents association; R. P. Forsberg, chief engineer of the road; James S. McKibbin, treasurer of the P. & L. E., J. P. Kelly assistant superintendent; E. E. Smith, general passenger agent; Frank T. Sladden, general freight agent; George C. Burnett, assistant chief engineer; George Joy, chief clerk to the purchasing agent; Frank Paisley, engineer, maintenance-of-way, and R. B. Hanna, chief clerk to the superintendent and the immediate past president of the association.

Other guests introduced with the Pittsburghers, were F. H. Meahl, Youngstown, division freight agent of the P. & L. E. in that city; G. B. Mosier, Pittsburgh, trainmaster of the P. C. & Y. railroad; Albert B. Street and Robert M. Garland, New Castle president and vice president, respectively, of the New Castle Field club; Major Guy J. Wadlinger, New Castle, representing the Kansas City Southern railroad; S. Huston Rhoads, New Castle freight agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and W. A. Stone, retired New Castle freight agent.

Many Prizes Given

A handsome door prize was won by Mr. Street, head of the Field club, and the best golfers of the day were awarded cups, bags, or golf balls.

During the dinner an Ellwood City orchestra played. Pep singing was led by Charles Dindinger, agent at Braddock.

Assisting General Chairman Bickett in handling the day's arrangements were a group of committees headed by association members from different sections of the road. George W. Hamilton, ticket agent here, was chairman of the transportation committee.

Sheriff Denies Murray's Charges

Elser Sends Message To Senate Probers In Washington, On Deputies

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 18—A sharp denial that "thugs" in the possession of machine guns have been hired as special deputies in the Ohio steel strike area was placed before the post office committee today by Ralph Elser, sheriff of Mahoning county, Ohio.

In a telegram from Youngstown denying what he called "vile assertions" by Philip Murray, chairman of the steel workers commitee, Elser offered to testify before the committee. He told the committee investigating labor warfare in the strike areas:

"Astonished at Philip Murray's charges and vile assertions about the conduct of my office, I ask you to read and enter in the record of the senate post office committee my unqualified denial that any of my special deputies sworn in by me to maintain law and order are thugs, domestic or imported. They are without exception long time residents and mostly taxpayers of Mahoning county. They are not paid by Republic Steel corporation or any other corporations but receive their compensation from the treasury of Mahoning county. I further deny that there are any machine guns at my disposal. I will be more than glad to appear before the committee at your convenience and submit my records the committee wishes to see. Respectfully yours, Ralph E. Elser."

The telegram was entered in the records by Senator Bridges (R) of New Hampshire, whose charges of interference with mail in the troubled sections led to the investigation.

Program Committee For Garden Forum

Programs for Garden Forum meetings the coming year will be planned by a committee consisting of Mrs. C. R. Brenner, Mrs. Allan Ingals and Mrs. George Horchler. Other committees will be named later.

They were appointed at this week's meeting in the North Street school over which Mrs. William Howley presided as the new president. Other business transacted at the meeting concerned a letter on red bud trees, written by Frank C. Pellet, editor of Ameican Bee Journel. He stated that red bud trees are not injurious to bees, but instead, are beneficial.

Four varieties of roses were displayed from the garden of J. W. Anderson. Mrs. W. C. Eckenroad presented Japanese peonies grown from seed.

An invitation to visit the W. W. Howe farm, near Cooks Forest, during the first week in July, to see the rhododendrons while in bloom, was extended to all members of the Forum by Mrs. Eckenroad.

Next meeitng is dated for July 12, in the North Street school.

School Reunion Officers Named

Here are the new officers for the Martin Gantz school reunion as named Thursday night at a meeting of the nominating committee and last year's officers in Charles Mayne's office on South Beaver street:

President, Herb D. McGoun; first vice president, W. S. Rice; second vice president, Harry C. Urmson; secretary, Mrs. Jennie Rearic; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Katherine Kilbreath; and treasurer, Frank Nessle.

Plans will be started soon for the annual reunion.

Fall Jubilee Plans Of Elks Discussed

Discussion of plans for the 50th anniversary observance of the New Castle Lodge of Elks on September 16 took place this week when members of the golden jubilee's booster committee, headed by Harry M. Alexander, met. Past exalted rulers are members of the committee.

Members of the jubilee's steering committee will meet to further its plans on Tuesday evening, June 22. John D. Hite is heading that group.

THE "GOOD NEIGHBOR"

Jones leaned over the garden fence and beckoned to his neighbor.

"I say, old man," he said, "I understand that you have Brown's rake."

The neighbor nodded.

"Good," said Jones. "If you'll let me borrow that occasionally I'll let you use his garden roller whenever you want it."

ATTENTION!

here comes the "Sanitary Squad"

IN lightening housework and helping make homes hygienically clean, Clorox performs the service of an energetic "sanitary squad." In every home there are places where germs lurk and thrive, a menace to health. These "danger zones" should be regularly cleansed with an efficient disinfectant—Clorox. For Clorox cleanliness is the type of cleanliness that health authorities recommend.

This microscopic view of germs commonly found on mediumly soiled towels, on wash basins and other "danger zones" indicates the need for disinfected cleansing. Clorox is outstanding among those disinfectants which scientists proclaim best suited and safest for household use.

Germ-laden white cottons and linens spread infection. Clorox in the regular laundering process makes them snowy-white, sanitary. Clorox also deodorizes, disinfects and removes numerous stubborn stains—even scorch, mildew—from white and color-fast cottons and linens.

Clorox in your regular cleansing disinfects, deodorizes and removes numerous stains from refrigerators, glassware, dishes, dish cloths, drainboards, sinks, garbage receptacles, wash basins, toilet bowls, bathtubs, tile, enamel, linoleum, sickroom utensils. A Clorox-Clean home is a safer place to live in!

Follow directions on the Clorox label as a guide to easier and safer housekeeping in laundry, kitchen and bathroom. It also lists many important personal uses. Clorox is always uniform in quality . . . concentrated for economy. There is only one Clorox . . . order by name.

Ticket Sale For Reunion Started

Alumni Members Can Now Secure Tickets For Annual Gathering Next Week

EXPECT RECORD CROWD TO ATTEND

With the annual reunion of the New Castle High School Alumni association only a week away, tickets have been placed on sale at convenient locations throughout the city, where tickets for the dinner and program may be secured, and where the alumni members can register.

Assurances have been received from a number of outstanding alumni of the school that they will be here for the gathering next week, and one of the largest attendances in recent years is expected to result.

The program includes dinner in the dining room of the Cathedral where the members will gather at 6:30, followed by a program in the auditorium and dancing during the balance of the evening.

For the comfort and convenience of older members of the association, who do not care to dance, comfortable chairs will be placed about the entrances to the ball room on the dining room side.

Locations of the ticket booths are as follows:

Services Are Well Attended

Many Persons Hear Visiting Speaker John Carrara Nightly At Tabernacle

The all summer Bible conference now in progress at the Calvary Gospel tabernacle on the East Side is steadily gaining new local and out-of-town friends, who are enjoying the able speakers being presented.

Thursday evening many from Butler, New Brighton, Ellwood City, Castlewood, New Wilmington and othed places were present and enjoyed a spirited message by John Carrara, visiting speaker. His subject was "Why Many Men Are Not Christians".

Special music at the service on Thursday evening included selections by the Croton M. E. choir and a trio from the Christian and Missionary Alliance church.

Another large service is planned for tonight and John Carrara will again be the speaker.

A picnic will be held at Memorial park, Grove City, Saturday afternoon and evening for the tabernacle's friends. Mr. Carrara will speak at the campfire service at 8 o'clock in the park.

Dr. C. N. Moore To Speak At Moravia

Dr. Charles N. Moore, of Park avenue, New Castle, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning at the Moravia Presbyterian church, the pastor, Rev. T. C. Henderson, announced today. The service will be anticipated with interest by the members and many friends of the church.

Moravia church has recently undergone a number of improvements, among them the laying of a new carpet on the platform.

Communion will be observed on the last Sunday in June, Rev. Henderson says.

STORE ENTERED

Police have received a report that the Craig store in Arlington avenue was entered by unknown parties on Wednesday night. The police are searching for the miscreants.

Girl Reveals Child-Marriage

Will Tell About Marriage To Navy Department, Second Husband Was Dismissed

SAYS CEREMONY WAS NOT LEGAL

(International News Service)

BALTIMORE, June 18.—Mrs. Charles A. Nash, Jr., whose ensign-husband was dismissed from the navy because of their secret marriage when he was a midshipman, startled her friends today by revealing their marriage was not legal because she already was legally married to another man.

Her statement surprised her acquaintances because only Wednesday she announced here that she did not love Nash, never did and never would, and that she was going to Kalamazoo, Mich., to institute proceedings for an annulment or a divorce. Now she announced she has dropped such plans.

Dismissed From Navy

Nash's dismissal from the navy department was announced Tuesday after his bride of ten months reported their marriage to the naval authorities. She did this, she said, when her husband left her for his parents' home at Saginaw, Mich.

The bride was the former Beulah Kathleen Woolard, daughter of C. M. Woolard, of Norfolk, Va., and Mrs. Marguerite Barry, of New York and London, Eng.

While admitting that Nash "talked" her into marrying him at South Mills, S. C., last August, the pretty bride now denies that she never loved him.

Married When 15

"I loved him then and I love him now," she wrote in a signed statement. ". . . I am not legally married to Chuck (Nash's nickname) because on July 23, 1934, I eloped to Glenville, Ga., with Oren Anderson, the son of Mrs. Sarah Fennall, of Glenville. Oren was then in his last year at Georgia Tech: I was 15 years. Then I was a student at St. Mary's Academy."

She said she intended to keep her child-marriage a life secret but was revealing it now to help to persuade the navy department to reinstate Nash to his ensign's rank. She intends to go to Washington to personally appeal for Nash's reinstatement.

Never Lived Together

Mrs. Nash said her marriage to Anderson was performed by Justice of the Peace Charles Rushin and the witnesses were Freddie Kickladder, Oren's classmate, and Aubrey Hollman, Oren's cousin.

She said she left Glenville the next day and returned to her mother's home in New York.

"Oren and I never lived together as man and wife," she said, explaining she saw him only once after their marriage and that was in the Central Georgia hospital in Savannah in September, 1934. He had been hurt in a motor accident.

Margiotti Balked By Court Ruling

Fails In Attempt To Bring Reilly Back To Stand For Further Grilling

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 18.—Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti failed today in his attempt to put District Attorney James A. Reilly of Fayette county, back on the witness stand for further cross-examination at his trial on a murder charge.

Margiotti sought to call the young, handsome prosecutor, accused of directing the "third degree" questioning that killed Frank C. Monaghan, 64, as a rebutal witness but Judge William H. McNaugher ruled Reilly's testimony was part of the commonwealth case in chief and hence he could not be called for rebuttal.

Wade K. Newell, Reilly's predecessor and now a member of Margiotti's staff, denied he was Reilly's political enemy and that he insisted Coroner S. A. Baltz to perform an autopsy of Monaghan's body because of political rivalry. He said he insisted upon the autopsy because of Monaghan's family.

STEEL STRIKER FILES SUIT FOR $50,000 DAMAGES

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 18.—A suit asking $50,000 damages for injuries allegedly received in the Memorial Day steel strike riot was on file today in circuit court, naming Police Commissioner James Allman, Supervising Captain James Mooney and Captain Thomas Kilroy. Frank Skultety, 22, striking Republic Steel company worker who claims he was shot in the abdomen, filed the suit.

King George has proved his courage, having talked with the Archbishop of Canterbury without a tremor.

Chicago Riot Being Probed

Senate Committee Turns Attention To South Chicago Situation

FILM OF RIOT IS CHIEF FACTOR

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The senate post office committee started today to investigate all phases of the steel strike, turning first to the Memorial Day riot at South Chicago.

It clashed with the senate civil liberties committee which has been investigating labor warfare since last year, when its chairman, Senator LaFollette (P) of Wisconsin, refused to turn over a motion picture of the riot that took nine lives and left scores wounded.

LaFollette said the film was being used in Chicago by committee investigators in an attempt to identify the rioters. He also said it was the property of the Paramount company.

Film Important Factor.

The film became an important factor in the post office committee's investigation when Philip Murray, chairman of the steel organizing committee, testified it portrayed "Chicago police as aggressors in the riot".

The committee will request a copy of the film from the Paramount company for a secret showing. It will also attempt to obtain another film version of the riot said to have been taken by a Chicago minister and alleged to have been confiscated by the Chicago police department.

Meanwhile, the committee subpoenaed Chicago police and city officials, who witnessed the battle, in addition to members of the committee for industrial organization, and individual union and non-union workers.

The committee will call Capt. James L. Mooney of the Chicago police; his assistant, Thomas Kilroy, and States Attorney Thomas J. Courtney. Chairman McKellar (D) of Tennessee said he will also summon officials of the Republic Steel Corp., for "a first-hand story" of the events leading up to the riot.

Taylor Ready To Quit Post

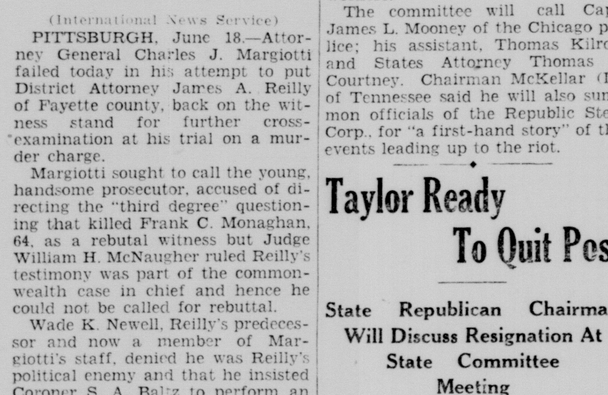

State Republican Chairman Will Discuss Resignation At State Committee Meeting

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, June 18—Republican circles were stirred today by reports that state chairman M. Harvey Taylor soon will resign.

Although lacking in confirmation and belittled by Taylor's lieutenants, the reports claim the Harrisburg plans to discuss his resignation at a meeting of the GOP state committee to be called within six weeks. Another report claimed Taylor would continue as chairman because other leaders would be unable to agree on a successor.

Mentioned for the post in the event of a vacancy are former public service commissioner P. Stephen Stahlnecker, a Boyd Hamilton, secretary of the state senate when it was controlled by the GOP, and Walter Kress, of Johnstown, former Gov. Gifford Pinchot is supporting Strahlnecker for the chairmanship, according to political circles.

Plan Picnic At Missionary Meet

Queen Esther Society Meets On Thursday Evening At Hillcrest Avenue Home

Miss Martha Louise Mauck was hostess to members of the Queen Esther society of the Mahoning M. E. church Thursday evening as they gathered at her home on Hillcrest avenue for their monthly meeting.

During the business session the following officers were elected to serve for the new year:

President—Harriet Leighty.

Vice president—Mary Louise Jolley.

Secretary—June Wilson.

Treasurer—Patricia Ann Taylor.

Plans were made for a picnic to be held at Cascade park on July 27 and the following committee was appointed to take charge of arrangements: June Wilson, Mary Louise Jolley, Ruth King and Harriet Leighty.

The remaining hours of the evening were spent informally, Mary Louise Jolley being the winner of the award in the contests, after which the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. O. C. Mauck, served a delicious lunch.

METHODIST PICNIC

In case of rain the annual Sunday school picnic of the Mahoning M. E. church will be held at the church this evening instead of at Cascade park. Dinner will be served at 6 o'clock.

W. A. G. Members Are Entertained

Members of the W. A. G. club spent a delightful evening Thursday when they gathered at the home of Mrs. W. H. Mauermann, East Clayton street, for their monthly meeting.

Cards formed the pastime, three tables being in play throughout. Mrs. Percy Walls and Mrs. H. E. Alexander were special guests.

Later the small tables were rearranged and a tempting repast was served by the hostess. Bowls of pink rose buds made attractive centerpieces for the tables.

At the close of the evening plans were made for a breakfast to be held at Cascade Park and the following committee was appointed to make arrangements: Mrs. H. S. Sherman, Mrs. Rose Thompson and Mrs. Charles Thompson.

Auxiliary Members Meet On Thursday

On Thursday afternoon members of the O. R. C. auxiliary gathered at the home of Mrs. Harry Falk, West Madison avenue, for a social meeting.

The hours were spent informally, the hostess serving a delicious lunch later.

CHURCH SOCIAL

On Thursday evening, members of the W. W. U. class of the Presbyterian church held a social at the church.

Long tables were attractively arranged in the dining room of the church baskets of roses forming colorful centerpieces. The general committee in charge of the festival included, Ruth Glenn, Ruth Schnebly, George Horchler, Mildred Broaddus, Kenneth Evans, Jean Hamilton and Betty Alexander. Pauline Humphrey and Peggy Wallace were on the candy committee, and the teacher of class, Mrs. W. F. McClurg, aided by Mrs. F. W. Hamilton, Mrs. Manly Broaddus and Mrs. Harold Swisher assisted throughout the evening.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Neurissa Thompson of Eighth street is visiting with relatives in Midland, Pa.

Mary Lou Krause, North Liberty street, has returned to her home from the New Castle hospital.

Mrs. D. C. Schnebly, of Newell avenue, and Beulah Longacre, of Cherry Tree, Pa., are visiting at Chautauqua.

Mrs. Hotchkiss of Greenville, Pa., is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. S. Gillespie on West Clayton street.

Mrs. W. E. Horner, of West Madison avenue, has returned home from Warren, O., where she has been visiting with relatives.

Rev. J. C. Pickens, of Youngstown, has returned to his home after visiting for the past few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Dungan on Newell avenue. On Thursday Rev. Pickens attended the Moravia church reunion, where he was one of the speakers on the program.

Says Insurgents Will Win War In Spain Finally

Former United States Army Officer Now In Spain Writes Special Story

Says Rebels Have Too Many Planes For Loyalists, Food Also Is Big Factor

EDITOR'S NOTE Lieutenant Colonel Wickliffe Draper, formerly of the United States Army Intelligence staff, today predicts that the Spanish insurgents will have the entire northern section of the country under control by August owing to their aerial superiority. As a special correspondent of International News Service, he was permitted to attach himself to the rebel army before Bilbao as observer. From the viewpoint of an American officer, he dramatically explains why he thinks the civil war will be "about over" following the conquest of the north.)

By LIEUT.-COL. WICKLIFFE DRAPER
International News Service Staff Correspondent
(Copyright 1937)

PARIS, June 18.—I predict the fall of Bilbao in June, collapse of Santander in July and Subjugation by the insurgents of all northern Spain by August.

Then the Nationalist objectives will be Teruel and Valencia.

With the north conquered, and a way cut through to Valencia, it will be about over. I am convinced planes are the most important military factor in the war, and from my observations the insurgents are stronger than the loyalists in the air.

Too Many Planes

Planes and food are accounting for the Basques' defeats. I talked with three truck loads of Basque prisoners, on the heights east of Bilbao during the rebel advance Saturday, and they told me:

"Bombs and food beat us."

The prisoners said they had been in one position eight months and were dissatisfied with their officers. They possessed no knowledge of events elsewhere. They had not eaten for two days and were thoroughly disspirited.

Their rebel captors shared their rations with the prisoners.

I saw everywhere the same story. They had not eaten from one to three days and they were unnerved by the insurgent planes.

Actually the insurgent planes have greater value as demoralizers rather than as destroyers. And, incidentally, I believe the Basque towns of Guernica and Amorbieta were destroyed by dynamite rather than by bombs and shells.

Walls Standing

I visited Amorbieta and noted the walls of buildings were standing, though their interiors were blasted. I am convinced this was the work of retreating Basque dynamiters, and I believe Guernica was similarly destroyed.

The so-called "iron ring" of defenses around Bilbao was a pitiful sight to the eyes of a modern military man. It is a series of long trenches fashioned in the "Chinese wall system" of defense in the style of the Boer and early World war entrenchments.

The trenches were not distributed as demanded by modern tactics. Furthermore, they are not revetted and are shallow and not camouflaged.

Planes Do Damage

I noted the white dirt was a perfect target for German artillery officers. I saw and heard surprisingly little automatic fire from either side, especially from the Basques, during my tours of the front lines.

But I witnessed repeatedly successful Nationalist tactics in driving at weak points in the loyalist line. The insurgent planes diagnosed these weak points inexorably, then emptied the trenches.

I found the loyalist casualties running over 10 percent, illustrating the bravery of untrained Basque troops. And I found the Basques had abandoned considerable ammunition. There were rifles everywhere, mostly the war-type Mauser, Czechoslovakian and Polish rifles, along with Russian machine guns and bullets. I also found one unfired American one-pound gun.

Many Italians

Most of the insurgent infantry is Spanish, but I saw Italians in all branches and German officers, men and planes and some artillery. But the Germans were only acting in advisory capacities in the other branches.

Strangely enough, the name of the outfit I was with was the second battalion of the "American Regiment." The name is not new. It is a proud and historic Spanish regiment.

North Beaver

Mrs. Wendal Duff, who has been away as a missionary with her sons, are home and are making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Will Duff.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Shultz, of Warren O., spent Sunday visiting with friends here.

Mrs. Russel McNeice and son, of Slippery Rock, spent a day last week at the home of Louemma St. Clair.

Grace Wallace, who is employed in Cleveland, O., is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Wallace.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dixon and children, of Struthers, O., spent Sunday with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Douglas.

Miss Estella Harman attended a birthday party Tuesday in honor of Shirley Kelly, of Bessemer, Pa.

Many friends and relatives of this community attended the funeral services of D. M. Marshall, of Wampum, Tuesday afternoon.

A number of folks from here motored to Moravia Thursday and attended Home-Coming Day. A very good program was given and all enjoyed a good time.

The annual McAnlis school reunion will be held at the McAnlis school house Friday, June 25.

Mrs. Henry Kenst and sons of Bessemer; Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, of Pittsburgh, called on Mrs. Robert Harmon Monday.

Mercer-Grove City Road Open Soon

MERCER, Pa., June 18—Work of pouring concrete on the Mercer-Grove City road was completed on Tuesday afternoon and the road will be opened sometime next week.

Work on the road was started early last fall to complete an unpaved stretch of about two and three quarter miles. From the start, the contractors met with difficulties, causing repeated delays. The weather broke early in the fall causing a shutdown until spring. In April, work was resumed, and since that time delays have been numerous due to wet weather.

Bulgarian Lamb Skins Used To Make Gas Masks

(International News Service)

SOFIA, Bulgaria—Five million gas masks a year are manufactured out of Bulgarian lamb skins which have been found to be the best material in the world.

Consequently there has been a boom in Bulgarian shepherd and butcher circles. The demand for Bulgarian lamb skins during the second half of 1936 was such that the price of shoes in Bulgaria went up, lamb skins being used hitherto in Bulgaria for shoe lining. A good lamb now costs two and a half dollars instead of one dollar. The price of the skins has doubled or trebled.

Skins became a speculative article and changed hands on the basis of more up-to-date quotations from war industry centres.

Newport Church Marks 35th Year

Methodist Congregation Plans Anniversary Services On Sunday

Members and friends of the Newport Methodist Episcopal church at Newport will join together on Sunday, June 20, for special religious services marking the 35th anniversary of the founding of the congregation. The church has been renovated for the occasion.

Final plans for the significant observance were announced today. The Rev. L. V. Mohnkern, pastor of the church, will preside over the day-long re-dedication ceremonies.

The Methodist church was founded June 29, 1902, through the untiring efforts of Rev. Baldwin and his wife.

Sunday school services will take place at 1:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, according to plans announced today. At 2:30, the Rev. Ernest M. Fradenburgh, pastor of the East Brook M. E. church and well known throughout the Wampum district, will preach. At that service Mrs. Iva McBride and Guy Davis will contribute special musical numbers.

The evening worship service opens at 7:30 with the Rev. Ira Scott, a former Newport M. E. pastor, as the preacher. Mrs. Nell McChesney will also speak at that time, with special musical numbers planned by Mrs. Nellie Mielke, Miss Pearl Truby, Mrs. Iva McBride and Harry and Glen Boyer.

Former district residents are expected to return for the Sunday services.

OPEN BIDS FOR NEW BUILDING

Contract For Structure To Replace St. Cloud Building To Be Announced Soon

Bids for the construction of a new building, which will replace the St. Cloud building, owned by Graham heirs and Harlans, which was destroyed by fire March 31, were opened yesterday here. Announcement of the award of the contract is expected to be made within the next few days.

The new building will be occupied in its entirety by the G. C. Murphy company and will be built to their specifications by the owners, it is stated.

Double-Edged Decision Given At Youngstown

Judge Jenkins Says Mayor Empowered To Hire Special Police

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 18.—In a double-edged decision both for and against the United Labor Congress, Common Pleas Court Judge David G. Jenkins today ruled that Mayor Lionel Evans was empowered to swear in and arm as many special officers as he choose while the steel strike crisis exists.

Judge Jenkins first upheld the Labor Congress' contention by granting a permanent injunction which nullified city council's action which gave Mayor Evans the emergency powers but immediately afterwards ruled that the state law authorizes the mayor to take such action independent of city council. He added that in his opinion, "an emergency does exist."

The Labor Congress, an A. F. of L. unit, and rival of the CIO which is sponsoring the strike, contended no emergency existed.

The ruling was handed down as Sheriff Ralph E. Elser requested all parties in the strike which has tied up plants of Republic Steel Corporation and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company to maintain a peaceful "status quo" along the 25-mile strike front.

Parsons Plans New Appeal

Will Make New Request For Contact With Kidnapers Of Wife

WOMAN MISSING FOR 9 DAYS NOW

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 18.—William H. Parsons, whose social registerite wife has been missing from their Stony Brook, L. I., estate for nine days, was today reported as preparing a third appeal to the persons believed to have kidnaped her for $25,000 ransom.

Mystery concerning the 38-year-old society matron's fate deepened today, with no clue other than the ransom note found in her automobile several hours after she was last seen on Wednesday morning last week.

Federal agents, in charge of the investigation under a clause of the "Lindbergh law", continued in their belief that Mrs. Parsons was the victim of a bona fide kidnaping. State police were more inclined to their theories she was either murdered or disappeared voluntarily. Local authorities, convinced she was slain, prepared to make a fourth day's search of the woods and underbrush in the vicinity of the estate on which the Parsons raised squabs and pigeons.

Charge Mails Are Censored

Warren And Niles Officials Are Accused In Testimony At Washington

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Post Office officials at Niles and Warren, O., were accused of censoring the mails to workers inside strike-bound steel plants today by representatives of the Republic Steel Co. Their charges were made as the senate post office committee began investigation of alleged interference with the mails lodged with the committee by Senator Bridges (R) New Hampshire.

Lewis J. Guarniori, attorney for the steel company, cited in detail unsuccessful attempts to mail four packages to officials of the steel company's plants at Warren and Niles, after the company had received complaints that wives of workers had been refused the privilege of mailing their husbands packages of food, clothing and medicine.

The committee suddenly turned from investigation of general labor warfare in the strike at the insistance of Bridges, whose original resolution to investigate the alleged interference with the mails led to the broad inquiry of all phases of the steel strike.

Trotskyists Under Arrest

(International News Service)

VALENCIA, June 18.—Principal leaders of the "Poum", Trotskyist section of the Communist party, were arrested by police today following death of 18 persons in an explosion aboard the Spanish government battleship Jaime I. More than 100 were injured.

Schwab Visits Summer Home At Loretto, Penna.

(International News Service)

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., June 18.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel corporation, today returned to his summer estate, Immergrun, at Loretto, near the strike-bound Bethlehem plants here.

"I would prefer not to comment on the situation at this time," said Schwab, who spent a month in Germany for his health.

It was known here that the 75-year-old steel magnate had no intention of visiting Johnstown at this time and will likely remain at his home in Loretto for some time.

Mayor Daniel J. Shields announced, however, he will confer with Schwab and officials of the steel company today.

Organizing Effort At Bethlehem, Pa.

(International News Service)

BETHLEHEM, Pa., June 18.—Bethlehem Steel Corporation and the steel workers organizing committee were centending today for support of the plant's 12,000 workers in this city.

SWOC officials declared the company has moved a half dozen Pullman cars and four carloads of food supplies into the plant in preparation for and as a precaution in case of a sudden walkout.

Nightly the steel workers belonging to the union have sought to recruit members, beginning at 11 p. m. when shifts change, in front of the plant's main gate. Employes are exhorted to join the Bethlehem local of the SWOC John G. Ramsey, head of the Bethlehem lodge of the SWOC, is directing the steel worker's campaign.

Laughton Declares He Did Not Evade Taxes Knowingly

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 18.—Affirming that he had "never knowingly" evaded American taxes, Charles Laughton, the famous English character actor, hinted today that he may never again appear in an American-made film.

Informed that he was among the wealthy alleged tax dodgers named in the Washington congressional investigation, Laughton said:

"That matter is entirely in the hands of my lawyers. They handle my taxes.

"Naturally, I have never knowingly done anything to evade American taxes.

"In any case, the fact that I am obliged to pay taxes in both America and England when I work in the United States make it virtually prohibitive for me to work there any more."

Weizel New Manager Of Goodrich Stores

Forest G. Weizel, well known to the automobile public in the New Castle district, today was named the new manager of Goodrich Silvertown Stores, 30 South Jefferson street. Mr. Weizel, who lives at 1214 Highland avenue, has been the company's operating manager for several years.

Records Show About 261 Cases This Year

Approximately 261 cases of contagion have been reported here this year according to a study of city health bureau records. Some years ago, the record was larger than this. At present there is not much contagion here, the patients listed as having contagion during the past few days being as follows:

Elizabeth Harper, 433 Court St., measles.

Donald Grimes, 9, 708 East Lutton street, scarlet fever.

Norman Williams, 11, 507 Court street, scarlet fever.

Donald Calderwood, 2, 933 Winslow avenue, whooping cough.

Betty Welsh, 7, 717 South Ray St., scarlet fever.

Bobby Welsh, 4, 717 South Ray street, scarlet fever.

Evell Walls, 11, 1619 Thorpe St., scarlet fever.

Jean Huckles, 7, 713 Allen street, measles.

Some Tangle We Would Say

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 18—Dr. J. G. Dusser De Barenne's new sister-in-law is his daughter—but that's only one of the complications which today followed the marriage of Charlotte Dusser De Barenne and D. Crosby Greene, Jr

The Yale professor married Greene's sister a short time ago and as the situation now stands, Mrs. Dusser De Barenne is her brother's step-mother in law and her stepdaughter's sister-in-law.

Green becomes his brother-in-law's step son. And as if that wasn't complicated enough, the new Mrs. Green is younger than her step mother-in-law.

Sunday Topic Given By Head Of Mission

Superintendent Archie W. Gibson will speak on the topic, "Three Great Things," at the 3 o'clock Sunday school session at the City Rescue Mission on Sunday, June 20, it is announced.

Tickets for the mission's Sunday school picnic on June 23.

REAR-END COLLISION

Kenneth Moore, 1811 East Washington street, reported to police last night that his car at 10 p. m. driven east on East Washington street struck the rear of a Green Taxicab which stopped suddenly, Moore reported at the P. R. R. railroad crossing.

It's got what it takes AND SO HAVE YOU!

NO OTHER CAR IN THE WORLD HAS ALL THESE FEATURES
★ VALVE-IN-HEAD STRAIGHT-EIGHT ENGINE ★ ANO-LITE PISTONS ★ AEROBAT CARBURETOR ★ SEALED CHASSIS ★ TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE ★ UNISTEEL BODY BY FISHER ★ TIPTOE HYDRAULIC BRAKES ★ KNEE-ACTION COMFORT AND SAFETY ★ "HIGH OUTPUT" GENERATOR ★ JUMBO LUGGAGE COMPARTMENTS ★ DOUBLE STABILIZATION ★ SAFETY GLASS

YOU'VE got hold of a thrilling man-size bundle of get-up-and-travel when you lay hands on the wheel of this sleek, swift, solid car.

You've got the power to do what you will when you press the treadle that bosses this Buick's silk-smooth valve-in-head straight-eight engine.

You've a car that sheds punishment like a mallard sheds rain, so sound and stout and husky is this sturdy traveler from its rugged backbone up.

You've certain-sure brakes to keep you out of trouble—lullaby springs and cushions to cradle you in comfort—a body that's steel fused with steel for safe security—yes, you've all a man can ask in a car and more.

But you make a sad and sorry error if you hold back because this brilliant Buick looks too rich for your budget.

The fact is, this great-powered eight, smooth and steady and ready to thrill, actually costs less than some cars with two fewer cylinders! You've got what it takes to own one—why be satisfied with less?

AL SMITH TOURS PARIS TOO LATE

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 18.—Thoughts while strolling: Swell autobiography title—Burton Rascoe's "Before I Forget." Al Smith made a big mistake in seeing Paris after 50. Paris should be taken on around 21, when one is desperately in love and just a little bit broke. Paree! Paree!

Bowling comes back with—no pun intended—a bang. All the alleys jammed and new ones everywhere. Ed Wynn looks fluttery and on the verge of shrieking even off stage.

O. O. McIntyre

Marlene Dietrich as a siren is a country boy's idea of city wickedness. The Frank V. Storrs's black Rolls with the snow white doors.

Those flashy Broadway haberdashers known as Marty, Eddie or Danny. Girls who try to imitate Katharine Hepburn's flat, metallic talk. When my ship comes in, I'm going to hire a light fingered Eddy Duchin to improvise on the piano while I rock on the front porch. Never see Julia Hoyt around any more.

Rhyme: Always a quorum to cheer for Bill Corum. Still leaders in the bushy eybrow sweepstakes: Messmore Kendall, Royal Copeland and Lee Olwell. Personal rating for song writers: No. 1 Jerome Kern, No. 2 Irving Berlin, No. 3 Vincent Youmans. Biggest let down in baseball build-ups: Bob Feller.

Wolcott Gibbs thinks Benay Venuta sounds like something to rub on a stiff neck. That forlorn picket who still patrols in front of "No. 21." The gagsters say to keep Heywood Broun away. For a night club number: Clifton Webb and Baron Wrangel in a twin brother hoofing number.

It is good news for Broadway sentimentalists that Gus Edward has clicked with a radio program on the coast. A program stressing his school-day vaudeville theme. His "School Days" tune is a popular song classic that has endured for 30 years. It has been well chronicled that Edward's revues cradled many stars. Such as George Jessel, Groucho Marx, Joe Laurie, Jr., Lila Lee, Eddie Buzzell, Georgie Price and Eddie Cantor. He rode the high tide until suddenly there developed a sudden shrink from sentiment and anything that suggested crinoline and old lace. And Edwards found himself no longer in the chips at an age past 60 and growing grayer. But, always the actor, he strutted the Rialto, smiled and spoke of vague annuities soon due. Many heard whispers and offered financial aid which he loftily spurned. So now again he has emerged into a little sunlight of success and the hoofers, song and dance men and the like "on the beach" in front of the Palace have taken new hope. If Gus Edwards can come back at his age—how much greater is their chance of vaulting the hurdle!

Maritime music: On a dinky Yonkers ferry as it pulls out for the Jersey side, the old accordionist valiantly plays "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." And there used to be an equally tacky sight-seeing boat that went out to the Statue of Liberty with a seedy trio playing "Over the Waves."

And chivvying up a flock of old time laughs in contrast to the more modern guffaws, I have never forgotten the titles of some of the old Keystone Comedies. There was one about a pair of aspiring and goofy authors and the movie was the enactment of their script. When things began to buzz in the act there flashed on the screen this line: "At this point the story got beyond the author's control."

Kismet: I met the poet John Drinkwater on his last visit here, at Fannie Hurst's. Conversation somehow swung around the gruesome subject of death, in which as I recall Bob Davis, Daniel Frohman and several others joined. Drinkwater said, among other things: "I think all poets should go out in their sleep." And that was how he "went out" several weeks ago.

As an ex-puddle jumper, most of the "I'll swan stuff" heard on the radio sounds as though it might be some spatted Lambs Club actors trying to play country jake. A notable exception is the drawling palaver of those Ozarklans known as Lum and Abner. All of us have heard the same intonations and pronunciations up the holler and back in the creek crotches. I'm on the fence too about Judy, Ann and Zeke Canova being the real hill billy articles. But there has never been any doubt about the Weaver Brothers and Elvira in vaudeville. They are pure, unalloyed jaspers.

There was the morning a dispirited group sat out in front of my father's hotel with the miseries. It was right after the St. Louis cyclone and there had been a drought and crops were withered. Just then a Happy Jack swung by and chirked: "I don't know what you fellers are going to do, but I'm goin' fishin.'"

300th Anniversary Of Seaport Town

(International News Service)

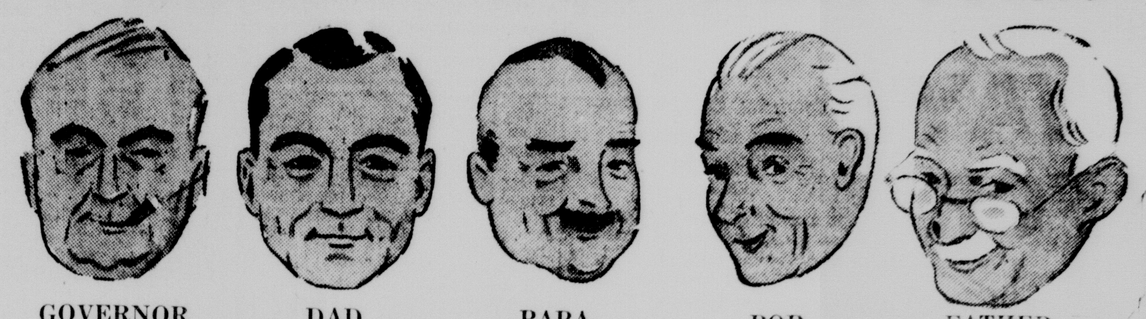

DUXBURY, Mass., June 18.—This little New England seaport, highly important in the days of the clipper ship will celebrate its 300th anniversary of incorporation as a town July 3, 4, and 5.

Seventeen nearby towns will join with Duxbury in a celebration that will portray early New England.

A few of the surviving captains of sailing ships will take part in the tercentenary program. One of the most prominent is Captain Parker Hall, famous up and down the Atlantic Coast as the "Lone Skipper," who for years sailed a one hundred thirty-six ton schooner without the aid of a crew.

They might have known Edward would stick to Wally. He never fell off his horse; he merely went down with it.

AROUND CITY HALL

Council made it plain yesterday to the Garden forum that they are in wholehearted sympathy with the organization's stand against vandalism and indicated when they passed the Alexander resolution that any one destroying flowers, shrubs or trees in city parks will be punished. The Alexander resolution offered a reward of $25.00, for information leading to the arrest and conviction of vandals.

During the discussion about vandalism at the city building Thursday Councilman Joseph D. Alexander said that only recently Owen Fox, caretaker of the parks saw a man tampering with the drinking fountain at the city building. When he approached the man fled. Fox discovered that match stems had been jammed in the fountain. Alexander reported some days ago that the drinking fountain at the Public Square was also damaged.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath stated during the vandalism discussion at the city building yesterday that not only city-owned flower beds and trees were damaged but also flower beds and trees of citizens. He said it was seldom that anyone would give essential information which would result in an arrest. He said that parents could help the situation by admonishing their offspring to protect plant life instead of ruining it.

Lodge Will Honor Memory Of Dead

Odd Fellows To Hold Memorial Service Sunday Afternoon June 20

In memory of those members who have joined the "Grand Encampment," the members of the I. O. O. F., will hold a service Sunday afternoon, June 20, in the rooms of the organization on East Washington street.

The service will be in charge of the lodge officers, opening with an invocation by W. R. Vaughn of Lodge 195. The audience will then sing "Faith of Our Fathers" and "Jesus Savior Pilot Me."

The scripture lesson will be read by W. R. Richardson, of Lodge 195. F. L. Norris, secretary of the past grands, will present the roll call of the departed and this will be followed by a tenor solo by Frank Craig, of Lodge 906.

Rebekah lodge of Ellwood City will present a Rebekah memorial and H. E. Burns, of Lodge 9, will deliver the eulogy to the departed. Mr. Craig will again sing and Rev. A. J. Nagel, of Lodge 906, will deliver an address on "Our Need." W. R. Vaughn will close the memorial service with the benediction.

Observe Sunday As Father's Day

Annual Occasion Will Elevate Head Of Household For Day At Least

Homer J. Clunk rises to a place of importance on Sunday, June 20. He becomes a man singled out for individual honor, a man about whom uncounted blurbists will become lyrical, a man who has proven his right to the title of "Citizen and Taxpayer."

Yes, sir, Sunday is going to be a great day for Homer J. Clunk. For Sunday is Fathers' Day and Homer J. Clunk is a father.

As he walks down the street on Sunday morning with a boutonniere on his coat, smoking an especially fragrant Havana cigar which the family gave him, the world is going to seem like a rather comfortable place in which to live after all.

The minister will laud him in his sermon, he will get the first cut at the roast, well maybe, he might even be permitted to see the Sunday paper before mother tears it limb from limb looking at advertisements of porch furniture.

Ah, yes, my friends, Sunday is the day. Father's Day. The one day in the year when the old man gets something near an even break.

The history of Father's Day is clouded with the antiquity of the years, but it came upon us as an aftermath of the war.

House Vote Bans Parking Meters

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The house refused today to approve parking meters in the capital.

"It's the cheapest way to trim visitors out of dimes," stormed Representative O'Malley, Democrat, of Wisconsin. "Think of the headaches you members will have if you put these meters in and your constituents come here and get tickets for parking longer than the meters allow."

THIS STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA

PRIMEVAL FOREST

Do you know that a typical primeval forest is located in Huntingdon county?

It is Detweiler Run, a state forest monument, situated north of Greenwood Furnace. To reach this interesting spot from route 322 at Reedsville one follows route 76 to Belleville and then route 305 to Greenwood Furnace. Another way is to leave State College on route 45 and follow route 545 from Pine Grove Mills to McAlveys Fort and from there east on route 305.

Here one finds dense undergrowth of conifers, rhododendrons and hardwoods; white pines and hemlocks. It was here that the wolves in Pennslyvania made their last stand.

THE NEWS, ONE YEAR, BY MAIL, $5.00

Rate 52 In New Castle As Worth Over $100,000

(Special To The News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—First in line for inspection by federal revenue agents, when the government gets around to New Castle in its drive against tax dodgers, will be the income tax returns of 52 New Castle resident whose net worth each exceeds $100,000.

Returns of each person in this financial class will be carefully scrutinized, according to the internal revenue bureau. This doesn't mean the bureau expects to find a larger proportion of tax dodgers in this this class than among taxpayers in the lower income brackets, it was explained; it's just that catching one big tax dodger is worth more to the government than catching several little fellows.

Next in line for investigation by the tax sleuths, when they get to New Castle, will be 147 residents of the city who are each rated as worth between $50,000 and $100,000. The revenue bureau may not examine every return from taxpayers in this group, but will go as far as available personnel and the bureau' budget will permit.

After the taxpayers with $50,000 fortunes come 903 New Castle residents with financial ratings between $5,000 and $50,000. About one in three returns from this group will be checked, if the revenue bureau follows its usual practice.

The revenue bureau is the source for the explanation of its procedure in checking income tax returns of the different financial groups. But the bureau didn't provide the figures on the number of New Castle residents in each group. Those figures were compiled by a commercial firm which has been preparing financial listings for 40 years. The same source reports that Pennsylvania has 42,492 residents worth in excess of $50,000 and 143,756 worth between $50,000 and $50,000. Of the larger income group, 10,534 are reported worth more than $100,000. Of these 2,251 are worth more than a half million dollars, and 1,301 of them are millionaires.

BIRTHS

(Announcements to appear in this column must be signed with name and address of writer, and also give name of doctor.)

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sacchinelli, of 1521 Oak street, East Pittsburgh, announce the arrival of a daughter in the New Castle hospital, Thursday, June 17.

Would Prevent Bombing Of Open Towns In Spain

(International News Service)

LONDON, June 18.—Chiefly urging that bombardment of undefended "open" towns be avoided, the 27-power non-intervention committee today addressed a "humanitarian appeal" to both sides in the Spanish civil war

At the same time Generalissimo Francisco Franco asked Britain to accord the rebels the full rights of belligerents. Similar previous requests were rejected, and authorities believed this would meet a like fate.

AMERICA WINNING ARGENTINE TRADE

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina — The struggle for supremacy in the Argentine market between the American and British manufacturers is gradually turning in favor of the United States, it is revealed by official trade figures for the first quarter of 1937.

Argentine imports from the United States in the three months period were valued at 50,273,652 pesos ($16,800,000 at the official rate of exchange) against 38,883,725 pesos ($13,000,000) last year. This represented 16.2 per cent of Argentina's imports from all origins as compared with 13.5 per cent in the first quarter of 1936.

Imports of British goods, on the other hand, declined from 66,474,948 pesos ($22,200,000) last year to 61,516,216 pesos ($20,600,000) in the first three months of 1937. Her percentage of all imports dropped from 23.1 per cent to 18.8 per cent.

Nobody knows exactly what a Nordic is, but there is a growing suspicion that it should be kept a family secret.

United States To Match Japan On Ship Guns

If Japan Installs 18-Inch Guns On Battleships, So Will United States

(International News Service)

TOKYO, June 18.—At least two nations, the United States and Japan, today prepared to mount 16-inch or even larger guns on their new battleships as Japan's formal refusal to limit naval armaments to 14 inches was transmitted by foreign minister Koki Hirota to United States Ambassador Joseph C. Grew.

Japan's attitude to any restrictions on the size of her navy or its guns remains "unchanged," Hirota told Grew.

Meet Competition

American naval circles here said the United States would meet any competition in the calibre of guns offered by Japan, as some reports said, Japan mounts 18-inch guns, so will the United States on her two 35,000-ton battleships, keels of which will be laid next month.

Washington's request for Japanese adherence to that part of the 1935 London naval treaty limiting guns to 14 inches came as a final effort to break Japan's adamant stand. Whether Britain, France and Italy, which had already subscribed to the gun limit, will follow suit in arming their ships with mighty 16-inchers remained uncertain.

St. Mary's Picnic Meets With Success Despite Weather

Over Four Hundred Pupils From St. Mary's School Frolic At Cascade

Rain, rain, go away, come back some other day, was the song of approximately 450 boys and girls, all students at St. Mary's school, Thursday afternoon. The group was gravely concerned over the thought that the heavy rain would cancel their annual outing at Cascade Park.

Despite the rain, which let up in the early afternoon, the transportation committee provided means for the children to ride to the park, and the picnic was not cancelled.

Throughout the afternoon the park amusements, rides and concessions were enjoyed by the young group. They were the guests of their church and tickets for all of the amusements were furnished them free of charge.

The only disappointment of the day was that on the part of the sports committee. These men had planned a very lively and interesting program of games, races and the like, but the rain had so dampened the ground that the matter of sports was completely out of the question.

Many grownups, parents of the children, and members of the church, arrived at the park in the late afternoon, loaded with baskets of food for the evening meal. These grownups joined in the fun of the kiddies and had a very enjoyable outing.

John Newman was chairman of the outing and his plans worked out perfectly, helping to make the day a complete success. He was aided by the following:

Transportation committee—Bradley McGonigle and Paul Capitola.

Coffee committee — Mrs. Anna Eagan, Mrs. John Griffith, Mrs. Fred Flynn, Mrs. Roy Campbell, Mrs. Guy Wadlinger, Mrs. Thomas Donegan and Mrs. John McCoy.

The new laws will prevent "immortal and unethical" tax dodging by everybody except those supported by taxpayers.

Lewis' Message Makes Charges

Head Of C. I. O. Sends Telegram To Meeting Accusing Chicago Police

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, June 18. — Striking steel workers returned to picket lines today after an assembly of 16,000 workers heard the accusation of John L. Lewis, C.I.O. chieftain, that the nine Memorial Day riot victims "were deliberately murdered by the Chicago police department as a friendly favor to the Republic Steel corporation".

To the accompaniment of cheers and roars of approval, leaders of the committee for industrial organization last night assured their audience at the Chicago stadium that the steel strike tying up production in the plants of four independent steel companies would be won.

In a telegram explaining his inability to address the mass meeting because of "imperative circumstances", read by Van A. Bittner, regional director of the steel workers' organizing committee, Lewis declared that pictures of the Memorial Day rioting taken by the Paramount News Reel company "conclusively demonstrate that these workers were deliberately murdered" by police. His message added:

The message from the C.I.O. chieftain in Washington followed attacks on the "steel barons" and the public officials of Chicago and Johnstown, Pa., by Bittner and Lieut. Gov. Thomas Kennedy of Pennsylvania.

Complaint was made to police last night by a Pearson street resident that boys made so much noise it annoyed a person who is ill.

Canton Mayor Says Violence Must Be Ended

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., June 18.—Violence on the picket lines at the Republic Steel corporation's Canton plants will not be tolerated, Mayor James Seccombe declared today.

The statement, made at a conference with representatives of the SWOC and the A. F. of L., which presented an united front, followed the shooting of Stephen Mann, 19, a picket. He was struck in the arm by a bullet when strike sympathizers and railroad guards clashed as the first shipment of finished steel was convoyed from the Republic plant.

The union leaders advised the mayor that in the interests of industrial peace he should disband the recently formed "citizens, law and order league". If the "vigilante" organization attempts to invade the picket lines, more than 40,000 workers will walk out on a general strike, they warned.

HOME KIDDIES TO SEE SHOWS FREE

Mayor McGrath will play host to the children of the Margaret Henry and Crawford-Oakridge homes, Saturday afternoon, at a big kiddies party to be staged by the paid fire department of the city who are sponsoring the Dodson's World Fair show now exhibiting on the Rosena show grounds.

Transportation to and from the homes will be provided by the firemen. The shows will close their engagement here on Saturday and will go to Niagara Falls.

"THE BEST BUY IN 73 YEARS" SAYS RETIRED STEEL FOREMAN

Declares The Small Cost Of VENDOL Was Nothing To Compare With The Wonders It Worked For Him.

Some of the reports given the Vendol Man in the New Castle Drug Co about the remarkable relief this great Root, Herb and Alkaline medicine gives, seems almost unbelievable, yet every one of them are given freely and are absolutely bonafide and true and can be checked, because full names and addresses are given. Nothing could be more fair. One such statement is from Mr. Jacob S. Hoenshell of 509 Bell Ave., New Castle, who has resided there 19 years, a retired foreman age 73, formerly with Carnegie Steel Co., who says:

"I'd suffered for so long with so many complaints that I had begun to think that it was my lot to suffer for the rest of my days. At night, when I was trying to sleep I'd get such terrible cramps in my legs that I'd have to get up and stay up until the cramps got good and ready to leave. My kidneys were sluggish in action and there was a terrible soreness in my legs.

"I couldn't enjoy my meals because of gas, acid risings, sour stomach, belching hot liquids and shortness of breath. I could hardly wait for time to go to bed, yet many nights I would turn and twist, unable to get sound, restful sleep.

"I've aken many medicines in my time, but I believe Vendol was the best BUY of all I ever tried. The first thing Vendol did was to get my bowels moving thoroughly and actively, then I realized the relief I was getting from the upset stomach. Vendol also acted as a mild diuretic on my kidneys, which seemed to relieve the cramps in my legs, and backache.

"Since taking Vendol I feel better than in years, so gladly recommend it to everyone suffering like I did."

MR. JACOB S. HOENSHELL who says, "Vendol stimulated my sluggish kidneys, relieved constipation, which eased my nerves and helped my stomach

Give this grand medicine made from 12 of Nature's Roots and Herbs combined with Alkalines a chance to help you, too. It is sold by leading druggists everywhere and the Vendol Man invites you to visit him personally at New Castle Drug Co., 31 E. Washington St., and let him explain all about this compound. New Castle Drug at 24 N. Mill St. also has Vendol at all times.

Injunction In Warren Strike

Two-way Injunction Is Granted By Trumbull County Court

(International News Service)

WARREN, O., June 18.—A two-way injunction granted by Judge Lynn B. Griffith today restrained C.I.O. pickets and railroads in their activities at the Warren and Niles mills of the Republic Steel corporation.

The order prohibited pickets from entering any railroad property in Trumbull county and also enjoined the Pennsylvania, Erie and Baltimore & Ohio railroads from moving any cars into or out of Republic's plants in the county.

Republic has applied for an injunction against further C.I.O. picketing, but no date has been set for action.

THE SAFE, SENSIBLE WAY TO RELIEVE CONSTIPATION

Every one knows the dangers of constipation. Pills and drugs usually bring only temporary relief. That's because common constipation is due to meals low in "bulk."

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains "bulk" that does not break down in the body as does that of many leafy vegetables. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water and forms a soft mass that gently sponges the intestines.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food — not a medicine. In addition to "bulk"—it gives vitamin B to tone up the system, and iron for the blood. It is a healthful way to get rid of constipation and all its evils.

Eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream — three times a day in severe cases. Or use it in making bran muffins, breads, in salads or soups. Guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

ALUMNI REUNION

Woman, 24, With Clothing Aflame, Leaps To Death

(International News Service)

ALBANY, N. Y., June 18.—With her night clothing aflame, Miss Betty Frdoyma, 24, leaped to her death today from the third floor of a rooming house.

The girl jumped from the window after awakening to find her bed and night attire burning.

Fire Chief Michael Felming said he believed the fire, which caused slight damage, was due to a lighted cigarette.

FINDS REASON FOR HIGHER TAX PLEA

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore.—County Assessor Charles Mack was stunned recently when he received a barrage of pleas from county residents who wanted him to increase their tax assessments this year.

The fact that tax payers would actually ask for increased assessments nearly drove him frantic until he worked out the answer to it all.

"It was a phenomenon," Mack said, "but I think I understand it now. I understand the California-Oregon power company is obtaining releases from litigation on property around here, and is offering to pay on the basis of assessed valuation. If the assessment could be increased the additional funds received from the power company would more than offset the extra tax payments."

FARM INCOME SHOWS INCREASE OVER 1936

HARRISBURG, June 18.—Pennsylvania farmers received $78,964,000 from the sale of their principal farm products during the first four months of this year, against $53,198,000 during the corresponding period of 1934, it is disclosed in a report from the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service of the State Department of Agriculture. The increase over 1936 was $14,556,000.

In April of this year the receipts in this State from the sale of farm crops totaled $5,056,000 against $3,475,000 last year and $2,377,000 in April 1934. The receipts from the sale of livestock and livestock products in April this year totaled $16,222,000 against $14,070,000 last year and $11,640,000 in 1934.

"Countess" After Questioning

This picture was taken through the rear window of a car at Bayshore, L. I., in which state troopers were protecting Mrs. Anna Krupyanova, housekeeper in the Parsons' Stony Brook home, from photographers. As the investigation into the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Alice Parsons came to a standstill, a new call for higher ransom was received from unknown persons. WILL TELLS JUDGE TO PLAY 'SOLOMON'

(International News Service)

NEW HAVEN Conn.—Probate court judge John L. Gilson must play the role of modern Solomon as the result of an unusual will left by George H. Pfaff, local butcher.

Pfaff left to Judge Gilson the making of a decision as to whether Pfaff's wife left him without reason.

If Judge Gilson finds that she did have justifiable cause for leaving the Pfaff home, the butcher's wife will receive the income from one-third of her late husband's estate. However, if she did not, she will be cut off from sharing in the testator's estate.

9-YEAR-OLD GIRL AMONG LEADERS IN 40-MILE HIKE

(International News Service)

AKRON, O.—Little, nine-year-old Shirley Fry paced 15 members of the Cleveland Hiking club to the finish of a 12-hour, 40-mile hike—and admitted that the only thing that bothered her was a bad case of sunburn.

She was the sixth of the group of 21 to finish the grueling march.

No novice to the hiking game, Shirley has walked the 36-mile circumference of this city several times with her father, when she was much, much younger than she is now. She is now in the fourth grade here.

Shirley's father modestly admitted that two years from now, when she has grown up a little, he plans to enter her in the Ohio state women's tennis tournament.

MUST ORDER NEXT YEAR'S TREES NOW

HARRISBURG, June 18.—Secretary James F. Bogardus of the Department of Forests and Waters today urged persons wishing to secure trees for planting next Spring to file their orders early.

Although Spring planting has just been completed in all sections of the State, orders for 1938 are already being received and to date requests for 550,000 seedlings and transplants have been filed here. This, of course, is a small percentage of the annual Spring shipment, but orders will continue to come in during the Summer months, and by October or November the crops of the four State nurseries will be entirely allocated.

Secretary Bogardus said that all persons who were unable to secure trees this Spring would be assured of shipment next year if they placed their orders now.

MANY PUPILS HAVE PERFECT ATTENDANCE

HARRISBURG. — The Department of Public Instruction, Superintendent Lester K. Ade said today, has distributed more than a quarter million perfect attendance certificates and seals to the schools of Pennsylvania for the 1936-1937 school year.

This unusual record shows that one out of every eight pupils was neither absent nor tardy during the term.

"This remarkable achievement on the part of the pupils of Pennsylvania," Dr. Ade stated, "was made possible only by the co-operation of the parents with the school authorities."

LIQUOR TAX YIELD KEEPS INCREASING

HARRISBURG, June 18.—Secretary of Revenue John B. Kelly today reported receipts of $604,794.40 from the Malt and Hard Liquor Taxes for the month of April. Total receipts from these taxes for the biennium to April 30, totaled $16,884,465.99.

The April receipts were as follows: malt beverage tax, $599,355.90; liquor floor tax, $143.00; distilled spirits tax, $4,673.29; rectified spirits tax $537.83; wines tax, $84.38.

Receipts for the biennium to April 30, were as follows: malt beverage tax, $13,504,199.53; liquor floor tax, $3,323,931.85; distilled spirits tax, $40,362.52; rectified spirits tax, $14,501.08; wines tax $1,471.01.

Annual Shekel Call Is Begun

Local Shekel Committee Of Zionists Is Headed By Sam Edelstein

RALLY TO CAUSE OF THE HOMELAND

Announcement was made today by Sam Edelstein, local chairman of the New Castle Shekel Committee, that the annual Shekel roll call of American Zionists is this year being coupled with a petition to Great Britain "to resist the infringement of Jewish rights, whether by violence on the part of Arabs or by a wavering attitude and political concession on the part of the Mandatory Government.

Congress Of Zionists

It is expected that 500,000 American Jews will sign this mass demonstration in behalf of Palestine while at the same time paying a fifty-cent poll tax that allows them to vote for American delegates to the twentieth bi-annual World Zionist Congress which will be held in Switzerland this August.

The Shekel Roll Call was inaugurated forty years ago by Dr. Theodor Herzl, father of modern political Zionism, as the symbol of unity that bound together all branches of Zionism. The call for this year's enrollment and its attached petition has been issued by Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, president of the Zionist Organization of America.

The call declares that "American Jewry, enjoying as it does full freedom and economic security, must rally to the cause of the Jewish National Homeland." The petition itself, details the tragic plight of the Jews in Germany, Poland and elsewhere and taking cognizance of Arab terrorism which jeopardizes the great Jewish achievement in Palestine and threatened restrictions against Jewish immigration and land purchase in Palestine.

Want 500,000 Enrolled

The campaign to enroll 500,000 American Jews in the 1937 Shekel Roll Call and to make available to the Zionist Congress for such political use as may be deemed expedient is an answer to the recent call for the forthcoming Zionist Congress issued by Dr. Chaim Weizmann, world president of the Zionist Organization, who said:

"The Congress will have to act upon the report of the Royal Commission and chart the course for the Zionist movement in this grave and historic hour. In order that its decisions may be of effective use for the preservation of the Jewish positions in our Homeland, the forthcoming Zionist Congress must be truly representative of the Jewish people. This can be achieved only through the registration of the largest number of Shekel payers in the forty year history of the movement."

The local committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. Edelstein, also includes Dr. H. A. Frank, Louis F. Kohn, Rabbi P. Katz and Dr. Ben Moresky.

Correct this sentence: "This man can't be an American," said the foreign cop, "for he doesn't know the words of the national anthem."

Romance? She Says It's Bunk

LIBBY HOLMAN REYNOLDS

JACK DOYLE

All that talk of romance between Libby Holman Reynolds, one-time torch singer and tobacco heiress, and Jack Doyle, singing Irish heavy weight boxer, is the bunk. Or so it seems from statements made by Miss Holman as she returned to New York from Europe aboard the same ship with Doyle. Miss Holman said she "hardly knew" Doyle and "never talked to him aboard the boat." To this Doyle said, "Oh, she scarcely knows me? All right, that's fine. I don't know her at all." Miss Holman said she had no romantic interests at all. Doyle, however, insisted he intends to marry an heiress, even if it isn't Miss Holman, when he gets a Reno divorce from Judith Allen, screen actress.

Oldest French College Honors Governor Leche

United States Citizen Will Be Honored With Degree From French College

(International News Service)

QUEBEC, Que.—For the first time in history Laval University here, oldest French college on the American continent, will honor a citizen of the United States when the degree of doctor of law is conferred upon Governor Richard Webster Leche, of Louisiana, June 30.

The ceremony will take place during the Congress of French Language and will be marked by old world traditions.

With ties of friendship knit by historical as well as racial bonds, this ancient French province and the American state of Louisiana have immortalized many of the same heroes who led expeditions from France to colonize the new world. Heading the list was Robert Cavalier de la Salle, one of the earliest as well as the most daring of the new world explorers, who in 1682 made his way down the Mississippi river and took possession of the territory which is now Louisiana in the name of Louis XIV of France. Another was Pierre LeMoyne D'Iberville, who established the first settlement in Louisiana and a third was Jean Baptiste LeMoyne, Sieur de Bienville, who founded the city of New Orleans, in Louisiana.

The American state also offered haven to the homeless Acadians when they were banished from Nova Scotia and many of their descendants who still remain in Louisiana have ties of relationship with citizens of Quebec.

Waitresses Are Streamlined In Restaurants Now

Streamlined Waitresses Are The Vogue Today In Exclusive Restaurants

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Mich.—Qualifying for a job as a waitress is getting to be almost as hard as making the front line o. a Broadway chorus.

Anne V. Whitson, director of an educational forum here, pointed out that the 1937 waitress is definitely superior to her predecessor of a decade ago.

Miss Whitson is directing a school for waitresses, the only such school in Detroit. It was inaugurated with the approval of the Michigan Restaurateurs ,Inc., and was opened to meet the demand for well trained waitresses in exclusive restaurants.

The model waitress today doesn't weigh over 150 pounds, Miss Whitson said. She should not be shorter than five feet and two inches and she should not be taller than five feet and seven inches. She can not be left-handed, and she should not have bad eyes.

Like the chorus girl, the waitress today must be attractive. She must be able to wear the restaurant's smartly designed uniforms as well as the chorine wears her stage finery.

Miss Whitson says a tenth grade education is necessary, but many waitresses are college graduates.

Restaurateurs object to girls wearing glasses, she said. If they do allow it, they generally recommend rimless spectacles.

Many firms today require certain types of girls, Miss Whitson explained. A new Detroit store employes only red heads.

Girls with elaborate coiffures have no place in a restaurant, the director said. Their hair should be in good condition, and not spectacularly dressed. They must be scrupulously neat. Excessive makeup is taboo. Glaring fingernails are not desirable. And most of all lovely figures, and the right kind of a smile are essential, Miss Whitson said.

Old Age Pension Report On State

During April 81,097 Persons In Pennsylvania Received Pensions

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent, New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—The proportion of aged persons receiving old age pensions under the Federal Social Security Act is smaller in Pennsylvania than all but 11 of the 40 states carrying on this program.

During April, 81,097 aged persons in Pennsylvania received such pensions. This was an average of 134 out of each 1,000 residents 65 years of age and over. In the country as a whole, on the other hand, 186 out of each 1,000 aged received such pensions, with 32 states having greater proportions of their aged on such pension lists than Pennsylvania.

The Pennsylvania old folks received total payments of $1,768,491, or an average of $21.81 each. The national average was lower, at $18.71.

Junior Grange Will Be Organized Here

Regular meeting of the East New Castle Grange will be held in the grange, Monday evening, June 21, instead of Tuesday evening, as formerly planned.

At this session the juvenile grange will be organized, and all children of the community will be invited to attend the organization meet.

COMING TO HELP
RUPTURED WOMEN

Mrs. Williams representing William S. Rice, Inc., Adams, N. Y., will be at the Leslie Hotel, New Castle, Pa., Tues. & Wed., June 22 & 23 to demonstrate a new appliance that holds any reducible rupture no matter how large. Even if the abdomen is very fleshy, it holds with ease, comfort and security.

Special Combined Rupture and Corset Back Support.

Every woman who has been compelled to wear an ordinary truss or abdominal support knows the gouging, cutting and chafing caused by narrow bands. The weight of the abdomen or pressure necessary in holding the rupture must be carried by the band around the back, and the pressure is sometimes very great, causing untold suffering. The special, broad supporting corset back distributes the pressure so as to do away with all cutting and chafing.

Trusses in common use are not adapted to women and often do great harm. Women therefore, suffer more and are in greater danger from rupture than men, and all women, who have ruptures or who wear an abdominal support of any kind should not fail to call and see this wonderful Rice Support. It must be seen; it must be put on to convince any woman that it was designed for her.

Mrs. Williams will give full instructions on how to handle and care for any kind of reducible rupture from the simple groin and femoral to the large and difficult Navel and after Operation Ruptures, without chafing or squeezing.

Your call on this Lady Expert is sure to prove one of the best things you ever did. The fitting and demonstration are free. It don't cost you a penny to learn all about the Rice Method and the wonderful opportunity for help it offers in your case.

Call any time Tues. from 10 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m., or 7 to 9 evening and Wed. from 9 to 12 a. m., 2 to 5 p. m. or 7 to 9 evening. Just ask at the hotel desk for the Rice Representative and she will do the rest.

A frantic bride called the Rochester (N. Y.) Gas and Electric corporation to complain that her new refrigerator "freezes ice cubes too fast." Jack Sharkey, sales supervisor, said an electrician rushed to the scene and found ice cubes piled in every available pan, scattered all over the kitchen floor. "I thought you had to take them out as soon as they froze," the bride told the electrician.

Like West Point and Annapolis, San Quentin as a rule prohibiting mustaches and beards. However, there is one prisoner, Louis Genopolis, No. 58,063, better known to his pals as "Green Apples," who is an exception to the rule. When "Green Apples" first came to San Quentin he wore a beard and also gave indications of not being just right mentally. The time came for him to be sheared. When he got the idea he became violent as a madman and pointing at the barber he shouted: "Anyone who tries to cut off the beard of Louis Genopolis will be stricken dead by God." The curse was hardly finished when the barber fell dead. Louis still has his beard.

At Butler the good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce is anxious to have work started on improvement of the Butler-New Castle road at the Butler end. Originally it was planned to make it a four-lane stretch from the city limits to Kradels Corners, but now it appears it will be a three-lane.

Public Debt Is $36,633,907,802

Federal Public Debt On June 15 Reaches Highest Mark In History Of Country

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The federal public debt soared to $36,633,907,802 on June 15, highest in history, treasury statistics revealed Thursday.

On the same date a year ago, the debt was $34,331,355,867. Issuance of $800,000,000 in new securities this month coupled with a $500,000,000 payment to the government Social Security fund brought the debt figure to its all-time peak.

Japan Declines To Limit Guns

Not Disposed To Adhere To Any Agreement On One Armament Phase

BATTLESHIP BIDS ARE AWAY HIGH

By ROBERT G. NIXON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The United States has asked Japan, Great Britain and other major powers to agree to limiting calibers of guns on battleships to 14 inches maximum, the state department disclosed today.

Japan, it was learned in high quarters, has indicated however that she is not disposed to adhere to any agreement limiting only one phase of naval araments.

This was revealed Thursday as the United States launched a new battleship building program, opening bids for construction of one of two new super-dreadnaughts in the first battleship building program in 15 years.

Bids submitted by private shipbuilding corporations were so high that Secretary of Navy Claude A. Swanson at a press conference immediately afterward, said the navy may be forced to build both of the two new battleships in their own navy yards.

Bids submitted were nearly $20,000,000 above the cost estimates made by navy yards for the two new fighting ships.

Fruit Prospects Are Fine In State

Bumper Crops Are Indicated U. S. Bureau Of Agriculture Reports

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18—Fruit prospects as of June 1, indicates bumper crops of apples, pears, peaches and grapes for Pennsylvania farmers, the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics reports.

The bureau reviewed conditions in all leading states. Below are extracts from its findings concerning Pennsylvania:

"In Pennsylvania the apple bloom was the heaviest in years. Pollination was hindered in some areas by cool, wet weather which curtailed bee activities, but a good crop is still anticipated.

"In Pennsylvania there was a heavy peach bloom with a uniform set of fruit and prospects are exceptionally good."

"In Pennsylvania the set of pears is unusually good and a large crop is indicated.

"In Pennsylvania there was a heavy cherry bloom generally. Rains at blossom time retarded pollination in some areas, but the general outlook is for an excellent cherry crop."

"Climalene puts pep in sleepy suds"

'I DIDN'T want to give in to this stubborn city water without a battle!

So I tried a variety of soaps and soap flakes in my weekly washing.

But some of the dirt and a lot of the grease stayed in.

Then my grocer said: 'Soap and water's all right, but they need help if you want to cut the grease first. Why not try CLIMALENE?'

CLIMALENE did cut the grease and dirt, and now I have white clothes and sparkling dishes! I found it wonderful too, for renewing floors, tiles and linoleums to a fresh brightness.

You bet I'm telling my friends how CLIMALENE puts pep in sleepy suds."

Says W.P.A. Rolls To Be Reduced

Senator La Follette Says 34,375 Will Be Dropped By July 15 In Pennsylvania

By ARTHUR C. WIMER
(Special Washington Correspondent New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, June 18—By July fifteenth, 34,375 WPA workers in Pennsylvania will be dismissed under orders just sent the state administrator by Federal WPA Administrator Harry Hopkins, according to figures given the Senate by Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin.

Senator LaFollette introduced the figures to back his argument that the $1,500,000,000 in relief money requested by President Roosevelt for the fiscal year commencing July 1, was inadequate. He said that under this $1,500,000,000 program WPA rolls would be slashed materially in all parts of the country. All state administrators have been ordered, he said, to whittle down their lists by the middle of July to the extent of removing 378,219 workers.

Of these removals, 34,375 will be in the Keystone State, the Senator reported. He disclosed the Pennsylvania administrator had been directed to reduce employment on WPA projects in the state from 199,585 workers on May 8 to 165,210 on July 15.

La Follette argued states and communities were unprepared to care for the WPA workers to be dismissed and that industry could not absorb them all.

Dorothy Boak Returned Home

Little Granddaughter Of J. Audley Boak Home From Allegheny Hospital

Dorothy Mae Boak, young daughter of Everett Boak, returned Thursday to the home of her father and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Audley Boak on the New Castle road, R. D. 4.

She has been confined to Allegheny General hospital for the past 17 months, since January 17, 1936. She has spent two birthdays in the hospital, being now past seven years of age.

Little Dorothy has been under the care of Dr. David Silverman and his assistant, Dr. Heberling. She is greatly improved in health and expects to attend school next year.

Dr. Garry Myers Urges Five Year College Courses

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., June 18. Five-year courses for high school and college students were advocated by Dr. Garry C. Myers, head of the department of parent education at Western Reserve university.

His recommendation was made at the fifth annual school of family relationships being conducted by the Pennsylvania State college and the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women. He said the course would "save the mental health of the nation's youth."

Five years to complete the work, instead of four, said Myers, would enable the student to obtain serenity and poise, would "preserve mentalities." He claimed there were too many extra-curricular activities in schools now.

"We must stop nerve wracking activities. The home is getting more jittery day by day and I can't see much hope for it. Schools must take over to save children's nervous systems."

Maine Dogs Bury Their Own

(International News Service)

WALSENBURG, Colo., June 18.—Prairie dogs actually bury their dead.

County Agent P. B. Miles is authority for this statement. If you don't believe it, he said, just try to find a dead prairie dog.

The curious rodents who destroy thousands of acres of otherwise valuable pasture lands each year, Miles said, drag their dead fellows into their holes and cover the entrance with dirt.

With thousands of prairie dogs poisoned in Huerfano county, Colorado, during the past year, Miles said, he had yet to see one dead animal lying abandoned on the surface of the land.

To further the quaint custom, Miles announced that he had purchased an additional 48 gallons of poisoned oats. He estimated that this would eliminate the "dogs" from at least 4,000 acres.

Joseph's Kindness To His Kindred

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Ephesians 4:32: "Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you."

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

(The international uniform lesson on the above topic for June 20 is Genesis 45:16-50:26, especially 46:1-7, 28-30, 50:24-26, the Golden Text being Ephesians 4:32, "Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other, even as God also in Christ forgave you."

Those were 20 long and sad years for Jacob since the day he bade Joseph farewell and sent him out to see how his brothers were getting on with their sheep, and received back his torn, bloody coat with the suggestion of the older sons that some wild beast had killed Joseph.

"Joseph is Yet Alive"

Then came the years of famine and the brothers returned from their second journey to Egypt bringing back the corn with the news to Jacob that "Joseph is yet alive, and he is ruler over all the land of Egypt." It is no wonder that we read of the aged father that "his heart fainted, and he believed them not." It seemed too good to be true, too much like one coming back from the dead after 20 years. "And they told him all the word of Joseph, which he had said unto them; and when he saw the wagons which Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of Jacob their father revived: and Israel said, It is enough; Joseph my son is yet alive: I will go and see him before I die." Thus Israel took his journey with his entire household numbering 70 souls, and came down into Egypt, into the land of Goshen in the fertile Nile delta which Pharaoh generously allotted them.

Discipline Develops a Nation

It was a significant journey in that it marked the beginning of a sojourn which was to continue for four centuries and was to develop, after Joseph's death, into a most grievous slavery before God should raise up Moses as the emancipator of the nation thus developed and disciplined by the rigors of their bondage. "Fear not to go down into Egypt," said Jehovah to Jacob in preparation for this momentous step, "for I will there make of thee a great nation: I will go down with thee into Egypt; and I will also surely bring thee up again: and Joseph shall also put his hands upon thine eyes." No more fitting close to Jacob's life could have been promised him of God than this, that Joseph's hands should be the ones to close Jacob's eyes upon the things of this life. This hope made the trip to Egypt a joyous adventure for the aged patriarch now 130 years of age.

The Happy Reunion

It was a happy reunion when Joseph and his father met, and "Joseph presented himself unto him, fell on his neck, and wept on his neck a good while. And Israel said unto Joseph, now let me die, since I have seen thy face, and thou art yet alive." There followed an interesting and touching scene in which Joseph is unashamed to present his shepherd father and brethren to Pharaoh. "And Joseph brought in Jacob his father, and set him before Pharaoh: and Jacob blessed Pharaoh." Aged, crippled, famine-stricken shepherd though his father was, Joseph was proud to present him to the king and court, and Pharaoh showed his own kingliness by bowing to receive the blessing bestowed upon him by his priestly visitor. Thus Joseph, like Jesus, of whom he is a type, shows us how to keep "the first commandment with promise."

Body Washed Up On Shore

(International News Service)

BOWERS BEACH, Del., June 18. The body of James W. Dublin, 76, of Altoona, one of eight men drowned Monday night when the fishing cruiser Teal foundered in Delaware Bay, was washed onto the beach three miles below here on Thursday.

Only three members of the fishing party survived the tragedy.

East Palestine Plant Is Closed Result Of Strike

EAST PALESTINE, O., June 18.—Efforts to settle a C. I. O. strike of 50 employes having failed, Fred Maurer, president, announced on Thursday that the Kenmar Furniture company's plant here will be closed indefinitely. The workmen demanded wage increases and a 40-hour week.

Wage concessions also have been asked by 165 employes of the company's nearby New Waterford factory, but no strike has been called.

CLIP PASTURES NOW FOR BEST RESULTS

Due principally to the excessive rainfall this spring, grazing has been deferred on most pastures until the ground was firm enough to permit the animals to graze without punching the sod full of holes. This has permitted the grass to get a head start, especially on those pastures which are being improved with lime, phosphate, and manure.

At this time, Kentucky bluegrass is in full head and Canada bluegrass is just heading. Orchard grass headed out fully two weeks earlier than Kentucky bluegrass while redtop is not yet in head. Sweet vernal grass is ready to mature seeds, and on many pastures is quite abundant, refused by the cattle wherever good grass is available.

Pasture grasses which have headed out will be left by the grazing animals in preference for that which has been closely grazed and is much sweeter than the tall, coarse stuff. This gives the pasture a ragged uneven appearance and smothers out the white clover which is so desirable in a pasture for several reasons.

This is the proper time to clip pastures to encourage the bottom grasses and the clovers which are so much more desirable from the grazing standpoint. Clipping will also discourage the young thorn apples, briers, and pasture weeds; it will encourage more even, close grazing which is so desirable to assist the white clover.

Buttercup, which is so noticeable on moist pastures, can be greatly discouraged by clipping now before it matures its seeds which are now forming. Heavy clipping may be raked off if desired, or if light, allowed to lie as a mulch.

Plan to clip again about mid-August for control of goldenrod, ironweed, ragweed, aster, and young tree shoots and briers. Brush does not grow in a mowed field; it cannot stand clipping.

SPRAY OR DUST TO SAVE ROSE FOLIAGE

Wet weather has caused rose diseases to develop earlier than usual.

Growers are urged to start spraying or dusting if they are to prevent black spot and mildew from defoliating the bushes by mid-summer.

Tests at the Pennsylvania State College this past winter showed that sprayed and dustred roses were practically free from injury, while untreated roses were severely injured and sometimes killed.

Roses should be dusted or sprayed at approximately weekly intervals. Spraying with 4-4-50 bordeaux mixture has proved most effective in control. However, roses dusted with a 80-10-10 sulphur-lead-lime dust have been comparatively free of diseases.

In dusting or spraying it is very important that the under sides and tops of leaves and the canes be covered. It is best to make the applications on dry foliage.

CALVES NEED CAREFUL ATTENTION ON PASTURE

Too often, calves are taken off pasture in the fall of the year in a poorer condition than when they are turned out in the spring. This is due to poor management in the majority of cases.

Calves should have a good start before being turned out to pasture. 6 to 8 months being about the minimum age limit. Pasture is an excellent feed for calves old enough to utilize it but if turned out too young they may be troubled with scours. Heat and flies may also have a detrimental effect on young calves.

Calves should not be forgotten when they are turned out in the spring. They should be supplied with salt, fresh water, and shade. A darkened shelter, or being kept in the barn during the hottest part of the day, is of advantage. This also will protect the calves from flies.

While pasture is an excellent feed, it is often wise to give some supplemental feeds to keep the calves growing and in a thrifty condition. One feeding per day of good quality hay or a small amount of low protein grain usually is sufficient. The amount of these supplemental feeds to give daily will depend on the condition of the pasture and the use the calves are making of it.

A wise dairyman will watch his calves closely and feed accordingly. A fat condition is not necessary but a thrifty, growing condition is desirable.

SPRAY IN SEEDBEDS TO CONTROL CELERY BLIGHT

Severity of most vegetable diseases has been increased by the wet spring, and indications point to severe outbreaks of celery blight this year.

Experience has shown that it is almost impossible to hold celery blights in check if the celery plants are not sprayed in the seedbeds.

Two or three applications of 4-4-50 bordeaux mixture on the under sides and tops of leaves usually means that the grower can count on blight-free plants to set in his field.

Applications should be put on at 7 to 10-day intervals, with the last application in the seedbed at least seven days before the plants are to be set in the field.

BEGIN NOW TO WAGE WAR ON ENEMY MOTH

Warmth, darkness, and favorite food in the form of wool, fur, and feathers offer ideal conditions for moths. In warm houses or apartments, every month is open season for moths, but May to July and September and October are the most dangerous months, reminds, Miss Mary Vogle, Home Economics extension representative.

Mrs. Homemaker knows that the small, buff color moth miller which is flying about is laying thousands of eggs which will hatch into larvae. These larvae do the real damage for they begin to feed as soon as hatched. Woolens, furs, and feathers are their diet. Cleanliness and eternal vigilance is the only way to fight them.

There are three methods of preparing woolens for storage; washing, dry cleaning, and brushing thoroughly. Dry cleaning by home methods is not recommended on account of the possible danger from fire. These methods will free garments of moth eggs or larvae already there. The Pennsylvania State College Circular 150, "Household Insects," gives the following directions for protection from moths.

"Garments worn often or taken out into the light periodically are not subject to injury. Clothes kept in dark places for long periods offer plenty of opportunity for moths to lay eggs and for larvae to mature and feed on the materials. Old clothes stored away should be placed in tight containers where they can be fumigated. Sunlight and air are protection against clothesmoths. Garments to be stored for the summer should be taken out, hung in the sunlight and air, and thoroughly brushed to remove possibility of eggs or larvae. They then may be packed away in tight boxes or trunks with a supply of moth repellent - paradichlorobenzene, naphthalene, or camphor. Scatter five to six heaping tablespoons of these crystals among the garments or place them in a piece of muslin on top of them."

The gas formed by the crystals is heavier than air and so will permeate to the bottom of the box, says Miss Vogle.

"Garment bags must be tight to be effective. From 4 to 6 tablespoons of the crystals are sufficient and should be hung in a muslin bag at the top of the bag. These crystals have a pleasant odor which disappears soon after the garment is removed from the bag."

Closets may be sealed for the summer protection of clothing by use of fumigater's tape. After cleaning or brushing the garments, hang them in the closet, put 3 or 4 pounds of either of the moth repellent crystals on an upper shelf, and seal the cracks in the door by use of gummed tape.

Sprays must come in contact with the moths to be effective and to mothproof clothing, must cover the entire surface of both right and wrong sides. Valuable furs are too costly to risk home treatment and are safest in a reputable cold storage.

Poison Gas Used Against Crickets

(International News Service)

CRAIG, Colo. A new type of warfare has been introduced into northwestern Colorado, where the arrows of hostile Utes once brought terror to settlers.

Poison gas is being widely used. The enemies of the federal government in the modern warfare are Mormon crickets, a huge grasshopper-like creature which in recent years has devastated thousands of acres of rangelands.

Men using guns which shoot clouds of poisonous gas have launched a campaign against the pests which infest an estimated 22,000 acres in this section of the state. The United States government has alloted $1 an acre, or $22,000 for the cricket war. Counties are expected to appropriate 25 per cent of the total funds expended.

CUNNING COYOTE KILLED

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—The cunning of a notorious goat-killing coyote in southeastern Oregon led to his own downfall, it was reported here by W. M. Rush, biological survey official.

Sought for months as the killer of more than fifteen goats, the coyote was shot when trapped inside a corral upon which rags had been hung to scare him away. Apparently the animal was inside the corral when the rags were fastened into place Rush said, and refused to leave because he feared some man-made device to trap him.

PARK "DEER HUNT"

PORTLAND, Ore.—Portland police today were looking for a "sportsman" who went deer hunting in the city park.

The unidentified hunter killed a tame four-year old buck in the deer pen at the park at night. The killing apparently was caused by a desire for fresh venison as officials found remains indicating the deer was butchered in a barn near the deer pen.

Host Attends Annual Reunion At Moravia

Descendants of early settlers of Moravia, West Pittsburg and community, more than 150 in number, gathered at Moravia Presbyterian church Thursday for their fifth annual reunion and basket picnic. Despite an early rain, which threatened to mar the occasion, the event was a huge success.

Shortly before noon, children and grandchildren of pioneers assembled and whiled away the time discussing numerous events of days gone by. From the gathering came echoes of yesteryears when life was a struggle. It was a day when friendships of years gone by were revived.

The program continued with a basket picnic served in the attractively arranged dining room of the church. For the event the tables were loaded with garden flowers which filled the air with a perfume odor. During the noon hour Rev. J. C. Pickens, former pastor of Moravia Presbyterian church, now of Youngstown, featured with an appropriate address. Speeches were also made by some of the other persons present during the day. Following the election of officers, the group separated throughout the grounds, some talked, some enjoyed horseshoes, others simply admired the background on which their forefathers worked and played, and then still others assembled in the church and sang.

Late in the afternoon a sports program was presented. Mrs. James Beacon, aged 88, of Moravia, was the oldest person present. Rev. J. C. Pickens and Harry Brown, of Mahoningtown, both 78 years of age, were the oldest men present. The sixth annual reunion will take place on the third Thursday in June, 1938.

The large crowd left the grounds filled with memories of a most delightful day that comes but once a year.

Officers elected:

General Committee—George McBride, chairman; Walter Bannon, Robert Snodgrass, Claire Kennedy, Charles Bannon.

Reception Committee—Mrs. E. A. Gwin, James Book, Porter Crawford, Rev. Henderson, Mrs. Will McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dungan, Mrs. George McConnell.

Table Committee—Mrs. George McBride, chairman; Mrs. C. Kennedy, Mrs. Fred Anderson, Mrs. Charles Bannon, Mrs. Scott Brest, Miss Katherine McKinley, Miss Katherine Gwin, Miss Birda Bright, Mrs. W. A. Leslie.

Coffee Committee—Mrs. Charles McKinley, chairman; Mrs. Rice Gwin, Mrs. Lee McKinley.

Kitchen Committee—Mrs. Adolph Werner, chairman; Mrs. Alfred Turner, Mrs. Claire Kennedy, Mrs. Woods Anderson, Mrs. Arch Snodgrass, Mrs. Sam Fowler, Mrs. John Wettich, Miss Anna Belle Bright, Mrs. Myrtle Miller.

Russia's New Dirigible To Be Helium Inflated

Report States That Russia Has Discovered Helium Supply For Airships

(International News Service)

MOSCOW—A new semi-rigid passenger dirigible, to be inflated with helium, is now nearing completion in Soviet Russia. The dirigible will be known as the "DP-9" and it is being constructed as part of Soviet Russia's plans to use airships exclusively as a means of transport.

The passenger gondola of the dirigible will contain 16 sleeping cabins, a salon, a buffet and smoking room. A spacious control room will be contained in the front part of the gondola.

Super-duralumin and plastic materials have been used in the construction of the gondola. The airship has been designed and built by a number of young Soviet aeronautical engineers.

A factory for the preparation of helium, it was recently announced by the Tass agency, is to be erected in Soviet Russia. Helium deposits, it was also stated, have been revealed by prospecting expeditions in many parts of the country.

Snake Slides Into Car's Upholstery

EL PASO, Tex.—Wylie B. Erdwurm, railroad freight and passenger agent, has a problem on his hands, or rather, in his car—a two-foot bull snake.

Erdwurm, who knows his way around when it comes to snakes, recognized the reptile that in some unaccountable way turned up in front of the ticket office. While onlookers gaped, he coolly picked it up, put it in a sack and drove out into the country.

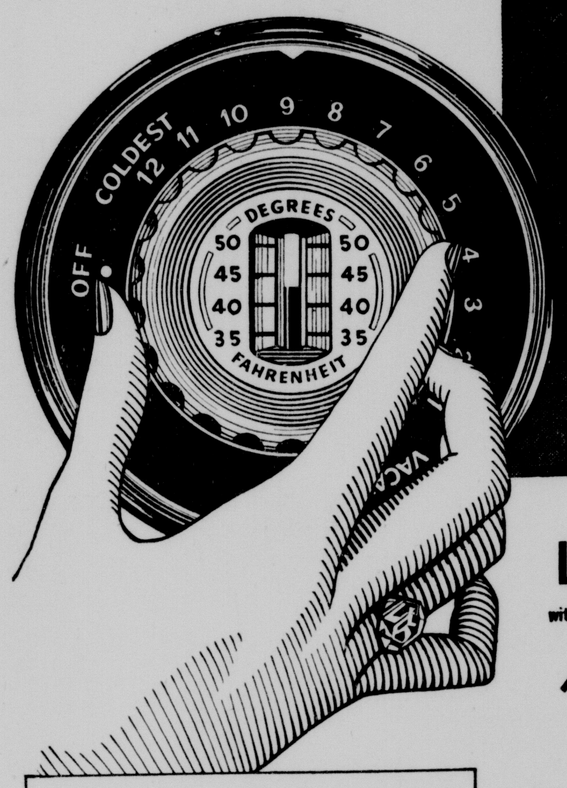

When he dumped out the sack to give the snake its freedom, however—the snake wasn't there.

It had apparently crawled into the upholstering of the car.

Now nobody wants to ride in Erdwurm's car. He doesn't want to slit open all the upholstery just to get out a harmless snake that hasn't too much sense. Meanwhile, he is unusually untroubled by people bumming rides.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY!

"Tune In" ON 1937'S GREATEST REFRIGERATOR VALUE

the new LEONARD ELECTRIC with the Master Dial

THAT LETS YOU CONTROL THE OPERATION OF YOUR LEONARD TO SECURE LOWEST OPERATING COST

PRESENTING, for 1937, an even greater refrigerator than last year's Leonard Electric! And that, every one who bought a 1936 Leonard will tell you, is saying something. It used little current. It was packed with extra values.

All these values are still present in the Leonard for 1937. And more are added! In this new model, Leonard's 56-year-old reputation for giving the public more for its money is more brilliantly upheld than ever before.

And the most important new development is the Leonard Master Dial. It's the one thing you cannot afford to miss seeing. For it is the outstanding improvement of the year in the entire refrigerator field. The Master Dial gives you better refrigeration service—at less cost.

We have looked at them all. Only Leonard has the Master Dial. Only Leonard has the Len-A-Dor Pedal and the handy service shelf inside the door. Only Leonard offers you all the other features listed in the panel to the left.

Leonard has been our choice because it is, today, as always, Leonard's dominating objective to give you more for your money. It is today's most truly modern refrigerator. Learn what that means . . . all the new 1937 Leonard can do for you. Come in and see it today.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY!
. . . only LEONARD gives you ALL these Extra Features

1. Leonard Master Dial—Now tune your refrigerator like a radio for just the cold you need! Thermometer assures safe temperatures at all times. Control prevents over-consumption of current. You save both ways!
2. Vegetable Drawer—Roomy, for safe storage of vegetables which do not require low temperatures. Slides out easily—can t stick or fall out.
3. Len-A-Dor Pedal—Open the door with your foot—leave your hands free for carrying.
4. Service Shelf—Drops to give you place to put things while you rearrange contents of your Leonard Electric.
5. New Curved Shelves—Add to the "reachability" of contents of refrigerator.
6. Rubber Grids in All Ice Trays—Colder, larger cubes at a touch of the finger.
7. Vegetable Crisper—Even wilted lettuce or celery quickly regains former freshness in this handy drawer that preserves juiciness and flavor of all vegetables. Top is handy serving tray.
8. Utility Basket—For fruits, vegetables, all small articles. Prevents oranges and lemons from rolling. Saves space.
9. Sliding Shelf—Pulls out like a drawer, making every article instantly available.
10. Interior Light—Snaps on automatically when you open the door, off when you close it.
11. 5-Year Protection Plan—Assurance of dependability, signed by a maker who has been famous for fine refrigerators for 56 years!

Noiseless Skates Featured At Fair

(International News Service)

NEW YORK—Roller skates with "noise mufflers" featured in recent 1937 Toy Fair."

Among the unusual playthings were "streamlined blocks," guns that shoot pictures on the wall, dolls with fingernails and complete ant villages. The trailer craze was reported to have doubled toy automobile production.

One thing noted was that military toys, so prominently featured in Europe, make up only one per cent of the exhibit.

Yankees Again Defeat Indians

Make It Three In Row Over Cleveland Team, White Sox Lose Two To Boston

PHILLIES CHASE DIZZY DEAN

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 18.—New York Yankee pitching, which came to its peak while the team's hitting was off, has faltered again—but there can be little hope in that for the rest of the American league pennant contenders at this time, for Murderers' Row has resumed its stride. In other words, the Yankees don't need any pitching now they have begun to hit.

Today, they are 2½ games ahead of the second place Detroit Tigers and 4½ ahead of the Cleveland Indians, who are at the bottom of the first division.

Three In Row.

The Yankees made it three in a row over the Indians yesterday. The champions rapped out 14 hits, including homers by Selkirk, Crosetti and Dickey against four Indian pitchers and concluding the opening series of the current home stand with a 9 to 7 victory.

The Tigers were idle and the third place White Sox lost more ground, dropping a double header to the Boston Red Sox, 5 to 2 and 3 to 2. McNair hit a homer in the first to help the Red Sox, and the veteran George Walberg out-pitched Stratton in the nightcap.

The St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics were rained out.

The Yankees were to resume the struggle today with the contending White Sox in a series here, while the Tigers opened another important series at Philadelphia.

Phillies Win.

The National league race simmered down yesterday, with only one of three scheduled games being played. In this one the Philadelphia Phillies trounced the St. Louis Cardinals, 13 to 7. Dizzy Dean pitched through the seventh, when he was taken out for a pinch-hitter. The Phillies made a total of 20 hits.

The shift of scenery in the National league takes the Phillies to Chicago to meet the league-leading Cubs today, while the second place New York Giants will play at Cincinnati.

Braddock And Louis Are Set For Big Battle

Braddock Will Probably Enter Ring At 197 Pounds, Louis At 196 Pounds

LOUIS IS GETTING BACK HIS SPEED

BY CHESTER YOULL
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, June 18—Jim Braddock and Joe Louis were about ready to lay aside the big gloves today, and await the workings of fate.

Their training campaigns really are over, and there was nothing to do but sit back patiently until Tuesday night when they will meet in a 15-round world's championship bout before 82,000 persons in Charley Comiskey's American League baseball park on the South side.

Million Dollar Gate

The gate is expected to go over $1,000,000—the first to top that mark since Gene Tunney and Jack Demsey waged their memorable battle here on the lake front ten years ago.

Both Braddock and Louis were scheduled to rest today; tomorrow and Sunday they will go through a few motions in their training camp rings, but it is purely a money matter. The final Saturday and Sunday attendance of paying guests at the champion's headquarters in nearby Grand Beach, Mich., and at the Challenger's in Kenosha, Wis., will set a record for this fight, and there you have the only reason why the men will work.

Both Are Fit

Both are as fit physicaly as they could hope to be. Braddock at 197½ pounds is better than any of the 300 some odd boxing writers here have seen him before. When last on the scales, Louis came in at the surprisingly low poundage of 196, a fact which has not caused his handlers to gloat. They would have liked to see the brown boy a couple of pounds heavier at this stage.

In the last week, Louis has salvaged some of his prestige after as miserable a showing in training as any heavyweight title challenger ever has made. Maybe Joe was only fooling; then maybe again he really didn't swing into shape until a few days ago.

Louis Is Speedy

But at any rate, Louis yesterday in a six round workout showed he has the thing which many think will beat Braddock—and this is speed in punching. Louis is not fast on hit feet, but he can whip in those rights and lefts with tremendous speed—much faster than Braddock.

Of course, like all punchers, Louis looks bad against a moving target, and there is where Jersey Jim thinks he has the edge. He plans to keep moving all the time—either to Louis' right or left and forever keep Joe off balance so he can't get the leverage necessary to put the crusher onto his punches. Whether this plan of strategy will work depends on whether Braddock can move about more efficiently that Louis can punch.

PENNY ANTE NOW—BIG COIN LATER

Joe Louis gathers a few chips

Joe Louis engages in a hand or two of penny ante at his Kenosha training camp where he is preparing to battle Jimmy Braddock, June 22, for the world's heavyweight championship. Promoter Mike Jacobs believes the gate at Chicago will come close to a million dollars, so what are a few pennies in Joe's young life?

Board Of Trade To Reorganize

Will Meet Tonight To Elect New Manager And Discuss City League

The South Side Board of Trade team will have an important meeting tonight at 17 West Long avenue, the Columbia club, for the purpose of reorganizing the team and electing a new manager to succeed Charles Scaglione, who is quitting the managership to devote his time to his business.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 o'clock. It is understood that "Fiz" Rodenbaugh will be the new manager of the team. Rodenbaugh is an old head at the baseball game and is well qualified to handle the team in the race for the City Baseball league pennant.

The following are asked to attend the meeting without fail: "Fiz" Rodenbaugh, Benny Ciccone, Paul McCullough, Francis Cracraft, Carl Gennochi, Mickey Huff, Dorie Gunnett, Spud Badurik, Eddie "Ace" Lamm, Nick Perretti, Dudie Fruitt, Andy Chabak, Blackie Fundoots, Mike Mehalic, Bud Todd, Johnny Marshall, Dick Witherow, Frank Stone, Tony Nocera, Tip Richards, Charles Scaglione, Steve Vincent and Butchelli.

All players wanting their releases may obtain them tonight at the meeting. There will be a general shakeup of the team in the hopes of getting it out of the losing streak. The Board of Trade has won five and lost five in the city league.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jess Willard, former heavyweight boxing champion and Bob Latera will depart within the next several days to attend the James J. Braddock-Joe Louis fight at Chicago, June 22. Most of the former champions of different divisions will be present. Jack Dempsey is already on the scene. Jess and Dempsey have not met since Dempsey won at Toledo. Latera is the booking agent for Willard and reports he has several tentative offers for the big fellow to referee in different sections of the country.

Merle McIntosh, assistant to Coach Kirk Thompson, All-American of Ursinius, is all het up o'er Slippery Rock Teachers football prospects next fall. He reports that the Teachers will be on the road for about eight games. One of their trips will be to Philadelphia to play West Chester Teachers and Boston where the Rockets will oppose Boston U. The team will also play against the Cortland Teachers at Cortland, N. Y. The Rockets will also take on Westminster and Waynesburg.

Beginning of matinee races at Schenley Oval recalls that some summers ago local horsemen held matinee events at the New Castle Fair track, prior to the opening of the races during Fair week. There is no more beautiful sight than good game horses, whether they be trotters, pacers or runners, struggling to win from each other.

Two Pittsburgh women reached the finals of the state golf championship Thursday at Reading. They are Betty Abernethy of the Oakmont club and Mrs. William G. Boggs of the Pittsburgh Field club. The former beat Virginia Fox of Harrisburg, three-time titlist, 2 up and Mrs. Boggs won from Mrs. J. Walker Hoopes of Wilmington, Del., in the semi-finals, 5 and 4. The Abernethy-Fox match was a hard affair all the way.

George Conway, trainer for War Admiral, speaking at New York, said that Sam Biddle's Derby, Preakness, and Belmont winner would not be in competition again until the Saratoga meeting in August. War Admiral suffered an injury to his leg in taking the Belmont stake, June 5. He's coming along all right but for the present Conway will not put him under saddle.

Don Budge and Wyne Sabin, U. S. tennis players qualified for the semi-finals of the Queens club tennis tournament at London yesterday but Bryan Grant, another American, was forced by a lame shoulder to quit after two sets with Fumiteru Nakano of Japan.

N. Y. A. Team Ties Universal Pottery

Battling to break a deadlock, N. Y. A. mushball team's late inning rally was checked by a torrential downpour Thursday night. As a result, N. Y. A. team and Universal Pottery played a 2-2 tie.

Joe Wright, N. Y. A. stellar third baseman, played a great defensive game. Bill Trott, ace huler, connected for his third homer while Nickie Pavia's sizzling three-base hit brought in the tying run. Fortuno was on the mound for the Potters while Boston, Rowbottom, Shook and Bogdon were the best stickmen.

Next Tuesday the N. Y. A. team battles the East Side Strollers at Gaston park. Thursday, June 24, at Dean park the Universal Pottery will line up against the N. Y. A. club.

Three Games In City League On Card Tonight

Three postponed games will be played tonight in the City Baseball league. Announcement of the games was made today by the league executive.

The games will start at 6 o'clock. The K Pulaski team will meet the Colored Elks team at Glasser Field. The Colored Elks will try for their fourth league win. "Cab" Mrozek will be on the mound for the Pulaskis. Homer Gray will twirl for the Elks.

The Firemen will go to West Pittsburg for a game with the league leading West Pittsburgers. The Lawrence Indies will play at Ryantown.

Moore Resigns As Trainer At Pitt

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 18—The University of Pittsburgh's football coaching staff lost another member today when Dr. George (Bud) Moore, team trainer, resigned to devote his entire time to practicing denistry in his home town, Easton.

Moore has been with head coach John B (Jock) Sutherland for nine years and was guardian of the physical conditions of three Panther elevens that trekked to the West coast for Rose Bowl encounters.

Rumors of Dr. Moore's decision were current for some time but he finally affirmed his intention to return to Easton and make his home with his widowed mother. He expects to leave Pittsburgh about the end of June.

Contracts Handed In On Thursday

At a meeting of the City Baseball League managers and officials last night at the "Y" the contracts of the players were gone over and filed by the league secretary, Michael "Jake" Babovsky. Each team is allowed 18 players.

The recent protested South Side-West Pittsburg game will be played over. The Traders used "Spud" Badurik without being signed up long enough technically. The Traders won from West Pittsburg in that game. The standing of the league has been changed to conform with this game, which makes West Pittsburg seven and three and the Traders five and five, as the Traders were given credit with a win in the column.

Bruce Headland Has Hole-In-One At Field Club

Bruce Headland, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Headland of 432 Winter avenue, is one of the happiest boys in the world today. Yesterday afternoon he realized his life's ambition in the golfing world, a hole-in-one at the New Castle club course.

The hole-in-one was on the short 135 yard par 3, number 13 green. Young Headland used a seven-iron for the shot to the green. The ball sailed straight for the flag, lit on the green about six inches apast the hole and bounded back to drop right smack dab into the hole.

Playing with Headland at the time was Ross Bridenbaugh, son of Coach Phil Bridenbaugh of New Castle high fame, and William "Bill" Cleland, son of Dr. and Mrs. W. D. Cleland. They attest to the officialism of the event.

To say that this threesome was excited would be putting it mildly. Headland finished out the 18 holes for a very nice 83 total.

City Baseball Games Rained Out Thursday

Old Man Jupiter Pluvius stepped into the picture again last night and consequently the City Baseball league today finds itself with another batch of postponed games. A few of the teams got two or three innings played, but four and a half constitutes a game. The home team must get its bats in the final half of the fifth to be a game, if they are behind.

Filson Is Named Gun Club Head

MERCER, Pa., June 18.—At a recent meeting of the Mercer Rod and Gun Club, Harry Filson, former vice president of the organization, was elected president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Alfred Ramsey. Other officers elected were Clyde Ellis, first president; Carl Infield, second vice president and Lewis Coleman, third vice president.

The club voted to adopt a program of planting mulberry trees to furnish feed for birds to attract them from the cherry trees.

Will Schmeling Meet Winner In September Bout?

Maxie Schmeling May Claim Heavyweight Crown And Go Into Retirement

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

EN ROUTE TO CHICAGO, June 18.—Its all a little confusing to one who has led a very sheltered life and never hung around the penny arcades or anything, but there seems to be something in the theory that a man can be too close to his subject. For instance, I've just got back from the Garden Bowl at Long Island City where I've been waiting all this time for Schmeling and Braddock to show up.

But it seems to me that must be all off now, because I find that Schmeling has gone back to Germany, where he says he won't fight the heavyweight champion owing to the fact that he's now the heavyweight champion. And his manager, Joe Jacobs, has gone to Chicago in order to attend the world's heavyweight championship fight on Tuesday night between Braddock and Louis. In other words, we've had notning but disorder so far; let's now have chaos.

What Next?

That, briefly, might ensue unless Braddock wins the Chicago fight next week. If Louis wins, Schmeling can and probably will say that Braddock took an opiate or powder on their fight and that he has already knocked Louis stiffer than a straw hat.

The next step would be to go over to London for tiffin and a bit of skillful sparring with Tommy Farr, the British champion; then what ho, for retirement to a life of ease and refinement.

This doesn't exactly fit in with Schmeling's tacit acceptance of Louis for a fall showing in New York. But in the meantime, he has reached Germany and that may and probably does make a lot of difference. They're so tough over there, they can even tell you in advance what you've decided not to do.

Rads-Nobils Play Tonight

Saks Battle West Pittsburg While Weavers Clash With Johnson-Bronze

Gaston Park dominates the sport spotlight this evening at 6 o'clock, where the National Radiator team, City Softball League leaders, oppose Nobils. The contest is the biggest and most important one of the first half race.

The Rads hold two victories over the Nobs, 2-1 and 6-2. The best part of the game is the fact that one of their former team-mates, Norman "Cannonball" Bishara, will be whiffing them for the Nobs. And, friends, this Bishara guy really tosses a mean softball. The Rads have a list of victories that extends from here to Jaloppy. Bishara is out to halt the Rads march and is likely to do what he sets out to do. The biggest crowd of the season is anticipated. The Rads did not announce their pitching selection.

The second place Saks will go to West Pittsburgh in the hope of annexing their third triumph over the West Pitt lads. The Weavers of Mahoningtown, visit B. & O. field for a clash with the last place Johnson Bronze team which might win with the following lineup: L. Pascarella, Julian, Clark, C. Yerage, N. Pascarella, Tip Richards, B. Marino, Phillips, Dudek, M. DeCarbo, R. Pezzone, Merando, L. Colello, Bosco, Aven, Henderson, S. Micco, Morgan, T. Perrotta, F. Colello, E. Yerage, L. Santangelo, D. Conn And Yarosz To Meet June 30

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, June 18—Assured a $30,000 gate when Billy Conn and Teddy Yarosz meet here on June 30 promoter Elwood Rigby made overtures today to bring middleweight champion Freddy Steele here in August to defend his title against the winner. Rigby wired the champ's manager, Dave Miller, a definite offer for the title fray. Miller's previous terms included a flat $30,000 guarantee and training expenses of $1,500 for Steele.

Ryantown Plays Indies On Friday

Ryantown will play the Lawrence Indies tonight at the Ryantown field in a postponed City Baseball league game, it was announced by Business Manager Frank Heasley. The game will start at 6 o'clock. The Indies will use James "Hubbell" Balla in the box, with Manager Joe Samuels probably calling on Paul Coates or Van Eman to try and check the fast rushing Lawrence Indians.

Firemen To Play West Pittsburg

The Sixth Ward Firemen will go to West Pittsburg for a City Baseball league postponed game tonight, weather permitting. The game will start at 6 o'clock. The Firemen will have "Peck" Huston on the mound and he will be opposed by Hill or Braky.

The West Pittsburg team is leading the city league and intends to stay on top, according to Manager Danny DeGenova.

Bessemer Beats New Wilmington

Dick Nord Outpitches Myers And Cement Makers Win, 6-1

Bessemer defeated New Wilmington, 6 to 1, in a Lawrence County Baseball game at Bessemer yesterday. Dick Nord outpitched Myers, having 10 strikeouts to six for Myers. The latter was wild giving six free trips to first base.

Hrvatine, centerfielder for Bessemer, came through with the longest clout of the game, turning in a triple while Samsa, another Bessemerite came through with a double. These were the only extra base hits.

Only one stolen base was chalked up, Stanley, Bessemer, stealing on B. Eagleson. Puromaki, Macaluso Anderson were hit by pitched balls. W. Stanley came through with a pair of hits and scored three of the winning runs.

DIAMOND SPORTS

GAME IS OUT

In a letter to a staff member of The News Sports Department, manager of Weaver softball team of Mahoningtown, stated that the recent Weaver-Nobil game was washed out at the end of the third inning instead of the fifth frame as was reported several days ago. The Nobils led, 5-0. Officials of City Softball League ruled that the game be stricken off the record and the contest be replayed.

RADS-SHARON JACKS

One of the sweetest softball aggregations in the district plays here next Sunday afternoon at Radiator field. The foe is none other than Sharon Jacks with the National Radiator club furnishing the opposition. After battling the Sharon lads the Rads will end up battling the Youngstown United Engineering club. A pair of good games.

FARRELL TEAM WANTS GAME

Rockie Bianco, manager of the Carnegie-Illinois softball team of Farrell, has written to The News asking for games with any of the first class teams in New Castle, including the Saks, Nobils, Weavers, Rads, etc. Mr. Bianco can be reached by writing to Rockie Bianco, 1236 Washington street, Farrel, Pa.

SCHMIDTS WILL PLAY

The Schmidts baseball team will play the East Side Merchants at the Lehigh field tonight at 5:30 o'clock, weather permitting. The Florists have a strong team and have added several new players lately. So far this year the Schmidts have won six and lost four games. The pitchers for the Florists are Cooper, Fred Riley, Stanley and Henderson. The Schmidts would like to book games with all first class teams in New Castle and the county. A game is wanted for Sunday, June 20. For games call 352 and ask for Francis. Monday the Schmidts will play the New Castle Dairy team. Joe Cooper is the manager of the popular East Side team.

TALES IN TIDBITS

By BILL BRAUCHER
Central Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 18.—Whether the like him or not, Ol' Dizz makes 'em like it....Regardless of his personal qualities, he stands out as the greatest pitcher in baseball today... greater than Hubbell?...well, offered my choice of the two great flingers, I'd take Ol' Dizz, lip and all.

As a matter of record Dean is a better pitcher than Hubbell, though King Carl has an edge in winning games in which the two were opposed....Hubbell has been in the league almost twice as long as Ol' Dizz, starting his career in 1928, while Dean didn't reach the majors until 1932, though from the way he pitched in the Texas league in 1927 it must be said that he was a year overdue.

Until this year Hubbell's total of games won (for nine years) was 170. Dean's (for five years) was 121. Dean's average number of victories per season is slightly above 24. Hubbell's is about 19. Dean's average number of wins per year may be expected to drop as he gets older, but the guy is only 26 years old, and has five or six prime pitching years ahead of him. Hubbell will be 34 years old when June 22 rolls around, and must be regarded as a man who has passed the peak of his effectiveness.

Dean has averaged more than 300 innings per season, his total of innings being 1,539. Hubbell's nine-year total of innings pitched is 2,394, an average of more than 266 per year. Hubbell never has had a 30-game year. Dean won exactly 30 games in 1934, the last year that St. Louis won a pennant. Over the years here is how Dean's victories and losses range: 1932, won 18 and lost 15; 1933, won 20 and lost 18; 1934, won 30 and lost 7; 1935, won 28 and lost 12; 1936, won 24 and lost 13. Here's the low-down on King Carl: 1928, won 10 and lost 6; 1929, won 18 and lost 11; 1930, won 17 and lost 12; 1931, won 14 and lost 12; 1932, won 18 and lost 11; 1933, won 23 and lost 12; 1934, won 21 and lost 12; 1935, won 23 and lost 12; 1936, won 26 and lost 6. In two years Hubbell led the league in the number of victories scored, with his 23 in 1933 and his 26 last year. Dean also has led the league twice, in 1934 with 30 and in 1935 with 28.

In four consecutive years Dizzy topped the league in strikeouts. Beginning in 1932, his first year up, he struck out 191 men, then 199, next 195, next 182. Last year he struck out 195 in which department he was second to Van Mungo of the Dodgers who whiffed 238 to lead the league. Dean struck out 303 men in 304 innings pitched in the Texas league the year before he became a major leaguer, which is a whole lot of fanning, folks. Hubbell has a slightly better earned-run average, with approximately 2.66 per game over nine years, and Dean's is 3.05.

Dean has been a veritable horse for work, too. In three of his five years with the Cards he led the league in the number of innings pitched, 286 in 1932, 324 in 1935 and 315 last year. Hubbell led the league in total innings in 1933 when he worked 309, but it must be said he was pretty busy the last three years, toiling in more than 300 per year.

Off the record, the two great pitchers seem to rate about even as far as courage and competitive temperament go. Hubbell is a calm sort of clam who doesn't pop off. Dean pops off continually, but it must be said for him he rises to every occasion, turning in his best performances when the chips are on the line.

Dean has had a thousand squabbles, his latest being with the biggest shot in the league, Ford Frick. It must be said for him that he comes out on top in every engagement. They call him just a cotton picker with a fast ball, but he doesn't lose any arguments with the smart guys.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

June 15, Hollywood, Calif.

The weather out here is a little cool . . . we wear a coat without any trouble . . . during the day you might feel the sun, but at night it is plenty cool . . . blankets feel mighty fine.

This might not interest everyone, but today we attended the funeral of Mrs. Will Thatcher of this place . . . formerly of New Castle . . . she will be remembered by many . . . funerals out here are very small, but their burial plots are wonderful . . . we laid Mrs. Thatcher to rest in the Forest Lawn Park . . . the same place as Will Rogers and Jean Harlow are resting.

• • •

Have you ever attended a radio broadcast . . . well, we did Sunday afternoon . . . in fact, we rather spent the afternoon attending broadcasts . . . we attended two, to be exact . . . the first one was the Chevrolet program, starring Dave Rubinoff and his violin . . . it was wonderful to watch that fellow . . . he has a wonderful personality and watching him makes the music take on a different sound . . . so many times when you see a radio star it spoils their programs in the future . . . but this was one of the best we have ever seen . . . later in the afternoon . . . 4:30 our time . . . 7:30 your time, we saw and heard the National Biscuit Co. program . . . with the twin stars, Victor Moore and Helen Broderick . . . music furnished by Buddy Rogers and his band . . . his future wife was with him, if that means anything to you all . . . I can't get thrilled over that guy . . . Well, Victor is the same off the screen as on . . . just an easy-going cuss . . . not giving a hoot for very much . . . so much for the broadcasts.

The place where we rest our heads is a hotel . . . in the heart of Hollywood . . . it's a mighty big place out here . . . well, living in the hotel is the picture star, Clara Witherspoon . . . many other actors and actresses live here . . . will try to find out their names for you . . . one sees them walking the streets once in a while, but mostly they are riding.

• • •

Our own little dancing star, Nellie Brady, is out here some place, but so far she has stayed in the dark . . . I wonder if she is homesick . . . I bet someone back in town is homesick for her . . . we know how it feels.

Until a later date when the stars shine bright . . . we remain your Hollywood run-about.

LEGAL NOTICES

An Ordinance

Making it unlawful for persons to oil or otherwise treat unpaved streets in the City without securing permits therefor, and giving indemnity bonds and providing for the violation thereof:

SECTION 1. Be It Ordained and Enacted by the Council of the City of New Castle That it shall be unlawful for any person, copartnership, association or corporation having a contract with, or acting as agent for, any property owners or owners, to oil or otherwise treat the surface of any unpaved street within the City of New Castle without first obtaining a permit from the City Engineer for such work and give an indemnity bond to the City of New Castle as hereinafter provided.

SECTION 2. Any person, copartnership, association or corporation as set forth in Section 1, shall, before beginning work upon any unpaved street within the City of New Castle, make application for a permit at the office of the City Engineer upon forms provided for that purpose, setting forth the name and address of the applicant, the section of street or streets to be oiled or otherwise treated, the kind, grade and quantity of material to be used per unit of surface and such other information as the City Engineer shall require. The said permit shall not be valid after 15 days from date of issue unless actual work be commenced before that date. A fee of $.25 will be charged for each permit or any copy thereof.

SECTION 3. All parties contracting with, or acting as agent for, property owners as set forth in Section 1 of this ordinance shall, before commencing work upon any such street, give a bond to the City of New Castle to indemnify the City against liability for damages to persons or property in any way arising out of, or resulting from the oiling or other treatment of unpaved street surface, in the sum of One Thousand Dollars, having as surety thereon a surety company authorized to do business in the State of Pennsylvania. The said bond shall be subject to the approval by City Council and shall be deposited in the office of the City Solicitor; provided any bond given by an applicant, when duly approved, shall cover all contracts subsequently entered into by the applicant within the calendar year in which such bond shall be given, unless the City Council shall require additional bond or bonds with approved surety thereafter.

SECTION 4. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall for each violation, upon conviction thereof, before the Mayor or any alderman of the City, be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than five dollars or more than one hundred dollars and in default thereof shall be committed to the City or County jail for a period not exceeding ninety days.

SECTION 5. Any and all ordinances inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed.

SECTION 6. This ordinance shall become effective upon final passage.

State of Pennsylvania, County of Lawrence, City of New Castle, ss:

I, C. Ed. Brown, City Clerk, hereby certify that the above and foregoing ordinance was passed by the Council of the City of New Castle, Pa., June 17, 1937, signed by the Mayor and attest by the City Clerk. In witness whereof I herewith set my hand and affix the seal of said City this 17th day of June A. D. 1937.

C. Ed. Brown, City Clerk.

Sudden Buying Splurge Sends Market Into Firmer Ground Today

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, June 18.—A sudden buying splurge in the long-neglected utility section firmed the stock market today, after losses running to well over a point had been sustained.

The upswing in utilities found little in the news to account for the sudden buoyancy. Electric Power & Light, and Standard Gas common each gained a point, while the latter's 4 per cent preferred jumped 2. Consolidated Edison, American Power & Light, North American and American Water Works gained close to a point Standard Oil of California spurted about a point. Texas Corp., Standard of N. J., and Consolidated Oil also were actively higher.

Rails, coppers and steels had most of their early declines wiped out, a few getting above previous closing levels.

In motors, Chrysler came within a point of last night's finish, after having been down three points at one time. General Motors registered a modest gain.

Allied Chemical, Phelps-Dodge, Westinghouse and Douglas each advanced a point or more.

Bonds were quiet and mixed, including government issues. Grains were under moderate pressure. Cotton also eased.
